Daily Doubles

BY MARY WHEELER

"Ah-h-h-h, me! Spring is really in the air!" What could our Daily Doubles be thinking about? I'm sure it's not history or algebra. Most likely it's what's on practically everyone's mind now—swimming, beach trips, tennis, baseball, and all the other wonderful outdoor sports. Well, dream on, Daily Doubles. There are only about 15 more school days, and then . . . the fun begins.

Mr. X, a junior, attends the Tabernacle Baptist Church. This 6 foot boy with light brown hair and blue eyes plays on the varsity football team. He says his pet peeve is listening to people who brag. "Steak is my favorite food," says Mr. X. When he graduates from high school, Mr. X plans to get a job working in the post office.

Miss X, a sophomore, attends the Glenwood Presbyterian Church where she is the program leader for the Senior High Fellowship. She is in the beginning girls' glee club and has made the honor roll every time this year. Miss X, a 5 foot, 3½ inch girl with light brown hair and blue eyes, says that her pet peeve is, "Mr. X's trying to sing, especially something about 'don't let your dog bite me.'" Her favorite food is chicken. Miss X intends to take a business course after she graduates, but she hasn't yet decided which college she will attend.

These Daily Doubles both agree that "Love Is a Many Splendored

Thing" is their favorite song. They've been going steady since March 26, 1955.
