Rose, McCormick Become LIFE Editors Of HIGH

Betty Rose and Frances McCormick move up to the positions of co-editors.

This came about at the end of the semester when the editor of the first semester, Max Snodderly, had to step down because of schedule conflicts.

The two girls are the first of their sex to hold the position of editor in the last four years, Mar-tha Ann Burnet was the last girl to be the editor when she held the post on the 1954-55 HIGH These girls have worked on the

History Department Gets Replacement For Smith; Plaff Assumes Position

Mrs. Eugene Pfaff, new history and economics teacher at GHS, has been secured for second semester to replace Mrs. Blanche Smith, who has resigned because of the illness of her husband.

Mrs. Pfaff, who is teaching three history classes and one economics class, attended the University of North Carolina, where she re-ceived her Master's Degree. She also completed a post-graduate course at Coker University in Hartsville, South Carolina.

MRS. PFAFF

Before coming to Senior High, rs. Pfaff taught first at Woman's College and later at Greensboro Evening College.

A life-long citizen of Greens-oro, Mrs. Pfaff's husband is an ssociate professor in the History Pepartment of Woman's College. hey have four daughters, junior at GHS, and one son one boy and a girl from their home ooms, and the faculty as a whole lected two representatives from

Add is a member of the Key Add is a member of the Philo-nathians Hi-Y. He usually makes Honor Roll, is an announcer at the WGPS-FM radio station, and head acolyte at St. Francis Epis-neal Church bal Church. Lynn makes honor roll and is a hember of Torchlight. She is on the Student Council and is a mem-er of the DDT and Junior Civi-ette clubs. Bob is a "junior rocketeer" who e is a Junior Engineer and a ome room officer. Susan serves as secretary of the Student Council and president her home room. She makes cial honor roll and is a mem-of FTA, DDT, and Junior Civi-usan

hird

ch class.

t's All In Knowing How

Second semester brings with it staff for three years. Frances came a change in the staff of HIGH up to the staff at the end of the LIFE, as former associate editors first semester of her sophomore year. That year she worked on the news staff. In her junior year Frances was managing editor.

Betty spent her first year in a beginning class in journalism. Her first full year on the regular staff came last year when she was feature editor.

Former Duties

This year as associate editor the first semester, Betty was again in charge of the features for the paper. Frances not only performed the duties of an associate editor, but also served as head of the business staff.

Working closely with Betty and Farnces will be Add Penfield, who will retain his managing editor's position. As such he will supervise position. As such he will supervise news coverage and the writing of headlines. Add, too, is a three-year HIGH LIFER. Also retaing first semester po-sitions will be Angie Davis, girls' sports editor; Sue Snow, copy ed-itor; and Jane Thompson, circu-lation manager.

Other Additions

Three additions and one deletion were made to the news writing staff at the semester's end. Jimmy Perry was added to the staff to aid in the sports department and Genie Black came in to join the general news staff. Rhoda Miller has been named advertising mana-ger and Brenda Veasey, a transfer from Gray High in Winston-Salem and a former asociate editor of the Gray paper, has joined the staff. Rinda King, assistant man-aging editor, is leaving the staff to go to school at St. Mary's in Raleigh.

Entrance Deadline Set For O. Henry Contest

Entries to the O. Henry Writ-ing contest are due Wednesday, April 30, according to Miss Sara Mins, head of the English Department.

All short stories should be All short stories should be furned in to the English teach-ers and should be characteristic of O. Henry's writings. No length is specified; entries are to be typed and double-spaced. The stories will be judged by a com-mittee with the award being given on the annual Awards Day at Senior High in the spring.

CH

From the Gate City of the South and the Birthplace of O. Henry

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL, GREENSBORO, N. C. FEB. 7, 1958

Students From Senior High Participate In N. C. All-State Orchestra Program

North Carolina All-State Orchestra program, February 6-9, left yesterday for the host city, Bur-lington. In the group were Julia Adams, Peggy Earle, Kay Easterling, Hai Greeson, Nan Hedrick, Janet Sni-der, Betty Harrell, Dorothy Kluttz, Janice Thompson, and Jenna Ward, violinists. Those in the vio-la section included Susan Devery, is presented

Last year when Greensboro was host, local players housed the out-of-towners; this year they will be guests in the homes of Bur-lington's Walter Williams High School group. Little time will be spent with them, though, as the greater part of the four-day period will be concentrated on full re-hearsals, tryouts ofr various chairs, and section rehearsals. For what little time that is left, there will be a banquet, basketball game and movie scheduled.

and movie scheduled. Henry Janiec, music professor at Converse College in Spartanburg, South Carolina, and conductor of last year's All State concert will again direct this year. Numbers to be included on the Sunday afternoon program to which the public is invited include "Overture to the Bat," "First Movement to Symphony Number Five" by Men-delsson, "Concerto XI" for strings, which will feature three soloists, "Toccata Frescobaldi," and "Paz-zacato Polka." zacato Polka zacato Polka." Along with Greensboro other cities participating include Ashe-boro, Appalachian, Burlington, Continued on Page Three

Max Snodderly Selected As Finalist For Scholarship

Max Snodderly, GHS senior, has been selected as one of the state-finalists in petition for John M. wide competition for the John M. Morehead Scholarship to the Un-iversity of North Carolina.

Max and Jey Deifell, another Snodderly Senior High student, winners of the local Morehead competition, spent Thursday ,January 23 before a district screening committee in Winston-Salem .The final review is scheduled in Chapel Hill.

Max

Max is a superlative and presi-

More Scholarships Greensboro High School seniors contemplating careers in radio or television broadcasting are eligible for a scholarship being offered by the Jefferson Standard Foun-dation and four radio and tele dation and four radio and tele-vision stations in Greensboro and Raleigh, North Carolina, and Flor-

Raleigh, North Carolina, and Flor-ence, South Carolina, and Flor-ence, South Carolina. The scholarship, which is open to students in North and South Carolina, provides up to $625 an-nually for a four year period. The winner must maintain satisfactory grades and manifest an interest in a career in broadcasting. UNC and State Two scholarships are awarded annually, one to the University of North Carolina and one to North Carolina State College. In April the applications will be re-viewed by a committee which will select the top six for further screening. screening.

Application blanks can be ob-tained from the Scholarship Of-fice of the University of North Carolina.

Five Lexington Students Observe Council Meeting

Representatives from the Lex-ington High School Student Coun-cil observed a GHS council meet-ing Tuesday, January 28, to ob-tain helpful ideas and ways to add to their present system, re-ported Sandra Holderness, presi-dent of the Greensboro student body. body

After the council meeting the After the council meeting the five students were taken on a tour through the high school by some of the Greensboro students. Too they talked privately to top officers of the GHS Student Coun-

As Representative Of Student Body Dickie plays bass clarinet in the concert band, and is on the Band Council. He was taken into Key Club this year and is president of his home room. Becky works as an office assist-ant second period. She usually makes honor roll and serves as vice-president of her Training U ion at the First Baptist Church Add Penfield and Lynn Mc-regor, seniors; Bob Boyd and Caviness. juniors and usan Caviness, juniors, and hickie Bowen and Betsy Barham, pphomores, are members of the fitizenship Honor Roll for the hird six weeks' grading period. Home room teachers nominated hor are in the fit point the apples for their su-periors, juniors, Susan Caviness and Bob Boyd. In the picture at top Susan and Bob are shown making the pic, while seniors Lynn McGregor and Add Penfield, bottom right, devour the finished product. aculty Selects Six Good Citizens

GHS good citizens for the third six weeks period reverse the apple polishing quirp. In the photo at bottom left, sophomores Becky

Barham and Dickie Bowen busily polish the apples for their su-