New Page High School To Open Next Fall

Situated in a heavily wooded, gently sloping piece of property between Buffalo Lake, Revolution Mill Reservoir, and Church Street in the northeast section of this city is the new Walter Page High School.

Built at a cost of $1,153,376 (exclusive of the architect's fee and paving for drive and parking) this contemporary structure will be ready for occupancy in the fall of this year. It will become home to some 600 students then, and looking to the future, perhaps 400 more.

On Transfers

As yet there has been no definite ruling as to who will be transferred to the new building. A. P. Routh, GHS principal, reports that the curriculum will be similar to that of Senior High. He, along with the other school officials, expressed the hope that enough people will transfer to Page to enable having a Sophomore, Junior and Senior Class.

Principal for the school was named by the board recently in the person of Luther Medlin, present principal of Central Junior High School. Mr. Medlin is known nationally and locally as a civic leader, as well as an educator.

Questionnaire Distributed

The only unsettled matter now remaining concerns those who will make up the student body. Questionnaires concerning this were prepared by the school board recently and distributed to GHS juniors and sophomores who live near the new building. Results of these questionnaires, as well as a final ruling, will appear in HIGH LIFE next week.

Science Day Set For March 4 Science Fair To Be March 14

Planning is under way for two annual science observances at

Note Required To Use WC Library Facilities

Students who wish to use the Woman's College Library must have a special note from Miss Mildred Herring, Senior High School librarian. High school students are not supposed to go to the WC Library, but with a note from their librarian, they will be admitted.

Senior High—the Science Fair, scheduled for March 14, and Science Day, set for March 4.

The second annual Science Day assembly will feature a number of scientific demonstrations presented by the combined chemistry and physics classes in connection with the Junior Engineers Club. Milton W. Sharer, GHS chemistry instructor, is general director. Demonstrations will deal with electromagnetism and "Chemical Wizardry," plus several subjects of great current interest, "Rocket Age" and "Jet-Propulsion." The nature of several of the demonstrations is being kept secret.

Junior, Seniors Eligible

Science Day committees have been appointed, consisting of juniors and seniors, since only members of these classes are eligible for chemistry and physics.

Members of the screening committee are Max Snodderly, junior engineer president and chairman, Fred Wedler and Marie Blakely, juniors. Rufus Russell, senior, is chairman of the art and production committee whose members are June Rubin, Marie Blakely, Lynn McGregor, Jean Haase, Pat Ellis, and Monika Engliken.

Co-ordinating Committee

Jim Sawers, Junior Engineers vice-president, is chairman of the co-ordinating committee. Other members of this group are Frank Starmer, Bob Cunningham, and Ronnie Price.

Rose Announces Staff Of 1958 HOMESPUN At February Meeting

Betty Rose, editor-in-chief of HOMESPUN, the GHS literary magazine, released the staff positions for the annual spring issue at a recent February 10 meeting of the sponsoring organization, Quill and Scroll.

Associate Literary Editors

Frances McCormick and Angelyn Stokes, Quill and Scroll secretary, are to serve as associate literary editors. They will handle respectively the collection and selection of the student literary contributions which will compose the magazine.

Business Editor Sue Levine, Quill and Scroll treasurer, is to be in charge of sponsorships, selling, and other financial matters.

Other positions are publicity chairman Max Snodderly; layout editor, Angie Davis; typing and proofreading editor, Sue Snow; and cover editor, June Rubin.

Duties As Editors

As editor-in-chief, Betty, who is also Quill and Scroll president, will work with the printers and engraver, and coordinate the efforts of other staff members.

The 1957-'58 edition scheduled to come off the presses in April will include for the first time some of the outstanding work done this year by GHS art students.

Mrs. Judy Milligan, English teacher, is adviser to the group.

11 GHS'ers Reach Second Plateau For Angier B. Duke Scholarship

Senior High School has seven boys and three girls who have been selected to go on in the competition for the Angier B. Duke Scholarships in the second round of eliminations February 19 and 20.

Girls Meet In Greensboro

The girls, Meyressa Hughes, Jean Medearis, and Peggy Sink, met with candidates from other state districts at West Market Street Methodist Church in the Fellowship Hall, Thursday, February 20. Chairman of the judging committee was Mrs. J.

D. Long of Greensboro.

Don Stokes, Alan Anderson, Add Penfield, Ralph Daniel, Wallace Williams, Max Snodderly, Jey Deifell, and Jim Sawyers met with other boy candidates at the Belvedere Hotel in Reidsville, Wednesday, February 19, at 9 a.m.

Five finalists were selected.

Two Others Available

Another scholarship offered only to the girls, is the Florence Kidder Memorial Scholarship, given by the National Society of Colonial Dames of America in the state of North Carolina.

This scholarship is offered to girl high school graduates. One girl will be chosen to represent GHS in the competition, and there will be two finalists. Each of the winners will receive a $200 scholarship with no obligations as to selection of college.

It has also been announced concerning scholarships that the Scars, Roebuck Company Foundation has renewed its custom of giving $200 scholarships to five Greensboro High graduating seniors.
