

News You Can Use Recreation At Last

Church Opens Center For Greensboro Youth

West Market Street Methodist Church is now opening its Fellowship Hall on Saturday nights to Greensboro teen-agers, providing a new source of recreation for youth of the Greensboro area, which has long lacked adequate recreational facilities.

The program has been successful from the start. All such open houses so far conducted have drawn at least 100 teen-agers.

Refreshments and a jukebox are available in the Fellowship Hall. There are also facilities for ping-pong and cards.

The sponsors of the open houses are scheduling special features for the coming holiday seasons.

The GHS Student Council has urged everyone to attend with or without a date.

Sturm, Syitt Club, Linda Griffin, WST; Kay Smith, LSP; Sue Stanley, SLC; Annabelle Current, BSC; Linda Sudderth, Les Seours; Sandra Sharpe, Vennettes; Kay Easterling, Bellettes; and Linda Carter, SDC.

Non-Senior High Dates To Attend Open House

GHS's Youth Recreation Council, after many requests from students, has decided to relax its restriction of non-Senior High dates at open houses.

Shelia Sapero, president of the committee, announced a "trial-run" of the idea. Formerly only GHS students were allowed at the open houses. Shelia asked that the following rules be observed:

1. Senior High students must sign their names and the names of their dates or guests with her. She will be on the steps of the girls' gym every Wednesday and Thursday before the open houses.

2. The Senior High students must check their names off the list at the door of the gym the night of the open house and present their Youth Recreation ID card.

3. The student will be responsible for the conduct of their guests or dates while at the open house.

Violation of the rules on the ID card will result in the removal of the card and participation in Youth Recreation activities for the remainder of the year.

All students are urged to observe these rules so the practice can be continued. So far the idea has been warmly received by the students.

Also announced was a "Sock-Hop" in the boys' gym November 26. Page High School will be invited to the Hop.

Council Starts New Year; Future Plans Are Made

The Inter-Club Council, consisting of representatives from each social club, has begun another school year with James Apple of the G-30's serving as their president.

This organization was created last year when Hugh Blair was chosen president.

Other officers for '58-'59 are Vice-President, Pat Phillips; Secretary, Mary Edgerton; and Treasurer, Roger Ljung.

"The purpose of the council," says James Apple, "is to promote a friendly relationship between the clubs and to try to work out individual club's problems."

This year the clubs have been called on to help collect money for the T.B. Drive in December. Other representatives are Ted

HIGH LIFE

From the Gate City of the South and the Birthplace of O. Henry

VOLUME XXXV SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL, GREENSBORO, N. C., NOV. 21, 1958 NUMBER 5

Senior High's National Honor Society Inducts New Members In Fall Tapping

Torchlight National Honor Society had its fall tapping ceremonies Tuesday, November 11, as strains of "Ave Maria" set the mood and students and parents watched.

Fourteen seniors were inducted into the society. They are Carolyn Lyday, Bob Stanley, Sari Lynn Winfree, Bob Cunningham, Michael George, Carolyn Marks, David Patrick, Nancy Wilkins, Clyde Wilson, Jane Golden, Sandra Sharpe, Mildred Blakey, Frances Howard, and Angie Davis.

To be eligible for membership in Torchlight, a person must excel in scholarship, leadership, service, and character. An average of 90 must be maintained as proof of scholastic ability as well as service to the school and church and a good conduct record.

Carol Eichhorn, president of the society, presided over the program, and the four qualifications for membership were outlined. Taking part were Susan Caviness, scholarship; Jerry Robertson, leadership; Pat Hutchins, service; and Rodger Durham, character. Fred Wedler gave the devotions.

Selection of members is done in this way: a list of all eligible persons is distributed to the students who vote for those whom they think are worthy. Faculty members vote in the same manner. Those receiving the greatest number of votes are then forwarded to a faculty advisory committee which voices its opinion. Finally Torchlight members vote before school on the day of the ceremony.

In the spring there will be another tapping at which time seniors as well as juniors will be inducted. Advisers for Torchlight are Mrs. Mary Madlin, Latin teacher, assisted by Miss Sara Mims, head of the English Department.

TORCHLIGHT INDUCTION
Mackie Sout leads David Patrick forward at last week's Torchlight induction. The new members are pictured on page 3.

Old and new Torchlight members met Thursday, November 20, to select a treasurer from the recent dductees. They chose David Patrick to that position.

'We Shook The Family Tree' Presented November 20 In Senior's Auditorium

"We Shook the Family Tree," a three-act situation comedy, was presented last night, November 20, by the junior class in the GHS auditorium as a class project for raising money to pay for their production of the '58-'59 WHIRLIGIG.

The play, the first to be presented for this cause, was directed by Miss Causey, who, with the cast, stayed each weekday afternoon, Monday through Thursday, for the past several weeks for rehearsals.

Students were chosen for the respective parts after tryouts. These tryouts were preceded by the studying on the part of many junior students for the parts which they desired to portray. Those chosen for the parts were Charles Jones, Mr. Shermer; Doris Jones, his wife, Mrs. Shermer; Allan Bennett, Freddie Shermer, their son; Mr. and Mrs. Dawson, Bob Jones and Coral Mills; their children, Sally, Hildegard, Bob and Jim were played by Wilma Kay Pegg, Carol Clapp, George Rosenthal, and Garry Roberson, respectively.

The sweetheart of Bob Dawson, Lie Mae, was depicted by Toni Carter. Completing the list of actors was a teenage member of the "gang," Jill, played by Ann Lascock, and Paige Mason. A six-year old girl, who had a bad habit of eating toothpaste and sending love letters to other people, was portrayed by Betty Tucker.

Behind the players were the efforts of other juniors who joined with teachers in forming committees to help create a successful play. These committees together with the teachers who aided them stayed on weekday afternoons to plan and practice. The makeup committee found a new adventure in learning to apply makeup under the assistance of Mrs. Miller.

Throughout the school for several weeks were signs of the publicity committee. Large and small posters which were made by members and erected, were conversation pieces.

Further efforts were shown by the frequent announcements of the play on WCOG.

In the main hall bulletin board section a record was kept by the ticket committee of the ticket sales. The tickets for the play were priced at 50 cents and were obtained from any member of the committee. A contest of a type resulted in the rivalry of the committee heads.

Other committees, also headed by teachers, took part in the production. These committees were, stage, house, and costume.

Student Council Officers Delegates To State Meet

Jerry Robertson, student body president, Sheila Sapero, Youth Recreation Chairman, and Penny Taliaferro, student body treasurer, were chosen by a Student Council vote as delegates to the Student Council Congress held at Chapel Hill High School from Sunday, Nov. 2, through Tuesday, Nov. 4. Mrs. Jean Newman, Student Council adviser, accompanied the three students to the thirty-second annual meeting.

Approximately 350 representatives from all parts of North Carolina attended the Congress to meet students with similar interests in student government and to profit by new and varied ideas for improving council work.

"Rocket Your Council To Success" was the subject for the four discussion groups led by students during the three day session. The first forum was entitled "Ground Forces" and included such points as the qualifications and duties of advisers, officers, and committees. A second group expressed their opinions about "Fuel—Ideas and Projects", which concerned methods of selection and improvement of projects. "Communications — Public Relations" was the third topic for debate, and the final group talked about the aims and objectives of the Student Council.

Monday featured a keynote address, several orations by guest speakers, and a report on the National Student Council Convention by the Congress vice-president. A banquet Tuesday night concluded the Congress.

Penny Taliaferro competed in the election of state student council officers for 1958-59 and placed second for secretary only after several run-offs.

The delegates were interviewed by Chapel Hill High School reporters about the Congress. To the question, "What reception do you expect from the Chapel Hill High School boys?", Penny Taliaferro gave the classic answer, "We can't generalize, we can only categorize. Since there are three types of boys: the intellectual, the handsome, and the majority, you name it, we're for it!!"

Shown here are several of the juniors rehearsing for the Junior Class Play. They are from left to right: Toni Carter, Wilma Kay Pegg, Carol Clapp, Coral Mills, Bob Jones, Betty Tucker, and Garry Roberson.