Student Council Selects Dance Theme Titled 'Love Turns Winter To Spring'

The annual Midwinter's Dance, held each year immediately after exams, will be held Wednesday, January 28, from nine to twelve in the boys' gymnasium.

The theme for this year's dance is "Love Turns Winter to Spring." It was chosen by the members of the student council, who are planning and aiding in decorating the gym. They voted upon the name earlier in the year.

The decorations will consist of four black silhouettes seated on park benches. Half the gym will be decorated in red and green foliage and a white picket fence at one side. The other half will be decorated with symbols of winter—thus expressing the title of the dance through the decorations.

Head of the dance committee, consisting of five student council members and two non-members, is Jane Darden, senior. The other council members are "Stick" Wilson and Tommy Tuttle, seniors; Elaine Ellis, junior; and Roddy Stout, sophomore. The remaining members of the committee who are not council members are Carolyn Lyday, senior, and Nancy Faulconer, junior. The committee has been making plans for the dance for several weeks.

The music, an essential part of any dance, will be provided by Bobby Ritch and his six-piece combo. The combo is a portion of Charlie Strong's well-known group of musicians. The combo features a vocalist, also.

The Midwinter's Dance is one of the two dances offered to all GHS students each year. The other is the Junior-Senior Prom, which comes at the close of the second semester immediately following spring exams.

The ticket sale began last week, and tickets are still available from any member of the GHS student council. The tickets for this year's dance have been priced at 50 cents and may be bought for "stag or drag."

Italian Teachers Visit Commercial Classes

Mario Francesco Martini, teacher of law and economics in Messa, Italy, and Miss Gretta Maria Marchi, who teaches mathematics, accounting, and bookkeeping in Firenze, Italy, visited GHS as the guests of the D.O. departments January 14.

One phase of the participation of Mr. Martini and Miss Marchi in the International Teacher Development plan is visiting the commercial, guidance, and vocational classes.

In addition to entertaining visitors, the D.O. students have been meeting monthly with the National Association of Secretaries. They were entertained on December 22 by Mrs. Vanhoy, president of the Greensboro Chapter of the Association at an informal open house.

High Life Circulation Reaches Over 1250

According to HIGH LIFE circulation manager, Sharron Oates, more than 1250 students have subscribed to the GHS newspaper.

Collection of the 75 cents payment for the first semester was begun in November. The second semester's payment is due on March 25, 1959.

Barring a change in the Greensboro city school schedule, the HIGH LIFE will appear eight times during the second semester.

Junior Council representatives Harriet Thompson and Sammy McNairy are in the mood for the Midwinter's Dance one week from tonight.

Home Economics Students Present Show of Fashions

Members of the home economics classes presented a fashion show to the student body assembly, Friday, January 16, with the aid of members of the music, art, and chemistry departments, and under the direction of Mrs. Jerome Judd, the fashion model from Montaldo's Department Store, and Sam Brown, GHS alumnus and who is now employed by Gene Ashley's Clothier.

The theme of the show was a depiction of the different phases of a teenager's life, including dances, church-going, shopping, at school, and at home.

Six students, who represent their classes as Mr. and Miss School Spirit, modeled sports attire. Sheila Sapero, senior representative, modeled a golf outfit, Annie Lee Wall, junior, modeled an ensemble for tennis, and Gloria Griffin, the sophomore representative, modeled a swim suit.

The outfits and several others that were modeled by the girls were furnished by Montaldo's. Two college students, Sarah Cox and Helen Allen, were present to model dresses which they constructed last year before graduating. Other girls to model formals and cocktail dresses, which they themselves made, were Sue Snow, Betty Tucker, Lacy Coble, and Carolyn Marks. Jane White, junior, modeled a dress that would have been worn by a young girl in the 1920's. Modeling for Gene Lashley's in formal attire were Jerry Robertson, Joe Gray, Tommy Whiteside, Penn Waldron, and Harry Schiffman.

Fred Wedler and Marie Blakey, seniors, conducted a demonstration connecting Home Economics and Chemistry. This was followed by a demonstration of how art and home economics are related.

The Mad Lads were present to provide music for the entire program. Also in the musical division were Carol Overstreet and Randy Phillips, who sang a duet, and the Queen's Men.

In the final scene, the slumber party, Mrs. Evelyn Stanton, a faculty member, played the part of the mother and conversed with Mrs. Judd, while the girls on the stage modeled sleeping attire, burmudas, cocktail dresses, skirts and blouses.

Miss York, the head of the Home Economics department, Mrs. Powell, Mrs. Bradsher, and Mrs. Koon directed the show, the script, and produced the show.

GHS Students Exempting First Term Examinations

Approximately 136 seniors and juniors are eligible to exempt one and in some cases two exams for the first semester's work.

Those in the Senior class who will be exempting an English exam are Linda Williams, Martha Cone, Jane Darden, Michael George, Betsy Glynn, Anne Shadoin, Bob Stanley, Anne Weinstein, Lila Wolff, Lucille Coltrane, Dub Ellis, Carolyn Marks, Dianne Pfaff, Linda Lou Carter, and Margaret Lester. Only nine seniors are exempting a mathematics exam. These are Annabelle Current, Brenda Blake, Bobby Cunningham, Michael George, Frances Howard, Danny Hurst, Ruth Spaulding, Fred Wedler, and Judy Williams.

Carolyn McMillian and Susan Tilley are the only seniors to exempt a family life exam. The History Department had the most senior exemptions with a total of 26 students exempting history exams. From Miss Blackmon's classes are Mildred Blakey, Anne Bourne, Susan Caviness, Martha Cone, Jane Darden, Angie Davis, Carol Eichhorn, Pat Hutchins, Carolyn Lyday, Carol Overstreet, Sheila Sapero, Sue Snow, Ruth Spaulding, Bob Stanley, Sue Stanley, John Stevenson, Genie Sykes, and produced the show.

GHS Bands Present Mid-Winter Concert

GHS's Concert and Training Bands gave their Mid-Winter Concert at Senior High Auditorium on Thursday, January 15, at 8 p.m.

The Training Band played among a number of tunes, "A Mozart Festival" by Mozart-Johnson; "Three Scenes" (Forest Glade, Fiesta, Sunset Boulevard) by Harold L. Walters; "Queen City March" by W. H. Boorn.

The GHS Concert Band played "Roman Carnival Overture" by Berlioz; "Soirees Musicales" (March, Cenzonetta, Bolera, Tirolese) by Rossini-Britten; "Slow March from Scippo" by Handell; "Tubby the Tuba" by Kleinsinger, which was a solo by Frank Harmon, senior; selections from the "Music Man" by Wilson.

Three Seniors To Go To UNC District Competition

ROBERTSON WEDLER PATRICK

Three GHS seniors, David Patrick, Jerry Robertson, and Fred Wedler, are among the seven Guilford County high school boys nominated to go on to the district competition for the U.N.C. John M. Morehead Scholarship of $5000.

Thus three of the seven county nominees come from GHS. The others are High Point and County students.

The seven nominees were selected from a field of approximately 40 applicants on the basis of record and personal interviews.

The Senior High boys face the district elimination later this month before entering the last round of the competition.

Jerry is student body president. Fred heads the Junior Engineers, is treasurer of Quill and Scroll, and is a varsity swimmer. David is a Student Council representative and is a member of the football and wrestling teams.

All are honor roll students, and members of the Key Club and Torchlight.

Senior High students eliminated were Robert Cunningham, Michael George, Rodney Hill, David Liner, Ernest Paschal, Clyde Wilson, and Richard Windham.

The GHS applicants for the Angier B. Duke Scholarship will be tested in February in the first round of that competition.

According to Miss Mary Ellen Blackmon, Senior Class counselor, applications for the several annual scholarships awarded locally at Senior High will be available early in the second semester.
