Spears Attends DE Meet; DE-DO Presents Assembly

Benjie Spears, State President of the Distributive Education Clubs of America, will attend the Thirteenth Annual National Leadership Conference in Tacoma, Washington, April 1-4.

The program consists of speech contests, various committee meetings, such as constitution and charter committee, finance and audit committee, membership committee, and workshops in Civil Defense and Membership. Entertainment, such as tours, banquets, and a dance, have been planned and the students will have time for shopping.

A field trip to the Greensboro Daily News-Record has been made by the DE students and Miss Peggy Outen, Woman's College student teacher. Mr. H. D. Yandle conducted the tour.

"Striving for A Better Tomorrow Through VIC" will be the theme for the annual Vocational and Industrial Club convention to Meet April 3 and 4.

Representatives from Senior High and Page High Schools with Mrs. Kathryn W. McEntire, coordinator of DO office practice, Mr. A. B. Racster, coordinator of DO trades and industry, and Mr. Richard Engard, coordinator from Page High School will make the trip to Asheville by chartered bus.

Miss Joyce Williams, of the Vocational Department City-Schools is the state secretary of VIC.

The Co-operative Department, DE, DO trades, and DO office practice is planning an assembly for the near future.

High Life Places First In Publication Contest

HIGH LIFE, GHS's own newspaper, has once again received first place in the 35th Annual Contest for school publications, sponsored by Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

HIGH LIFE, along with newspapers from other school with an enrollment of 1,501 to 2,500 was judged by a board of 30 press specialists.

The Page High School paper won second prize in their division.

Jr. Civitan To Begin Student Hall of Fame

GHS's Junior Civitan Club will begin a hall bulletin board in the near future.

Labeled "Civitan Student Hall of Fame," the purpose of this bulletin board is to recognize students for outstanding achievements in the school. A different student will be featured each week. The club is still compiling the Civitan Handbook, which will be presented to all incoming sophomores; ads are now being sold to finance the book. The club is planning to attend the North Carolina Junior Civitan District Meeting in Asheville, May 16-17.

Members helped usher at the Triple A Tournament; and oranges were given to the basketball players. Dave Liner, president of the senior class and member of Jr. Civitan, has been awarded the Scholarship for $2000 to Wake Forest.

The Civitan Club meets each Wednesday at the Mayfair Cafeteria. Business meetings and programs are on alternate weeks. The club is led by Charlie Garren, president; Penn Waldron, senior vice president; Bayard von Herrmann, junior, vice-president; and Mr. Lody Glenn, advisor.

GHS Seniors To Present Annual Class Day May 28

The Class of 1959 will present its annual Class Day, a two hour program, to the sophomore and Junior Classes, May 28, 1959, as a climax to their three years in High school.

Committee chairman and workers have been chosen; however, positions are still open on all committees for those desiring to help.

The busiest committee at this time is the script committee, which is composing the written part of the play. Sue Snow, chairman, has been assisted by Jane Gibson, Richard Windham, Sandra Coe, Frank Harmon, Angie Davis, and Carolyn Marks. Half of the script has been written and turned over to Sto Fox, student director, and June Rubin, director of the scenery. The theme selected will remain a secret until the presentation.

Make-Up

Another committee which is getting an early start is make-up, under the guidance of Margaret Lester. Margaret has chosen Donna Hinchee, Phyllis Hodges, Tommy Clapp, Elaine Herndon, and Carolyn Owens, to work with her.

The musical director for the show will be Charles Richman. Fred Wedler will conduct the technical portions of the show. Jane Darden has been asked to be in charge of the props committee.

Casting

Casting for Class Day will be under the direction of Carolyn Marks and Angie Davis, the student co-chairmen, Sto Fox, the student director, and all members of the writing staff. Try-outs will be staged around the first of April with rehearsals beginning as soon as the cast is chosen.

All Seniors interested in participating in Class Day in any way, are asked to sign with Mrs. Joan Taylor, faculty adviser, or the two co-chairmen.

Senior Is AAA Champion Jamieson Selected MVP, Edwards All Tournament

BY RELLE MOORE

Bob Jamieson will long remember the year 1959. This is not only the year that a basketball team of his won the state championship for the first time since the tournament system began, but also, as a father, saw his son be a unanimous selection to the all-tournament team in addition to being the unanimous choice for the outstanding player award.

In racking up three high-pressure wins the Whirlies equalled the 19-4 season record of the previous two squads, teams that finished fifth and third in the tournament for the last two years, respectively.

Although Jamieson was the outstanding player, he was, by no means, the only Whirlie to play
