

JOY TO THE WORLD....

Money Chief Object of Students Who Hold Jobs During Holidays

BY LINDA LAEL

Work! Work! Work! This seems to be the motto of many Senior High students during the forthcoming "Cool Yule." I received answers from 177 money-hungry teenagers when I asked who was working this season. This story does not by any means include all those who have holiday jobs.

Belk's Department Store seems to lead the list by employing 36 GHS students. The downtown and suburban stores have hired Becky Cain, Lynda Poole, Pat Potter, Linda Blair, Jo Marie Ham, Pat Fullington, Louise Sleeper, Cookie Showfety, Carole Dodson, Louise Eichholtz, and Jeannie Anderson as salesgirls.

Accompanying them on the payroll are Joyce Bellamy, Elizabeth Banner, Anna Ryan (who says she wraps everything from dog baskets to coat hangers), Karen Cofer, Linda Pearman, Anne Grimes, Jenness Dunn, Joanne Oliver, Nancy Turnage, Kay McCuiston, Jey Rogers, Alice Hubner, Gay Poteat, and Beverly Ballard.

Working at Belk's as salesmen are Brent Simpson, Allen Willard, Bob Parker, Bill Campbell, Phil Callicutt, Tommy Funk, Nelson Furman, Dickie Weeks, Ralph Lake, George Andreve, Hubert Ellisor, Larry Patton, and Bob Doran.

Judy Baber, who works at Wilbur Music Company, says her job is "quite an experience." Jimmy Bulcock claims he is a "soda jerk" at Guilford Dairy. George Simpson will earn his extra money bounty hunting in Florida. Wildcats and hogs pay $5 a head and cougars bring $25 each. Good luck, George!

Many of the boys work for local food stores. Among these are Roger Bullington, Paul Plybon, Dale Smith, Steve Dunn, Bill Cannon, Danny Pilley, Joe Parks, Morris Farlow, Jim Garrett, Boyd Perry, Butch Garrett, Bill Ozment, and Ronald Amos.

Larry Banks delivers flowers over the state. June Carter also delivers for a florist, and works for Ellis Stone. Other workers at Ellis Stone are Sandra Davis, Linda Fulton, Nancy Frick, Jayne Oakley, Stuart Ingham, Peggy Prince, Brenda Miller, and Virginia Underwood.

A small customer in Charles's Department Store wanted Carole Bancroft to put his name on all his wants so Santa would be sure to get his order straight.

Sears, Roebuck and Company employs Patsy Allison, Buzz Turner, Brenda Meadows, Pete Wachter, Twink Gaskins, Jane Gibson, and Joey Dalton.

One of the most interesting (?) jobs is that held by Jimmy Bailes. He is assistant to the mortician at Forbis and Dick Funeral Home and also drives an ambulance. Dallas Peoples, who works at Greensboro Printing Company, sets up the type to be printed.

Linda Robinson, Jo Peeples, Shirley Peeden, Susan Bradley, and Lynn Bryant work at Kress's Variety Store. Phyllis Pledger and Sharon Parrish are nurses' aides at Cone Memorial Hospital.

Sidney and David Gray are both helping out at the Carolina Variety Store, while Luddy Glanekopf is employed at the Carolina Camera Center. Service stations are supplying the funds for many boys including Richard Goforth, Ronnie Ridge, Steve Royal, Narley Odum, Jesse Lewis, and Clay Faulkner. Becky Byerly and Carole Roberts work at the Laurie's Shop.

Woolworth's employees include Elaine Boyle, Dorene Parrish, Sandra Lisk, and Brenda Barham. Larry Goudy, Tommy Durham, Teddie Sue Walker, and Donald Amos work at local theaters.

Service repairmen include Mike Patterson and Wesley Hall. Judy Fry will be working in Birmingham, Alabama, and Sandra Casey in Winston-Salem. Bill Ellis sells automotive parts at the Pep Boys' Store, while Judy Vaughn keeps the books at Vaughn Auto Supply.

Harvey Goldberg, Faye Foster, James Pardue, Gary Brittenham, Bill Atkinson, and Jim Forsyth spend their working days among boxes and boxes of shoes. Tommy Oakley is a short-order cook at the Baker House Cafe. Chuck McKee and Del Oakes sell at Van-story's Clothing Store, while Billy Lawson is a delivery boy for Western Union. McDades Clothing Store employs Steve Oliver, and Tommy Omohundro is assistant

'61 Senior Class Presents Their Christmas Pageant

Following the traditions of their predecessors, the senior class of '61 presented the annual Christmas Pageant this morning during assembly.

The pageant was presented in ten scenes, each of which was acted out to the background of music by the girls' and boys' glee clubs.

Music sung during the program, under the direction of Miss Eula Tuttle, choir director, was "Adeste Fidelis," "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming," "The Annunciation," "Once In Royal David's City," "Mary's Lullaby," "Break Forth, O Beauteous Heavenly Lights," "The Snow Lay on the Ground," "The First Noel," "Silent Night," and "O Holy Night."

Ann Directs

This year's pageant is under the direction of Ann Winchester, with Miss Peggy Joyner and Mrs. Jean Newman, English teachers, as faculty advisers. Mrs. Marietta took charge of props.

Costumes were under the direction of Miss Mary Price, family life instructor, and Sue Allbright, senior. Mrs. Mary Moody, guidance counselor, Mr. S. L. Whiteley, biology teacher; and Sharon Sandling worked on scenery. The programs were done by Miss Mary Nell Parker, English teacher; and Diana Wallons, Miss Lottie Burnside, math teacher, directed make-up; Dick Tontz, junior, was stage director.

Narration of the Christmas program was done by Caralee Prullit and John Monroe.

Large Cast

The large cast of seniors was headed by Patsy Boone as the Voice of Gabriel, Susan Stentz as Mary, Terri Quincannon as Gabriel, Sam White as Joseph, and Susanne Markham playing Mary's mother. Dave Meyer, Allen Ashby, and Allen McSween acted as soldiers. Women in the play were Sarah Jo Davis, Pam Bowden, Phyllis Goodwin, Irene Gullledge, Skipper Quinn, and Sandra Bargamian.

Other members of the cast were Harvey George, innkeeper; Jo Jane Pitt, the innkeeper's wife; Dale Keller, the rich man; Kenneth Kaufman, the servant; Andrew Hines, the beggar. The first, second, third and fourth shepherds were played respectively by Bob Buchanan, Charles Tate, Eddie Rose, and Jimmy Von Cannon. The shepherd boy was portrayed by Jimmy Bullock.

Wise Men

The final group of cast members consisted of Brent Simpson, Jimmy Tedder, and Bruce Gupton as wise men; John Hill as Herod; Johnny Vestal as the slave; and Charles Thompson and Mike Patterson as scribes. The girls playing angels were Linda Simpson, Christine Holland, Twink Gaskins, Karen Gill, Suzanne Kiser, Dale Mauldin, Jayne Oakley, Harriet Eiler, Martha McKee, Susan Gardiner, Carol Moser, Mary Radcliffe, Diana Wellons, Pam Pfaff, Mary Bradley, Jeannie Anderson, Gloria Griffin, Libby Pratt, Sherry King, Dale Neese, Judy Brady, Sharon Eldridge, Sandra Boyles.

Children playing in the pageant are James Quinn, Susie Wellons, and Debbie Pruitt.

Caroling Is Highlight Of Bible Club Meeting

To go Christmas caroling, the Greensboro Senior High Bible Club met last night at school at 7 p.m.

The two students in charge of leading the singing and making plans for the event were Johnny Vestal, junior, and Patsy Boone, senior.

The group sang for various rehabilitation centers as well as for some residents. Refreshments were served for the club members at the home of Doris Schaefer.

The Bible Club has for the past several weeks been bringing clothing, food, and toys to be distributed through a community center.

Gordons Present Volume In Memory of Ken Brugh

Pictorial History of American Presidents was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Gordon and family of Johnson City, Tennessee, to the GHS Library in memory of Kenneth V. Brugh III, who died last summer in an automobile accident.

The book, written by John and Alice Durant, is bound in Mission Leather. Mission Leather is made by a process handed down from Moorish craftsmen of 500 years ago.

Contains Sketches

Pictorial History of American Presidents features biographical sketches of each president from Washington to Eisenhower, and the great events, the political life, the fads, scandals, and crimes of the times during each president's office. In addition to this, there is a chronological list of the presidents, facts about the presidents, and charts of the presidential elections.

The library has added to its shelves numerous books this year. Among them is the much talked-about book, The Girl That You Marry, by Dr. James H. S. Bosard and Dr. Eleanor Stoker Boil. This book is written especially for boys to help them understand girls.

Poetry Volume

From the world of poetry comes Stars to Steer By, written by Louis Utermeyer. This volume contains over 150 poems for young people, plus short discussions about many of the poems.

The lives of ten Confederate men during the reconstruction period are related in South of Appomattox by Nash K. Burger and John K. Betterworth. The Confederates include Nathan Bedford Forrest, Grand Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan; Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy; Alexander Stephens, vice-president of the Confederacy; and Robert E. Lee, commander of Confederate troops.

Think Positively

Guides to help high school students are presented in The Power of Positive Thinking for Young People by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale. It contains specific keys to success. Other books are My Russian Journey by Santha Rama Rau, The Ship That Died of Shame by Nicholas Monsorrot, Up Into the Singing Mountain by Richard Llewellyn, Forest of the Night by Jack Denton Scott, and Still Glides the Stream by D. E. Stevenson.

Students Make Plans For Honor Code Day

Charles Thompson, senior, Jo Jane Pitt, senior, and Dale Keller, senior, are members of the committee which is making plans for Honor Code Day.

There will be an assembly on Honor Code Day with one main speaker. Also, there will be speeches made by members of the different classes: four from the senior class, three from the junior class, and two from the sophomore class. However, unlike last year, there will be no homeroom discussion after the program.

According to Charles Thompson, committee chairman, the main goal of this student council-sponsored day is to make the Honor Code more specific. He said that he also felt that by making it more specific, the Code will become more real to the students.

When asked his own opinion about the Honor Code and whether or not it would work, Charles said, "No, I don't think it works. I don't think it has ever worked." He concluded, however, by saying that this year he hoped that the Honor Code would be vitalized, and the students made more aware of it.
