

Basketball Offers Stiff Rivalry Between Service Clubs

Good Sportsmanship Key Factor In Games

In order to promote good sportsmanship and a competitive spirit among service clubs at Grimsley, the advisors of the various organizations have set up a program of intramurals activities. Each afternoon sounds of laughter at the funny plays and rousing cheers for a member who drops the ball in the hoop for a point.

Mr. Jack Jessup, history teacher here at GHS and once a student of Greensboro Senior High School, is the advisor of the interclub contests. Most of the boys' service clubs' contests are just getting underway while the girls have been challenging each other for several weeks.

Each week a team is eliminated in each sex distinction until there remains only the team representing each. Not only providing rivalry, these programs also provide plenty of exercise along with a chance to test their physical weakness. What could possibly provide better sports entertainment than Johnny Hill and Pat Brugh of the Jaycees trying to out play Dargan Frierson and Charles Sherill of the Junior Civitans, or Betty Pritchard and Cindy LeBrun of the Charioteers attempting to upset the Junior Civinettes Ellen Barriar and Amy Murray.

Despite the hilarious situations and boo's from the opposing team, the clubs finally bring home the respective cups will have plenty to look back on. Although their playing does not quite compare to Skeeter Powell's or to Pat Moriarty's, they fought truly in the famous Whirlie way. This cup won, however, must be fought for all over again when it comes home to begin the program again next year.

To those who cackle at the idea of Grimsley's more well known students not athletically inclined participating in such a program, it would seem that they are missing a great deal of enjoyment.

The service clubs participating in this program are Junior Civitans, Junior Jaycees, Key Club, Interact Club, Junior Civinettes, Jayettes, Charioteers, Senioettes, O. Henry Juniors, and the newly formed Exchangettes. All these clubs have been influential backers for GHS programs and projects.

Unusual activities can be seen on the basketball court of the Boys' Gym. The pros exhibit their excellent co-ordination.

G. H. S. Stadium Provides Various Sports Entertainment

To walk between the seats in the deserted Greensboro High School Stadium is a rare privilege for Grimsley's students. When GHS teams are not performing and the marching band is not performing, Page is carrying on its Athletic contest.

The stadium is privately owned and operated by the Greensboro High School Stadium Corporation. It is to be used by any Guilford County High School wishing to carry on an organized athletic game on the field. Having always had a fine record of attendance it has made a fine investment for these interested citizens of Greensboro.

The care of Greensboro High School Stadium is provided by a wide corp of caretakers along with many hours of service club members at Grimsley. The scoreboard was a gift of the Coca Cola Company and Junior Jaycees here at GHS. Built in 1951, the stadium has been well preserved and is a standing symbol of good sportsmanship through our state. It all backs adults as well as the respective members of the schools represented on the field.

Although the Greensboro Senior High School stadium is located on the campus of Grimsley Senior High, it does not actually belong in any way except time and tradition to the school. The plays of Greensboro and Grimsley Senior High School echo through the stone wall absorbed with "Go, Whirlies, Go" and resound joyfully when other teams pace off to face one another. It has become an accepted trend of GHS's students to take this stadium for granted. Too bad, for it is a privilege worth its weight in winning scores of years gone by.
