

Grimsley Dominates Executive Board

Greensboro's Youth Council on Civic Affairs recently elected their members for the year of 1965-1966. Grimsley High School was honored in placing two students on the three-member Executive Board and thirteen altogether on the Council.

Chip Hagan of Page received the gavel of chairman from outgoing Dick Levy of GHS. Grimsley's Judy Ellstrom was elected to the vice chairmanship, and Ellen Kay, also of GHS, is the new secretary-treasurer.

Other Whirlies elected to the Youth Council on Civic Affairs are Ann Brown, Kathy East, John Seawell, and Stuart George, all rising seniors. Rising juniors from Grimsley are Nancy Alexander, Ramona Curtis, Curtis Weaver, Lyn Rose, Sarah Ruffing, Austin Lybrand, and Joe Coleman.

Committee chairmen and members have not yet been chosen. Applications for all who wished to serve on the committees were available in the high schools in early May.

THE WAR ON POVERTY: A Message to High School Seniors

We believe high school seniors are mature enough to comprehend the tragedy of poverty—and to contribute meaningfully to the battle that is being waged against it.

Today the United States is committed to the greatest humanitarian cause in its history—a massive counter-attack on the causes of poverty, which are robbing 35,000,000 Americans of the opportunities most of us are free to pursue because we had the advantage of a decent start in life. That start has been denied to one-fifth of the nation's people. Thirteen million of them are children.

VISTA, Volunteers in Service to America, was organized to give individuals the opportunity to apply their talents in a compassionate national cause—to fight poverty in the front lines. Here, lack of education, poor health, unemployment, inadequate housing, and disrupted family relationships condemn people, often from childhood, to a life of futility. The work of VISTA volunteers is to help intervene with the tools of opportunity.

You will become eligible for VISTA once you are 18 and have completed high school. VISTA training will prepare you to take part in programs for the poor of all ages, in all parts of the country. Young people who plan to go to college later often enroll for a year both to help others and to enlarge their own capacities for teaching, social work, or careers in sociology, economics, law, and other fields.

Home base for VISTA volunteer groups can be a city tenement row, a struggling farm community, an Indian reservation, or a migrant labor camp. Volunteers may help organize recreation programs or tutor children who are behind in school. Some serve as aides to social workers, as mental health assistants, as teachers of hobbies and crafts to the elderly. In VISTA, volunteers do whatever is needed to encourage people to find their way up from poverty.

The opportunities are great: you can help pave the way for an America in which the democratic ideal is big enough to encompass everyone.

Will you lend your abilities to people who live in need? Join the War on Poverty as a VISTA volunteer.

Clubs' Spending Tops $3,000 For '64-'65

During the past school year, the thirteen service clubs at GHS have done much to provide the school with extra facilities, and teachers with extra help in classroom maintenance.

Members of the Junior Jaycettes, under the direction of Candy Sauer, initiated the Buddy System which helps sophomores and transfer students familiarize themselves with GHS.

Along with the Buddy System project, the Jaycettes waxed desks in the classrooms and assisted the guidance counsellors by writing away for college catalogues and other literature and arranging new bulletin boards each month.

While continuing with the weekly washing of black boards, the Junior Civinettes administered weekly devotions. A new undertaking, the $400 scholarship which was awarded for the first time this year, culminated the Civinettes work for the year.

Redecorating the teacher's lounge took the time, energy, and money of the Charlotettes.

Their creativity brought the first prize in the Homecoming Display contest which proved that all of their school spirit was not expended in placing streamers on each car in the parking lot before each home game.

Following past example, the Interact Club sponsored an exchange student at GHS. The boys also constructed an erosion wall and placed a sign over it which bears the school name.

The Civitans sought to improve school spirit through the purchase of a speaker system for the use of the head cheerleader at athletic events. Along with this project and the annual Civitan handbook, the club also presented the annual Ben L. Smith Award.

In an effort to further international understanding the Civitans adopted Lo Lai Sang, a Hong Kong orphan who is supported with quarterly club donations.

By annually contributing to the Teachers' Fund, the Jr. Exchangees helped to provide the instructors with sorely needed classroom materials.

Noted for its outstanding work with the mentally retarded, the O. Henry Juniors continued to support Camp Joy and the Golden Door. Another project is the annual presentation of the Leslie Garrett Memorial Art Award.

The work of the members of Jr. Exchange centered around preparing the confetti for the Homecoming Game, and awarding a plaque to the homeroom with the largest number of people in attendance at the game. The club also provided trash cans for the newly paved parking lot.

Sponsoring the "Whirlie-of-the-Week" award and the "Name-the-Whirliebird" contest helped to fill this year for the Jr. Jaycees. Besides the $300 scholarship awarded each spring, the club bought and maintained an activity bulletin board for the main hall.

Again relying on tradition, the Key Club published the greatly popular Student Directory and assumed the responsibility of cleaning the stadium following each home football game. Another project which seems to be becoming an annual one is the Greensboro Senior High School's Stadium sign.

The presentation of a record player to the choruses and choir at GHS highlighted the year for the Seniorettes. While earning money for this project, the club supported the Golden Door and gathered presents for retarded children at Central School.

The Sub-Juniors worked for the Children's Home Society in distributing a newsletter and filling empty stockings at Christmas. Their project for GHS found the home economics conference room decorated with the money made from their candy sale.

Parking lot cleaning began the year for the Hi-Y Philomathians. Service to school and community continued with the distribution of calendar cards to the student body and Thanksgiving baskets to the city's need. At Christmas the club gave a Christmas party for orphans.
