VOLUME XLII GRIMSLEY SENIOR HIGH, GREENSBORO, N. C., MARCH 20, 1967 NUMBER 19

N.C. Conference On World Affairs Attended By 12 GHS Students

Twelve Grimsley students attended the North Carolina Conference on World Affairs Thursday, March 9, with their history class.

The students were Lynn Ferguson, Ronnie Gallimore, Sherry Haber, Lyn Labell, Aileen Ponder, John Perry, Mike Ramont, Sarah Ruffing, Jimmy Thomas, Roger Tripp, Tanya Ward, and Vince Yegge. They met at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill (UNC-CH) and listened to talks from three speakers.

Dr. Dorothy Hutchinson, chairman of the International Executive Committee of the Women's League for Peace and Freedom, discussed for her main topic "World Community Without World Citizenship." The doctor explained that countries of the world should unite and work together but not under one common government.

At the present, the United Nations goes into a country and stops the fighting, but the U. N. forces may be there for years. Dr. Hutchinson suggested that there should be a set time for the troops to stay in a country and if the dispute had not been settled, the forces should return to the U.N.

There, both sides of the argument should listen to each other. If this idea did not work, arbitration should be used. She concluded saying "It's too early for world government but too late to do anything else."

Ten percent of the gross national product of the United States is used for defense. This statement was explained by Mr. Seymour Melman, Professor of Industrial and Management Engineering at Columbia University. Also for defense, two-thirds of all technicians and researchers are used. These were two main ideas which he explained as he discussed "Our Depleted Society."

"The greatest threat to peace and safety in the world today is American military colossus built up around the world to take the place of the British supply line," remarked Wayne Morse, a senator from Oregon.

The main topic which he discussed was "The Allusion of National Impotence." In his speech, he summarized that the main problem since World War II was that we didn't follow President Franklin D. Roosevelt's plan at the Tehran Conference. At this conference, the President warned that France would lose Indo-China. He suggested that a trusteeship be set up for that part of the world, but no one listened.

Senator Morse continued that John Foster Dulles was the man who began making foreign agreements and then asking for the permission of Congress. The U. S. also violated Geneva accords by entering Viet Nam.

Mr. Jay M. Arena, a history teacher at GHS, accompanied the students to Chapel Hill.

Great Decisions Program Discussed In Town Crier

"The Town Crier," a bi-monthly paper published by the Parks and Recreation Department's Youth Council for the youth of Greensboro, recently printed an article about the Great Decisions program.

The article explained that the Great Decisions program was a discussion program which is sponsored by the Foreign Policy Association (FPA). In recent weeks, a weekly discussion has occurred on Monday night at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Greensboro Public Library.

Among the programs are "Communist China and the U.S.," "India and Pakistan," "Vietnam," "Yugoslavia and Rumania," "The Spread of Nuclear Weapons," and "New Deal in Chile."

Further explained in the article was that the association "takes no position on any specific issue of the United States Foreign Policy." This was in accordance with the By-law of the FPA. Because of this, only noted speakers are asked to speak at the discussions on specific topics of foreign policy. After each lecture, a discussion period occurs and each person is left to form his own opinion about the topic.

Anthony Austin from the "New York Times" will be the speaker for tonight's lecture. His topic is "NATO in Crisis."

Next Monday, March 27, the lecture will be "The War on Hunger." It will be given by Harris Wofford, a member of the Peace Corps.

The Great Decisions Program in Greensboro is sponsored by the Greensboro Jaycees. A series of eight lectures will have been presented by next Monday night. All lectures are free.

Grimsley Student Council Visits Pirate Council

"It is to see how they carry on their business and find possible improvements for our council," remarked Sue Wyatt, secretary of Grimsley, as she explained the main reason for visiting other student councils.

Joe Coleman, Rig Dees, Mary Sue Hamann, David Nickell, John Perry, Jean Thornley, Curtis Weaver, and Sue, members of Grimsley's student council, watched a Page student council in action Tuesday, March 7.

After the meeting, the GHS students were introduced to the Page Executive Board. Differences about the council were discussed and suggestions were made.

She added that the main difference between the Pirates' and the Whirlies' councils was that the Page council meetings were more formally operated. Another difference was that their council was larger because there was a council member from each home-room.

Visiting other student councils is an annual event.

The GHS council has already in-

Debaters Win Tournament; Finals Occur At Page

Monday, March 13, the Grimsley debating team won the Round Robin in Championship Tournament in debating.

The finals of this tournament occurred at Page High School. Ronnie Gallimore and Jerry Pinksler on the affirmative side and Jay Pringle and Jimmy Thomas on the negative side debated for GHS. The topic which was debated was the proposal of whether or not the Foreign Policy Program should be limited to non-military assistance only.

The four schools which were represented in the final rounds were GHS, Page, Western Alamance, and Williams High School in Burlington.

The teams debated twice Monday morning and once in the afternoon. Each person on the affirmative and negative side of

The 1967 TWIRP traffic squad was a main part of the annual event, TWIRP, which occurred at GHS Friday, March 10.

The girls in the traffic squad were selected by boys who are members of the regular squad.

The squad was a sub-division of "Hail's Angels", and each girl was therefore dressed appropriately.

Outfits included whistles, guns, sun-glasses, German war helmets, and army jackets.

Choral Concert Given; May Court Presented

Grimsley's choir performed in assembly second period, Tuesday, March 14.

The choir, which recently won three honors in a state-wide contest Saturday, March 11, sung several songs including religious ballads, love lymmeric, and several lighter pieces. Mr. Ronald Hill and Miss Jeanne Meredith directed the music numbers.

Sixteen members of the choir, forming the Madrigal Singers, performed two songs. This group is made up of Tommy Adams, Larry Allen, Jack Carpenter, Cheryl Cates, Terry Craig, Joyce Earnhart, Linda Grimes, Bruce Hartgrove, Nancy Lynch, Randy Mims, Cy Moore, Cameron Payne, John Perry, Diane Turner, and Larry Young.

The group performed "Sing We and Chant It" and "My Heart Is Offered Still To You."

Songs which the choir sung were:

"We Thank Thee Lord," "Ecce quomodo moritur Justus," "Tune Thy Music To Thy Heart," "The Stars Are With The Voyager," "Here Is Thy Footstool," "All of My Hearts Desiring," "Vigolin," "One Hand, One Heart," "Weep, O Willow," "Magic Moments," and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Larry Allen, senior, accompanied the choir on the piano.

Litterbags Known Throughout State

Recently an article appeared in the March issue of the "North Carolina Parent-Teacher Bulletin" about the Grimsley litterbags.

"Realizing that litter is such a serious problem, and is dangerous as well as unsightly, they (the Greensboro Council of Garden Clubs) attacked the problem through Grimsley High School in Greensboro by the presentation of 600 litterbags to students."

The article quoted part of the message made over the loud speaker to GHS students as the bags were presented to the student body.

It further explained how to make the bags including the dimensions and the type of material needed.

The article ended in urging more North Carolinian schools to participate in this beautification project.
