The Crucible will be performed in the Social Hall of the First Presbyterian Church.

UNC-G Plays Star Young Childrens' Drama Difficult

"Most people don't realize it, but it's the hardest type of drama to play," commented Flip Young, senior, as he explained his part in "Many Moons," a children's play presented by the Junior League.

Flip further explained that the Junior League is a part of the Pixie Playhouse and that his year is the first time that male actors have been used.

"In Many Moons" Flip plays the part of a Court Jester, who is the hero. Performances for the play are scheduled for February 15 through 17, and 21 through 24.

Flip first began acting in the theater of UNC-G at the age of 15. His first play was "My Fair Lady." He starred as a cockney and as a gentleman.

"Li'l Abner" was Flip's second play. His parts included Daisy Mae's cousin, a secretary to General Bullmoose, and a townsman. In "The King and I," he played the part of a priest. Dr. Herbert Middleton directed the musicals.

Flip also has been involved in examples of straight drama, which were directed by Ellen Acker in "Skin of our Teeth" by Thornton Wilder, which was given in October of 1966, he played several minor roles. He had the role of the brother of Jesus in "Family Portrait," directed by Maynard French. Flip said that rehearsals for this type of play generally lasted four weeks.

Childrens' Theater plays in which Flip has been involved include "Mr. Popper's Penguins." He was an expressman in this play in 1964. Peter Paily, a handyman and the leading role, was his part in the 1965 production of "Junket." The title role was that of a dog.

Flip again played the lead in 1966 when he was Luke in "Unwicked Witch." "Rama and the Tigers" last year found him playing yet another lead, as Rudra, Rama's father. Ralph Kearns directs all the plays produced by the Childrens' Theater.

Members of the Grimsley High School Bowl Team are:
David Labell
Carolyn Lyday
Mike Schott
Mike Spital
Martha Wilmering
Competition will take place February 17 and 24

Teenage Talent Show To Show Youth Skill

Greensboro's Teen-age Talent Show, jointly sponsored by the Greensboro Youth Council (GYC) and the Knights of Columbus, Piedmont Council, will take place on March 9, in the Greensboro Memorial Auditorium. This will be the fifth consecutive talent show in the city.

The purpose of the show which will begin at 8:00 p.m., Saturday evening, is to give the youth of Greensboro a chance to show what talents they really possess.

Acts Previewed

Samples of the acts to compete in the show will be previewed on GYC's teen-age television show, "Our Side," which is on WFMY-TV, Sunday afternoon at 1:30. There will be five acts for each show.

Twenty-three different acts ranging from combos and rag-time bands to singing, comedy and skits will perform the night of the Talent Show.

Prizes Awarded

Monetary prizes will be awarded to various winners in the show. Grand prize will be an appearance on the Ted Mack television program. Combo winners will be given one-week jobs at a beach night club this summer.

In charge of the contest are Audrey Lavine, a senior at GHS, and Mr. McNulty who is in the Knights of Columbus. Admission charge will be $.50 for children under 12, and $1.00 for adults.

Audition Take Place

Auditions for different types of talent were given separately. Vocal auditions were January 20, at the First Presbyterian Church; combos, January at St. Pius X Church. Instrumental, solos and group try-outs were January 27 at the First Presbyterian Church, where dance, drama, novelty, comedy and other acts auditioned February 3.

Midwinter's Dance Given This March

A Midwinter Night's Dream is to be the theme of this year's annual Midwinter's Dance, which will be on Friday, March 15, from 8:00 until 11:30.

Tickets to the dance, which will require semiformal dress, will cost $1.50 each. All Grimsley students and their dates are invited to attend.

Playing for the dance in the boys' gym will be the In-Men. Estimated cost of the entire dance is $600.

Kathy Carlton is in charge of the dance. Gibbie Edwards and Gail Knieriem are responsible for decorations. Ticket chairman is Martha Monett.

The Students Council sponsored dance was originally scheduled for mid-January, but as in the past several years, snow and missed school days forced postponement to avoid exams and the beginning of second semester.

Choir Sells Bulbs For Annual Project

Members of the Grimsley Choir and some members of the Advanced Girls' Chorus are selling Sylvania light bulbs for the Choir project this year.

The bulbs are available in all wattages. Coming in packages of six, the bulbs cost 25 cents each. Three way bulbs (those with three different levels of wattage) cost slightly more, depending on their size.

The Choir expects to be selling the bulbs through February and into March. Members sell the bulbs at school and in their neighborhoods.

Money received from these sales will go to help finance the Choir's annual concert trip to Nassau in June. Members of the bands of GHS also go on this trip. Money remaining after the trip will be retained for next year's Choir.

March of Dimes Allows Teens To Give

Teen-age efforts to contribute to the March of Dimes have taken the form of a Benefit Concert to take place Sunday, February 25, in the Greensboro Coliseum.

All proceeds over the bare expenses will be given to the March of Dimes, presenting the youth of Greensboro and the surrounding area with a chance to help others and have a good time doing it.

Playing for the concert will be the Tams, with their recording orchestra, the Showmen, Maurice Williams and the Zodiacs, and the Drifters.

The Tams will sing, among others, What Kind of Fool, and A Little More Soul. It Will Stand, 39-21-46, and In Paradise are hits to be performed by the Showmen. The Zodiacs will do May I, and more. The Drifters will perform many of their recorded hits.

Emceeding the show will be disc-jockeys from radio stations in Greensboro, who will be giving away records during the concert.

Admission to the show will cost $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00. This benefit is a show for teen-agers and by all teen-agers.
