

Homecoming Big Affair At GHS

This coming Friday night homecoming week at GHS will be climaxed by the crowning of 1968-69 Grimsley homecoming queen. The theme of this year's homecoming pageant will be "Up, Up and Away" and the student council homecoming committee has lead plans to see that this year's homecoming is really "out of sight."

The homecoming queen and runner-up will be elected by the student body from the twenty girls already selected as the homecoming court. The court will be presented with their escorts to the juniors and seniors at the assembly on Tuesday. Pictures of the girls on the court along with a list of their activities will be found all week long on the bulletin board in the main hall. The elections will be held in homerooms on Thursday morning. Each student will be given a ballot on which he is to mark his first, second and third choices for homecoming queen. The girls are voted on for queen on the basis of their school spirit.

The queen and runner-up will be crowned during half-time of the Grimsley-Asheville game. Tye Hunter will crown the queen, with Barbara Israel, last year's queen, and Jody Turner, last year's student body president, both in attendance.

Many other events have also been planned by the committee to honor the court. A banquet has been planned by the committee to honor both the football players and the homecoming court. The banquet will be held on Tuesday evening. A luncheon will also be held in honor of the girls on Friday afternoon. The luncheon will be given for them by Mrs. Warren F. Bass and Mrs. Robert T. Bridges, and will be held at the home of Mrs. Bass.

The Homecoming committee of student council is responsible for most of the work and planning that go into homecoming. Its chairman is Patty Bridges. Working with her on the committee are: Suzanne Williams (programs), Debbie Clendenin (Football banquet), Laura Jeanes, Diane Marks, Jimmy Palmer (props), Lane Mitchell (publicity), Kathy Glenn (Flowers), Lynn Moore (Bulletin Board), and Steve Warner (Carr).

The Youth Recreation Council also has some big plans for homecoming week. YRC plans to hold an open house after the game in honor of the homecoming queen, her court and the senior football players. The court and their escorts will be presented to those in attendance during the intermission. Tickets will be sold by YRC members for one dollar, and may be bought at the door for a dollar and a half. Girls on the court, football players, and varsity cheerleaders will be admitted free.

The YRC will also sponsor the traditional homecoming displays that will be exhibited on the front lawns of the school. The displays will be erected early Friday morning and will be judged for originality and effort later that day. The winning club will be announced that afternoon at the pep rally and will be presented with a silver winner's trophy.

At least a dozen clubs have planned displays. Among them are: THE KEY CLUB plans to "Pop the Maroons". They will have a large basket anchored to the ground by two ropes and suspended in the air by a large bunch of "maroon" balloons. A large pin will lay to the side of the display and will be used to "Pop the Maroons."

THE JUNIOR JAYCEES will "Dispose the Devils". They will build a miniature football field with a large barrel in which a maroon devil will be disposed of by a plunger-armed Whirlie.

THE SUB JUNIORS hope to "Freeze the Devils". They will have a white cardboard refrigerator with blue and purple devil saying, "I'm so cold I'm turning blue and white." The names of the football players will be on the door of the refrigerator.

THE CHARIOTEERS will depict a shovel carrying Whirlie bird standing in front of a grave yard with six tombstones bearing epitaphs. The Whirlie bird will be preparing to dig another plot in which to bury the Maroon devils.

O. HENRY JUNIORS are going to "Dangle the Maroon Devils." They plan to build a traditional Whirliebird who will be playing with a maroon devil marionette on strings.

THE CIVINETTES will show us how to "Can the Devils." They will have blue and white bird who will be standing with his plunger next to a large tin can. A three, dimensional devil strapped across a blue and white goal post under which shall burn a red hot fire. Their Whirliebird plans to cook the Asheville devil until he turns to ashes.

THE INTERACT CLUB theme is "Ashes to Ashes." They will have a maroon devil strapped across a blue and white goal post under which shall burn a red hot fire. Their Whirliebird plans to cook the Asheville devil until he turns to ashes.

THE Y-TEENS theme is "Up Up and Away with the Whirlies" will depict a large GHS balloon which will be preparing to float away and carry the Whirlies off to victory.

THE EXCHANGETTES will "Maroon the Devils" on a desert. The maroon devil will be left beneath the palm tree where the Grimsley Whirlwind left it, marooned.

THE JUNIOR JAYCETTES plan to launch the maroon devils into space on the back of a rocket. A large blue and white Whirliebird will be shown preparing to light the fuse for the maroon devils.

THE SENIORETTEs will "Harpoon the Maroons" in their display. A large whirliebird will be standing in a boat, and will be shown ready to harpoon a maroon devil stranded on a nearby iceberg.

One of the singing groups of G.H.S., the Madrigals

MADRIGALS, QUEEN'S MEN SELECTED

The members of the Madrigals and the Queen's Men have been chosen by Miss Jeanne Meredith, GHS choir director. Both singing groups are chosen from the more talented choir members.

Four boys compose the quartet called the Queen's Men. First tenor is Kenny Huffine, and second is Bobby Selders. Craig Johnson was appointed baritone, while the bass voice is supplied by Eugene Bowman. These boys will supply the entertainment for such things as civic groups, and banquets.

The Madrigals are composed of a larger number of students who make appearances throughout the city during the school year. Madeline Gray, Pam Rouse, Susan Waldron, Brenda Arthur, and Linda Oakley were chosen as the sopranos for the group. The altos are Debby Boerema, Donna Cates, Beverly Weinrick, Lynn Moore, and Pat von Seth. The boys who will sing tenor are Danny Self, Roger Aydlette, Jim Desper, and Kenny Huffine. Four boys, Lee Arrington, Bill Wilkins, Chuch Steacy, and Bob Selders, will provide the bass.

Last year the Madrigals were invited to make appearances at the University of NC-Chapel Hill and Greensboro. They also performed for the North Carolina Music Educators, in November.

GYC In Existence Six Years Thursday

Next Thursday, the Greensboro Youth Council will be six years old. It's probably the most precocious six-year-old organization in teenage history!

GYC began in 1962 after a wild party which proved that Greensboro teens had to have a productive, unifying organization. GY resulted, complete with a paid Executive Director, (who also is fantastic!) Mrs. Joanne Dwiggins.

In six years, GYC has succeeded in unbelievable numbers of efforts to give teen-agers a "worthwhile part to take in constructive projects and programs."

As usual, GHS has its share of leaders in this year's Council—including four committee chairmen—Karen Spivey (Arts), Bonnie Boyles (Publications), Becky Price (Employment), and Lance Africk (Service). Ross Lynch is our local District Director at Grimsley, and William Herbert from Page is the GYC Chairman this year.

For each of the 20 Grimsley Councilmen (there are 81 high school students on the entire council), there are 99 other students who cannot be official councilmen. The Council can and does initiate hundreds of workable projects, but only YOU can provide enough man power and support to make the efforts worthwhile—and FUN!

During this special "birthday week", your GYC representative will be wearing bright yellow buttons that read, "Ask me about GYC!" Ask them—they all are big talkers—and see how YOU can get in the act. Ask about Powderpuff Football (for GIRLS), about Friends of the Court (for teen-age jurors!), about the new teen news magazine (staff help wanted!), about the upcoming Football Express, the GYC flower cart, the new GYC teen-age TV show, and loads more. If you can't find ANY one of the Councilmen, then call 378-1771, the GYC office number!

Look at the GYC bulletin board, located on the 1st floor of the main building. Read the latest news, and take a free Teen Brief from the box. Check the GHS traffic safety board to see how many violations we've had to date. Then, pick up a GYC information card and a GYC bookmark at the new GYC information booth!

Remember, our sixth birthday is THIS Thursday! Stop by and celebrate after school on Thursday at the Girl's Gym for refreshments. See you there!
