

HIGH LIFE

These four students have art traveling throughout Europe on tour. Front row from left to right are: Susan Gibson and Margie Holloway. Back row, left to right are: Teri Anderson and Debbie Wooten.

Art Chosen For Tour

These are the pictures from Grimsley High School that will travel throughout Europe on tour:

Title	Name	Grade	Age
The Model	Teri Anderson	11	17
Out To Lunch	Cindy Benbow	10	16
Couple on The Corner	Cindy Benbow	10	16
The Classroom	Linda Flock	11	17
Suzzane's Grandmother's Farm	Julie Foard	12	17
Friday's Child	Julie Foard	12	17
Disappointment	Julie Foard	12	17
Relaxing	Susan Gibson	11	16
Mandy	Shae Hollingsworth	11	16
Line To The Water Fountain	Margie Holloway	11	16
Our Country's Image	Henry H. Leung	12	19
Three Faces on the Wonderland—	Henry H. Leung	12	19
The Stockbroker	Jan Lukens	10	15
Sunkissed	Sharon Lyda	10	16
Different Drummer	Donna Nichols	12	18
Christmas Morning	Barbara Jean Osman	12	17
The Boy	Barbara Jean Osman	12	17
Meditation	Susan Shankle	10	15
Margaret	Lyn Southworth	10	15
Fire Escape	Stephen Sullivan	12	19
Boy Dreaming	Stephen Sullivan	12	19
Where To Next	Stephen Sullivan	12	19
The Back Woodman	Eliot Sutker	10	16
Pines	Gary Waynick	12	17
Face of Experience	Gary Waynick	12	17
Bonnie and Clyde	Debra Wooten	10	15
Adam and Eve	Karen Ziegenfuss	12	17
These will tour the United States:
The Doors	Teri Anderson	11	17
From Where We Stand	Teri Anderson	11	17
Outer Banks	Susan Gibson	11	16
Cliffs and Water	Karen Herman	11	16
Out of Sight	Jan Lukens	10	15
City's Night	Stephen Sullivan	12	19
Dixieland Waiter	Eliot Sutker	10	16

The International Exhibit II is scheduled for Grimsley High School on December 4 through December 11.

In this exhibit there will be pictures from: India, Belgium, Canada, Fritz Wuchererstr, Yugoslavia, Japan, Victoria, England, Korea, South Africa, Alabama, Florida, California, Ohio, Maryland, Washington, Missouri, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, and North Carolina.

The art submitted was based on the artists' personal experiences and the expression of the sensitivity, to the subject matter. The pictures should have richness of form and represent the contemporary social scene.

They give evidence of the creative use of material.

In choosing the art for the Program, the pictures were screened at three levels—school, community, and area.

Thanksgiving ROTC Deserves Credit Assembly

Presented by the Junior Class, the annual Thanksgiving Assembly was on Wednesday, November 27, at the third period.

Howard Stang, president of the Class of '70, led the pledge of allegiance and introduced the vice-president, Judy Cole. Judy proceeded to announce Skip Holt, chairman of Pep Board. Skip presented an award to Patti Howell for her outstanding contribution to Pep Board. Devotions were then given by two students.

A folk group from Greensboro College, Chris, Tom, and Bobby, provided the music. They performed a total of four selections plus an encore. "Hurry Sundown," and "I Dig Rock and Roll Music" were two of their numbers. Originally sung by Peter, Paul, and Mary, "King of Names" was their encore.

The speaker of the assembly, Reverend Ray Moss, Intercity Minister, was introduced to the juniors and seniors present. Reverend Moss attended Duke Divinity School, and served as pastor at various churches throughout the state.

To begin his address, Rev. Moss compared the Mayflower incident and the present situation. "We are now at the crossroads of history and the youth of today have the greatest responsibility ever," he preceeded to say. The speaker also feels that there is as much adventure in the world now as there was when America began.

Choosing a passage from the Bible of the Good Samaritan, Rev. Moss derived three classes of people from the happening. "First of all, there are the wounded. These people are influenced by attitudes, actions, and the way others act. The other two types are the healer and the wounder."

To conclude, the guest left a quote that he had always cherished. "I am stuck like dough, with a thing called hope, and I can't get it out of my mind."

This assembly started the Thanksgiving holidays, which lasted from Thursday, November 28 through Sunday, December 1.

Well, Grimsley people, we have something to be proud of besides our football team, and that is the new Marine Corps ROTC Program. To some people, this ROTC program is unimportant but look at it this way. Our rifle team and drill team will be in competition on a national basis, and will bring honor and recognition to our school.

The ROTC cadets are under the command of Colonel Booker. Colonel Booker has been in the Corps 26 years. He graduated from college and went into the Corps as a second lieutenant in July of 1942. He became a fighter pilot, and went overseas in November of 1943. He saw action in Boganville, Russes, Rabaul, and the Southwest Pacific.

While Cd. Booker was on a world cruise and diplomatic mission for the United States, the Korean War broke out. He was in Hong Kong at the time which was in July of 1950. Two weeks later, he was shot down over Korea. He spent three years in a prison camp and was released in early September of 1953.

Colonel Booker had been teaching young officers at Quantico Marine Base before he came to Grimsley. He enjoys working with young men and hopes the ROTC class will grow in the years to come.

To clear up a few wild rumors that have been going around, Colonel Booker said, "This is not a recruiting station." The Marine recruiting station in downtown Greensboro will not accept any boy in the Marine ROTC unless he has written permission from Colonel Booker. The Colonel urges the cadets to go to college.

Mater Sargeant Zales, the very able assistant instructor, was also with the Marine Air in World War Two. He saw action in Guadacanal, the Philippines, Green Island, and Okinawa. He also saw land action in Korea beginning in 1952.

He was a drill instructor at the Marine Training Base at Paris Island for one year; top drill instructor for three years and Operations Chief of Regiment Training for two years.

"Sargeant Zales came to Grimsley to work with the youth. He is involved in several youth organizations, and enjoys his work. It's easy to see that the cadets are in capable hands, but just what is this program about and what is it trying to accomplish?"

The first point is "To develop an appreciation of the Marine Corps in its role as the Nation's force in readiness within the national defense structure." Also this program is designed to "Develop habits of orderliness, and respect for constituted authority, patriotism, military skills, and a knowledge of and appreciation for the tradition of the United States Marine Corps."

Students of GHS, in the coming weeks, our school campus will be filled with the uniform of the Marine Corps. You can be proud of these boys because they are proud of the uniform they wear, and in the future it will be said of the Grimsley ROTC cadets, time and time again, "Congratulations on a job well done."

(The quotes in the above news story were taken from the Marine Corps Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps Standing Operations Procedures (MCJROTC SOP) Divisions of Reserve Files MCO P1533.6)

Orphans To Have Christmas

Some 250 Vietnamese orphans will have a Christmas with dolls and stuffed toys thanks to the leadership of one girl here at GHS—Margaret Shelton.

Margaret, a member of the GHS O. Henry Junior Woman's Club and president of the state's sub-junior women's clubs, was in charge of the project.

Members of 27 state-wide clubs collected the 250 dolls. They were sent to Margaret for packing and she shipped them on to Charlotte where they were stored to wait for a flight to South Vietnam.

The orphanage was built by American servicemen in South Vietnam. It was built for forty children and 450 showed up to live there when it opened. The orphans ranging in age from 1 to 14, needed everything: food, clothing, bedding and toys. The soldiers sent out a plea for help.

Helping Margaret with the collecting were other state officers, most of whom are from Greensboro. Carolyn Kornegay, a member of the Grimsley Sub-Juniors is vice-president; Donna Pavlik, a member of the Page High School Seniors is historian; and Craig Broadhurst of the Page O. Henry Juniors is chaplain.

The project is the first state-wide undertaking of the sub-juniors and Margaret hopes it is not the last.

Thanks Given To Maids And Janitors

Thanksgiving; a time to give thanks. This is the assumed meaning of this American holiday, but each year a new facet of the student's definition of this day is seen. Not only did our students give thanks to God for his many blessings but they gave of themselves to others, a real Thanksgiving.

Wednesday morning in the home rooms, money was collected for the annual gifts of food to the janitors and maids. By giving up the amount of money spent on a pack of cigarettes or a couple of candy bars, the students were able to show their appreciation for a year of faithful service to our school.

Approximately $190.00 was collected to buy the ingredients for potentially delicious Thanksgiving dinners. Seventh period, the presentation was made in the main hall. Mr. Routh, the maids and janitors Tye Hunter; who took charge of the presentation, Jim Walters, president of the student body and other associated students Tye expressed thanks on the part of the student body and presented the baskets of the food to the maids and janitors, who were obviously pleased with the gifts. Then it was over and every one returned to their places, and another chapter in the generosity of students at Grimsley ended.

Typewriter Covers Given To Teacher

Last week in the assembly, 32 typewriter covers were presented to Miss Ann Moore, a typing teacher.

These covers are to be used in her classroom. Navy blue, a white block "G" is printed on the front.

The material was donated by Mr. Frank Starling, Sr. of Cone Mills, Inc. Sewing was done by 16 girls on the School Beautiful Projects Committee. Jean Garven, Chairman of Special Projects, made the presentation.