HIGH LIFE Staff Selected For Next Year

The 1970-71 HIGH LIFE staff has been chosen. The following students signed up to be on the school paper, holding these positions: Editor-in-Chief, Fred Thompson; Associate Editor, Jeff Fenn; Business Supervisors, Fred Thompson, Ken Cox, Steve Settle; News Editors, Helen Ross and Andy Kennedy; News Staff, Ron Cashwell, Steve Settle, and Stephanie Burk; Editorial Staff, David Breeze, Jane Hoffman, and Vickie Topkins; Feature Editor, Doug Gary; Feature Staff, Linda Enos, Ken Cox, Laura Linder, and Barbra Morton; Sports Editor, Scott Welborn; Sports Staff, Butch Allgood; Cartoonists, Jeff Fenn, Scott Cato, Doug Gary, Diane Dixon, and Peggy Melton; Photographer, Craig Fox; Exchange Editor, Pam Henderson; Others, Linda Evans, Winthrop Watson, John Paret, Pete Smith, Paula High, Brian Shaw, and Robert Hodson.

stories, and incidents from the news.

The last page of the paper is the sports page. This page will report on the sports events that Grimsley has participated in. Scores on games and who made what point are written about. There is also usually a write up on the Whirlie for the Week on this page.

HIGH LIFE is a self-supporting school newspaper printed mainly to reflect student ideas, school problems, school news, or any news relevant to the students, and to entertain. The three aims of the new HIGH LIFE staff will be to "inform" their readers through news columns, advertisements, feature columns, pictures, and cartoons. They will "interpret" the news for their readers through editorials, cartoons, and letters. The third aim is to "entertain" their readers through features, pictures, cartoons, and signed columns.

The editor-in-chief of the paper is responsible for carrying out the editorial policies of the paper. The associate editor's job is to help the editor-in-chief. They both will share the responsibility of getting an interesting and newsworthy paper published.

The reporters for the paper serve on the news staff. Their job is to record events accurately and clearly in an interesting style. They will write about the activities of the school such as concerts, dances, youth council events, and many other school activities.

The editorial staff will be writing editorials on various topics. The editorial staff will not be limited to topics just concerning school but may express their opinion on world issues, etc. Also on the editorial page will be an "interesting" or "amusing" cartoon. "Letters to the Editor", written by students not on HIGH LIFE staff also appear on the editorial page.

The feature staff will from time to time have interviews with students at Grimsley who have done unusual and interesting activities. Also on the feature page might be opinion polls, human interest

Schedule For Senior Programs Announced

With the seniors' exams exempted, a series of assemblies and learning experience programs will be conducted for the seniors.

The schedule is Monday, June 1, 6th period, 1:45-3:15, assembly program No. 1; Tuesday, June 2, 1st period, 8:45-10:15, assembly program No. 2; 2nd period, 10:30-12:00, Learning Experience Session No. 1; Wednesday, June 3, 3rd period, 8:45-10:15, Learning Experience Session No. 2; 4th or 5th period, 10:30-12:00, assembly program No. 3; Thursday, June 4, 7th period, seniors report to the boys' gym from 1:00-2:30 for graduation rehearsal.

Doctor House approved this plan a few weeks ago at a school board meeting. The plan was initiated by Freddy Robinson of the Greensboro Youth Council in February. It has been approved by all four high schools.

GYC Elects New Junior And Senior Members For Next Year

The Greensboro Youth Council announced the results of its elections, Wednesday, May 5.

The balloting had taken place on the day before, but it was not announced because three home-rooms did not vote on Tuesday. They voted Wednesday in home-room and results were announced during third period.

The representation is divided on a graduating bases and by sex. There are eight senior boys and eight senior girls. The junior class is divided into six boys and six girls.

The senior girls are: Susan

Bass, Suzanne Brisendine, Stephanie Burk, Debbie Busch, Cynda Crawford, Jane Cumbie, Hollie Holland, Tanya McRee. The eight boys elected are John Bain, Craig Fox, Mike Friarson, David Gaynor, Bill McKennon, Larry Newlin, Miles Thompson, and David Porter.

In the junior class Janie Clark, Sandra Crawford, Andi Davis, Linda Stoudt, Carolyn Tyer, and Bootsie Walker are the girl representatives. The boys will be Fleming Bell, Hank Bullard, John Cocklereece, Tom Kritzer, Jud McKinnon, and Brian Shaw.

This does not mean that other people will not have a chance to serve on or with council. A change in the by-laws of GYC takes the chairman and executive vice-chairman out of their districts. They can then be replaced by people of the same class and sex who trailed in the voting. Also six Youth Council of North Carolina members will be elected from GYC. They become ex-officers and are replaced in the same manner as the chairman and executive vice-chairman. The replacements are made by a district caucus which selects a new councilman when a vacancy appears.

The first meeting of the year was held May 7. The purpose of this meeting was to nominate people for the executive offices and YCNC. The executive offices include Chairman, Executive Vice-Chairman, Problems vice-chairman, Projects vice-chairman and Communications vice-chairman, the district coordinators, the secretary and the clerk.

On May 11 elections were held for these offices. The new officers will not take over until May 21 at the GYC Banquet.

The committees will be selected in a different manner this year. All committees are divisible by four. Equal representation from all the high schools can then be obtained. The councilmen will be given an explanation of the committees and then a chance to put their name up for one. The district coordinators will then select the committee members. The committee will then caucus and select its chairman. The council will then go into its period of summer recess.

Seniors Vote To Replace Class Day With Awards Day

Seniors voted Wednesday, April 29th to replace the Class Day assembly with Awards Day assembly on May 29th. Seniors will file into assembly in their caps and gowns. They will have the afternoon off to attend a swimming party at Lindley pool.

Class Day was called off because of the very poor condition of the electrical equipment backstage. In addition, space backstage is limited because of the addition of two new dressing rooms. With the large number of people associated with Class Day crowding into the small backstage area, someone could possibly brush against a piece of wiring and cause a short in the electrical system which, in turn, could cause a fire. Starr Electric Company is in the process of repairing the equipment, but it is impossible for them to be finished by May 29th.

Concerts and plays can be given now because they do not involve as many people backstage as Class Day does.

Graduation will be held in the stadium, weather permitting, June 4th at 8:00. In case of rain, it will be held that same day in the boys' gym.

After the seniors march in, an invocation will be given. Next, the valedictorian will be announced and several awards presented. Then will come the address.

Diplomas will be given out by Mr. Glen after the address. A benediction will close the graduation exercise. Also included in the program are performances by both choir and orchestra.
