

HIGH LIFE

Second Walk For Development Slated For St. Patrick's Day

By Debbie Zauber

On a rainy day last year, 830 people walked for Greensboro's first Walk for Development. Their ages ranged from 5 to eighty-four. The total money collected was $15,732.92.

Though proud of the success of the walk last year, despite the bad weather, the planners of this year's walk are hoping for a sunny day.

Walks are organized on a national level by the American Freedom From Hunger Foundation, a non-profit, non-governmental foundation, and Young World Development, the youth branch of the foundation.

The Foundation was initiated by President Kennedy in 1961 for the purpose of enlisting the private citizen in the fight against hunger and malnutrition in the world today. Walks are planned completely by the local Walk Committees.

Forty-two and a half percent of all the money goes to two domestic projects: (1) YMCA Tutorial Center, where second and third grade children from a local elementary school participate in the activities from 2:00-5:00 p.m. every school day. The program's goals are to provide additional help with school work through tutoring and skill drives as well as to make available to underprivileged inner-city children outside learning experiences by way of movies, music, arts, crafts, and field trips. The children swim once a week and have a snack every day.

(2) Economic Development Corporation, located in Eastern N.C. Reconstruction efforts for a day care center which was heavily damaged by fire will be aided by the walk. Also, another very successful health education facility operated by the corporation is in need of funds in order to maintain its high level of work in subjects ranging from birth control to sickle cell anemia.

Another 42.5% of all money is designated for use in international projects. This will be a hospital in Angola, Africa. Medical Assistance Services, an African-based health organization, is planning a hospital in a remote doctorless region of Angola.

Such medical problems as malaria, polio, leprosy, and malnutrition will be combatted by the facility. The hospital will include a surgeon, a laboratory technician, one pharmacist, five nurses, and one administrator. Its functions will include simple operations, treatment, confinement, as well as offering nurse training courses.

The remaining 15% of WALK money collected will be sent to the American Freedom From Hunger Foundation for educational programs both on the community and national levels.

The two purposes of the walk are to raise money and to create an awareness of poverty and hunger throughout the world.

This year, on March 17, a 25-mile route has been selected which passes through various types of neighborhoods. The route will be well-marked and cars will be available to pick up walkers who can't complete the route.

News Briefs

Judging of the Greensboro Women's Club senior high school art contest was February 20th, 1973. First place was a collage by Jayne Blinkhorn from GHS. Third place winner was another Grimsley student, Leslie Salls, who entered a pencil drawing.

Grimsley is beginning a re-evaluation program for the Southern Association of Secondary Schools.

WHIRLIGIG went to press in February and copy is now being proofed. It will be ready in mid May. Yum! Yum! Get it!

Registration is being done in the homerooms now. If there are any questions, one should call 274-4073, the WALK office. People interested in helping but not walking should call also. Work at check points, driving, and other duties is available.

Every walker must have a card and at least one sponsor. Anyone can be a sponsor. All money is tax deductible. A lot of big businesses around town have said they would be glad to sponsor employees, or family of employees.

Payment should be made by check to provide a receipt for the sponsor. Checks should be made to Greensboro Walk for Development/AFFHF.

Employees Treat Bosses: ICT, VICA Sponsor Dinner

Industrial Cooperative Training Classes at Grimsley, February 15 took their bosses out to dinner. The dinner, sponsored by the ICT department and VICA, was an Employer's Appreciation Night held at The Ramada Inn. Over 60 students, employers, and guests attended the steak dinner. This event was the ICT students' way of saying "Thanks" to their employers for their help during the year.

Speaker for the evening was Mr. William D. Bryant, new director of occupational education for the Greensboro Public Schools. The entertainment was presented by Jay Weatherman who did impersonations for the group. Grimsley ICT students who took part in the program were Jimmy Brinsfield, Laura Fry, and Kim Freeman.

The employers present were representatives of twenty-five of Greensboro's business, professional, and industrial concerns. Students in the ICT program are training in the afternoons in skilled, technical, industrial, and service careers.

Principal Glenn Named ABWA Boss Of The Year

"I knew he was the best boss, but I was sincerely surprised and pleased when he got the award." These were the words of Miss Mozelle Causey concerning Mr. Lodie Glenn's receiving "Boss of the Year Award," Thursday, Feb. 22, at Forest Oaks Country Club.

Miss Causey, a member of the local chapter of the American Business Women's Association in Greensboro which sponsored the award, is a speech and drama teacher at GHS. Every member of the ABWA chapter had the opportunity to nominate her boss for the award.

Junior Achievement Mini-Corporation Is Maxi-Success

Little did six sophomores know about business when they signed up last fall during an assembly for JA.

Stephanie Benson, Beth Burick, Belinda Polk, Brad Cherson, Robin Haislip, and Jerry Swartzburg have come a long way since being placed on a mini-corporation sponsored by Dow Corning.

Sil-Do-Co, as it later was christened, meets every Wednesday night for approximately two and a half hours. It is run by President Benson, assisted by three advisors from Dow Corning.

Belinda Polk is Vice-President of Manufacturing and Brad Cherson is Vice-President of Sales.

Sil-Do-Co stands for Silly Doll Company. Says Stephanie, "We have 18 members who really put forth a fantastic effort. We make 'Iggy's,' a stuffed doll we sell for $2.50. If you're interested, call me at 299-3762."

The group has participated in the four-day convention in Charlotte during Christmas and will go to the Roundtree Conference in Charleston, S.C., in March.

On Feb. 7, these six students toured their sponsor, Dow Corning.

The GAP radio show will introduce a new project—a new music show directed toward the black radio audience in Greensboro. The format will be very similar to the GAP show in that in-depth music surveys of con-

Complete surprise was the reaction that Mr. Glenn recalled to HIGH LIFE. His name was engraved on a plaque which was presented to him at the banquet.

Projects, Programs: GYC Finishes Busy 72-73 Winter Session

Busy is the word to describe the winter session of the Greensboro Youth Council. The session has featured the special projects High I.Q. Bowl, the winter concert featuring Cornelius Brothers and Sister Rose, and the annual Teen-Age Talent Show. Also on the agenda were the Greensboro Youth Conference, Junior City Council, and a Cougar Banner Day along with the continuing projects of "Mainpoint '72" and "GAP" radio show.

February 10 was the date of a decisive round-robin tournament of the High I.Q. Bowl; and out of the 33 competing high schools, eight remain for the double-elimination tournament. The schools are: Durham, Grimsley, Jordan, Page, Parkland, Reynolds, Western Guilford, and Burlington Williams. The rounds will be televised Sundays at 5:00 p.m. on Channel 2.

The Cornelius Brothers and Sister Rose played February 25 at Aycock Auditorium. Backing-up this nationally famed group was the band, "Phoenix."

The upcoming annual Teen-Age Talent Show will feature instrumental, vocal, dance, and dramatic acts along with art and photography competition display. New this year is the fashion competition. Performing auditions were held in February and the art, photography, and fashion auditions in early March. The finalists will be featured in the show 8:00 March 17 at the War Memorial Auditorium, and $1,000 in prizes will be awarded.

The format will be very similar to the GAP show in that in-depth music surveys of con-

Continued on Page Eight

Continued on Page Eight

