

Debate Team Wins Tournament

Grimsley's Debate Team won a city-wide tournament at Dudley with a 5-1 record on February 15.

The topic reviewed was as follows: "Resolved: That the method of reelecting Presidential and Vice-Presidential candidates be altered."

Students from Grimsley, Dudley, and Page participated

High I.Q.'ers Enter Final Competition

The 1975 Grimsley High I.Q. team, like its predecessors, advanced into the final bracket of eight teams. The team accomplished this on Saturday, February 8, a day labeled as "Super Saturday." On that day forty teams from across North Carolina were divided into eight groups of five, with the best teams in each section advancing to the TV round. Besides Grimsley, other advancing teams were Sanford, Central Davidson, North Davidson, Ragsdale, East Davidson, Lexington, Burlington Williams, and Durham Jordan.

The Grimsley team of Chuck Alston, Dwight Ferguson, Ronnie Gaynor, Jack Llewlyn, and Greg Hall (captain) were declared the winners of their groups but not without some controversy. Grimsley was playing Page and Ronnie Gaynor answered a question correctly. However, the moderator said that his answer was wrong and gave Page an opportunity to answer. After a formal challenge lasting more than fifteen minutes, the decision was reversed with neither team being awarded points.

Grimsley lost this game. There was a three-way tie in this section, between Grimsley, High Point Central, and Page. Grimsley won the section competition on the basis of total number of points scored.

The team will appear in a match on Channel 2 against Lexington on March 6, at 7:30 p.m. The matches are being sponsored this year by the North Carolina National Bank and Greensboro Youth Council.

Each member of the winning team in the entire competition will be awarded a $200 scholarship to the college of his choice.

in the event, which was judged by students from UNC-G's debate team.

Several individual awards were given, two of which went to Grimsley students. Jo Anne Bradner won overall honors with first place for individual excellence, and Stuart Pirrung took third place. Other members of the team are Steve Jacobson and Joe Heard.

The students on the team were selected from the Drama Department by Mr. Parrish.

His choices were based upon merit, the amount of work done in research, and the students' debating ability.

The debate team, the first at Grimsley since 1968, started working only three weeks before the tournament, while the other high schools had been working since October.

The debaters are planning to have a scrimmage match with Smith High School on March 12, and a city championship tournament is set for May 3 at Dudley.

Grimsley's Debators show organization.

Jo Anne Bradner

Three Win Scholastic Art Awards

Four hundred and forty-four pieces of art from the region won Gold Key and certificate of merit honors in the 1975 Scholastic Art Awards, sponsored by Scholastic Magazine and WFMY.

Grimsley's Cindy Conti and Mary Lithgo received certificate of merit honors with Mary winning three of these. Vicky Berry won a Gold Key Award. Her "Imagination" is now on its way to New York for national judging.

Junior and senior high school art teachers selected outstanding pieces from the students' classroom work. A panel of six qualified judges selected 120 Gold Key pieces, which were displayed in Weatherspoon Art Gallery, and 344 pieces received certificate of merit status.

Dr. Jo Leeds, assistant professor of art, UNC-G, commented that as a judge she looked for "skill in handling the media, originality, meaningfulness, and authenticity."

Three High I.Q.'ers practice.

HIGH LIFE

Volume XLIX, No. VIII

Grimsley High School Greensboro, N.C. 27408

March 7, 1975

GCS Reveals New Look

The Grimsley Communications System has undergone changes which are planned to provide a better outlook for future discussions.

The changes provide for more organization, with longer and more frequent meetings. Ten minutes have been added to each discussion community meeting. The communities are now meeting every eight days, with the hubs and the student-faculty groups meeting every eight days also in order to provide more input for each community meeting.

Each hub, both faculty and student, meets at 3:40 p.m. on the required dates. The student teams meet every eight days at a designated period in the cafeteria. Faculty teams meet during their planning period, while faculty-student leaders meet during homeroom on specified dates.

Today's meeting will cover two main topics. The 10-year accreditation by the Southern Association of Secondary Schools will be discussed and explained in the communication groups for those students unaware of the process. The main topic will evolve around Grimsley's curriculum: Should change occur and/or what changes should be made?

Suggestions that have been turned in to the Clearinghouse Committee have been taken into consideration by the administration. The covered walkways are to be rebuilt of steel and concrete. Mr. Glenn is checking into the possibility of Advanced Placement exams counting among those required number one must take. A curriculum committee is in the process of studying the current high school curriculum. This committee is comprised of members of the School Board, high school students, and teachers. Also, there is a possibility of obtaining a parking lot sweeper when it becomes surplus material.

News Briefs

The Wesley Long Hospital Auxiliary is offering scholarships for seniors interested in pursuing a career in nursing or allied medical fields. Interested students should stop by the Guidance Center for further information.

Congratulations to John Grzeszczak for being honored in the February 10 issue of SPORTS ILLUSTRATED for his swimming achievements.

Congratulations to Mrs. Gayle Lackey who gave birth to a baby boy on February 16. Miss Leonard has replaced Mrs. Lackey in the History Department.

Talent Show, Carnival Head GYC Project

The Greensboro Youth Council is now preparing for two major events -- the Teenage Talent Show and the Teenage Carnival.

The Teenage Talent Show, sponsored by the Knights of Columbus and GYC, is scheduled this year for March 22. The chairman of the project is Lesley Stephenson, a senior at Page.

Auditions for the vocal, instrumental, variety and dance were held February 22-23 at First Presbyterian Church. There were 58 people to try out in these different fields.

Auditions for fashion and photography will be held March 7 and 8 also at First Presbyterian Church from 9:00-2:00. Between five and 10 people in each category will compete in the show for cash prizes. The Talent Show is being held at the Coliseum War Memorial Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Preparations for the Greensboro Youth Council's Teenage Carnival are well underway. The chairman of this project is Bobby Wainer and co-chairman is Steve Abee. The Carnival is being held in the Coliseum parking lot from April 23-27. Approximately 100 booths will be exhibited, sponsored by the different service clubs interested in the city. Almost 200 T-shirts have been purchased in a variety of colors to be printed and sold in the souvenir booth. There will also be several amusements including rides, pie-throwing contests, basketball contests, and others.

Your President Works For You

In each homeroom a person is chosen as homeroom president. His job is to report to his respective homeroom about the happenings of the student government and to act as spokesman for ideas voiced by his homeroom. Here is a list of the homeroom presidents in order of classes.

The senior homeroom presidents are Kurt Kronenfeld, 622; Kathy Cole, 865;

Mike Rhyne, 863; Beverly Vaughan, 621; Jo Ann Tennyson, 305; Margaret Oakley, 406; Liz Dowdy, 209; Alice Browder, 300; Greg Long, 405; Steve Abee, 521; Connie Floyd, 623; Melanie Meacham, 311; Carol Pearce, 304; Brooks Grantham, 202; Nathan Sikes, 520; Cheryl Hood, 317; Shawn Wilson, 302; Patsy Healy, 200, and Bobby Dukes, 800.

Cont. on Page 8