

Playmasters Present 'Once Upon a Mattress'

The musical comedy, "Once Upon a Mattress," is being presented by the Playmasters at 8:00 p.m. November 20-23 in the Grimsley Auditorium.

"Once Upon a Mattress," an updated version of "The Princess and the Pea," is a spoof on the medieval times and fairy tales.

Mr. Parrish, Director of the Drama Department, says that the play is the most technically advanced the Playmasters have ever done.

Much of the fantasy-like scenery for the play is flown, providing quick set changes. Medieval costumes and magic add to the tone of the play.

Mr. Parrish promises that the play is hilarious, full of good mature humor. He says that the musicals are meaningful and the characters are fully developed.

Main actors in the play include the following: Greg Brownstein, King Sextimus the Silent; Jo Anne Bradner, Queen Agravian; Marc McCracken, Prince Dauntless; Casey Spain, Princess Winnifred; Debi Hawkins, Lady Larken; Stuart Pirrung, Sir Harry; David Wilson, Wizard;

Russ White, Minstrel; and Jeff Darnell, Jester. About 50 others are involved in the play.

Miss Judy Hall is the Director of Costuming and Miss Karen Rose is Music Director and choreographer.

The play was written by Jay Thompson, Marshall Barer, and Dean Fuller. Lyrics were written by Marshall Barer and the music was composed by Mary Rodgers.

Admission is $1.50 for students and $2.50 for adults.

PUPPETEERS

Grimsley Puppeteers, the new addition to Grimsley's Theater Workshop Class, has made its first public appearance at the Town Hall Auditorium in the Coliseum Complex on Saturday, Nov. 1, for Festival Five, an art exhibition.

Under the direction of Bonny Hall, a senior at Grimsley, and with Mr. Parrish acting as advisor, the Puppeteers put on four bicentennial scenes. Such events as George Washington's chopping down the cherry tree, the midnight ride of Paul Revere, and the Boston Tea Party were among their line-up.

The case included senior Bryant Cockrum; juniors Kathy Ulazlo, Teresa Hawkins, Lisa Morrison, Laura Lomax, and Warren Crow; and sophomores Rona Marco and Eric Lowell.

Charlie Byrd, Famous Guitarist, Performs at GHS

Charlie Byrd, world famous jazz and classical guitarist, conducted a small music clinic for members of Grimsley's music programs on November 7.

Born in Chuckatuck, Virginia, he originally wanted to be a baseball player. However, his interest changed when he studied classical guitar under Andrew Segovia during World War II. He travelled with the GI Orchestra.

Now Charlie Byrd does not travel alone. He has with him two other musicians--his brother Joe on bass and Bill Rickenback on drums.

Much of his trio's material could be classified as the "big band sound" according to him. He added, "If you've played the guitar for 50 years, you've probably spent 45 years tuning it."

After the trio had finished, several members of various bands and musicians joined in a jam session.

Charlie Byrd has been the subject of two television productions and has been on such shows as "Today" and "Tonight."

Songs played at the clinic included "You've Got a Friend" and many samba tunes.

New Quill and Scroll inductees [l-r]: Anita Waters, Mark Puterbaugh, Krista Lassiter, Debbie Stewart, Roy Gallinger.

Quill and Scroll Inducts Six New Members

Six students were inducted into Quill and Scroll, the International Honor Society for High School Journalists yesterday, November 20, at 4:00 p.m. in the Grimsley Media Center.

Students from HIGH LIFE inducted were Anita Waters, Mark Puterbaugh, and Deborah Stewart. From WHIRLIGIG came Krista Lassiter, Roy Gallinger, and Peter Neefus.

In order to be a member of Quill and Scroll, a student must be either a junior or senior; be highly recommended by his advisor, a committee of teachers, and the Publications' Board, which includes Mrs. Enis, Mrs. Rhodes, Mrs. Moody, and Mr. Ballance; have shown enthusiasm and superior work for his school publication; be in the upper third of his respective class scholastically; and have been an active member of his publication staff for at least one full semester prior to his selection.

Other services provided by Quill and Scroll for any students interested are the National Writing Contests, critical rating services for both publications, and the Current Events' Quiz, which are all offered in the early spring nationwide.

Attendance Policy Topic for Action Board Meeting

The Student-School Board Action Group met Monday, November 10, to discuss topics submitted by the four Greensboro high schools.

Representing the administration were Mr. Wiseman, the Director of Student Affairs; Dr. House, Superintendent for the Greensboro City Schools; Mr. Swann, the Assistant Superintendent for Pupil Personnel Services; Mr. Clendenin, Principal of Page High School; and Mr. Baynes, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Education. The remaining two representatives of the School Board did not attend the meeting.

Grimsley's representatives asked for an examination of the current attendance policy for possible revisions in order to make it more liberal. Other topics discussed included Dudley's request to have a leak in the English building and a sidewalk awning repaired, the possibility of making boys' volleyball a city-wide sport, and Page's questions concerning their spring elections. (The meeting was adjourned before Smith's representatives could submit their topics for review.)

GYC Sponsors Christmas Projects

The Greensboro Youth Council has planned many projects to collect money and other items for the needy to combat diseases during the month of December.

Among the many projects are Christmas Toys' Drive, Chris Evergreen, and the Miss Christmas Seal Contest.

Chairperson for the Christmas Toys' Drive is Caroline Johnson. With the cooperation of Home Federal Savings and Loan, the committee will be stationing collection boxes starting November 17 until Christmas throughout the city's eight Home Federal locations.

The toys will be collected by members of the City Parks and Recreation Department and will be repaired by volunteers.

Although many of the service clubs will be involved in this project, many more volunteers are needed. Interested persons are asked to contact Caroline Johnson at Grimsley or at home (299-5281) or to call the GYC office any weekday afternoon (373-2171 or 373-2173).

Chairperson for the Miss Christmas Seal project is Faith Grantham. Money collected will go to the Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association.

Mrs. Kathron Glenn Griffin proudly reveals portrait of her father, Mr. R.L. Glenn. The portrait was a gift from the Senior Class of 1975 to the school in honor of Mr. Glenn's service. He became principal of our school in the fall of 1969.

News Briefs

HIGH LIFE was awarded a Second Class Rating for its spring issues of 1975 by the National Scholastic Press Association. The paper earned 3110 points, missing First Class by only 90 points.

Congratulations to Andrea Neese for being named second runner-up in the Greensboro Junior Miss Pageant, held November 8 at Greensboro College.

SAT's will be administered January 24. Registration deadline is December 19, while late registration deadline is January 2.

Congratulations to those seniors elected as new members of the National Honor Society. The induction will be held Tuesday, November 25, at 7:30 p.m. in the Grimsley Media Center.

On the UNC-G campus the Bicentennial Youth Debates were held November 15. Competing schools came from Greensboro, High Point, and Guilford County. Representing Grimsley were Bashar Rizk, Ann Moebes, and Eric Wilson. Bashar was the debater, speaking for or against the topic, "Extremism in the Defense of Liberty is No Voice."

Ann Moebes spoke under the persuasive category--"The Press: Reporter or Maker of History." Finally, Eric Wilson spoke under the extemporaneous division: "Equal Protection Under the Law." Bashar Rizk and Eric Wilson were winners and will represent their district in Claremont.
