

Spring Elections Yield New Council

Elections of the ten students who will comprise the junior and senior portions of the 1976-77 Executive Council were May 6 1976.

Tom Essa, John Hepler, Caroline Johnson, Chiquila Lewis, and Linda Simon were chosen to represent the senior class. Ruth Katzenstein, April McNeil, Amanda Stephens, Kendall Suh, and Beverly Waddell were elected as junior class representatives.

These people will be able to assume office when the next school year convenes in August. They will then fulfill Executive Council duties and responsibilities while preparing for and awaiting sophomore elections. Sophomore elections will probably be held in October.

Prospective council members were given eight days to campaign before election day. An assembly for rising juniors and another for rising seniors provided the candidates with a chance to give campaign speeches. Throughout the campaign, the Election Committee served as an overseeing body, making sure that all rules were followed by each candidate. An infraction of the campaign rules would have resulted in the disqualification of the candidate.

Campaigning was to climax with the voting on Wednesday, May 5. As a result in the delay of the arrival of the voting machines, voting was postponed one day. On election day, Thursday, May 6, volunteering mothers of students worked in shifts for the entire day. They registered voters and manned the voting machines.

Tom Essa, John Hepler, Caroline Johnson, April McNeil, Linda Simon, Amanda Stephens, and Beverly Waddell were re-elected after serving previous terms on the Executive Council. Only three newcomers were voted into office. They were: Ruth Katzenstein, Kendall Suh, and Chiquila Lewis.

The following people campaigned for office in the senior class: Andy Bowles, Tom Essa, Joe Freeman, John Hepler, Caroline Johnson, Chiquila Lewis, Emmy Neese, Nancy Porter, Linda Simon, and Nancy Stephens.

Eleven people ran for office in the junior class. They were: Richelle Bradley, Ruth Katzenstein, April McNeil, Tammy Murrelle, Ginger Rollins, Dana Simel, Eleanor Smith, Amanda Stephens, Kendall Suh, Tom Tarduagno, and Beverly Waddell.

Elections bring posters of many varieties.

Senior Activities Begin

The month of May signals the start of senior activities, and in all, four major activities are planned for this month and June.

Senior Awards Day (Class Day) will take place on May 28th. Two types of awards will be presented.

First, those who have received some type of scholarship will be recognized. Secondly school departmental awards will be presented. Examples include such awards as the physics award, the analysis award, business education, and occupation awards.

'Mighty Majors' To Perform At GHS Prom

The Junior-Senior Prom, the highlight on the Grimsley social calendar, will take place tomorrow night, May 22. The Prom will begin at 8:00 and run until 12:00. The tickets for the gathering went on sale May 10 at $6.00 per couple.

The Prom will be held in the boy's gym, as usual, with the theme of this year's prom being "Love will keep us together." The colors will be a light pastel of blue, green and yellow.

"The Mighty Majors" will be the band providing the entertainment at this year's extravaganza. The Band has played at Grimsley previously. Prom Committee Chairman, Tom Essa, calls the Mighty Majors' "the best band to play at Grimsley in years."

Members of this year's Prom Committee other than Essa are as follows: Aubrie Gail, Linda Simon, Sandra Neal, Lisa Hansen, Vincent Martin, Gina Midgett, Walter Donnel, John Allgood, Bobbi Smith, Ashok Chopra, Annette Gibbs, Karen Carpenter, Cheeta Cherry, Candy Clapp, Robert Sharp, Kathy Cox, Tizi Johnson, Dwight Lyles, Hollyjean Coward, Ginny Murphy and Broughton Clapp.

Essa also noted that he would "like to thank all the people who served on the Prom Committee. Without their efforts the prom would not have been possible."

The first event on the agenda is the Junior-Senior prom, which will be held on Saturday, May the 22nd. The prom will last from 8:00 p.m. until 12:00, and attire will be semi-formal. The music will be provided by the Mighty Majors, a group that played for the prom a few years back.

The next event scheduled for this month is the Senior Tea, which will be held on May 26. The Senior Tea is an annual event sponsored by the faculty. All seniors are invited to come and talk to their teachers in an informal setting. The Tea will be held in the Alumnae House at UNC-G from 5 o'clock until 6 o'clock.

The most important of all these events, graduation, will be held in the Grimsley gymnasium on Wednesday, June 2nd at 8 o'clock. Over 500 seniors will be presented their diplomas with a projected crowd of 2500 looking on. The featured speaker for this evening will be the Reverend David Stith, the Youth Minister at Christ Methodist Church. The invocation will be delivered by Rabbi Arnold Task and the Reverend J.J. Hauser will deliver the benediction. The diplomas will be awarded by Mr. Mel Swann, the Assistant Superintendent for Pupil Personnel for the Greensboro City Schools.

A required rehearsal for all seniors will be held at 1 o'clock on graduation day. All fees must be paid before a student is permitted to graduate.

High IQ Team Places Second in Bowl

Grimsley's High IQ team, whose members are Susan Hauser (captain), Bryan Fields, Phil Kaldon, Steve Miller, and Bobby Wiggins, finished second in the 1976 High IQ Bowl and won a total of $500 in scholarships.

GHS placed third in the qualifying rounds at UNC-G in February, which narrowed 39 competing teams to the eight that went on to TV competition. On March 17, they defeated sixth-ranked Asheboro, 196-45, and went on to win a match against second-ranked Winston-Salem's Reynolds by 43 points on April 7th.

The team was defeated 140-117 in the final game with top-ranked Page High School on April 14th. Mr. Whisenant, Grimsley's team coach, described the close match as "neck to neck". The winner was not determined until the last two tossup questions. Both teams were in the crucial tossups, but Page won the bonus point.

Mr. Whisenant comments that this year's team developed quickness, was well-balanced in all subject areas, and with a little luck, could have been the champions. He adds, "I want to thank the juniors and seniors who volunteered to practice against the team. Several of the seniors gave us the strongest opposition we met in practice games, and the juniors looked extremely promising for next year."

The High IQ Bowl, an annual event for the past ten years, is coordinated by GYC. The games are sponsored by NCNB, who pays for TV air time and provides scholarships for winning and runner-up teams.

News Briefs

Four Grimsley students have won "The Company of the Year" award which is presented by Junior Achievement. The students were Garnet Work, Susan Long, Rich Schneiderman, and Georgia Watson. Their company was Colonial Products.

Two Grimsley girls have made national history as both have been admitted to formerly all male military academies. Susan Carter will attend the United States Coast Guard Academy in Connecticut. Shelly Ashworth will attend the United States Military Academy in West Point. Congratulations to both these girls.

Mr. Glenn Sums Up Good Year

"A real good year - in every area." So said Mr. Glenn when asked to give his impressions of the 1975-76 school year. Mr. Glenn went on to say that Grimsley enjoyed "very successful athletics" and that the scholastic achievements of the students has been outstanding.

Mr. Glenn viewed the successful continuation of the Communications system as one of the major accomplishments of this year. He said he was very pleased to notice the improved communication between the students.

Another achievement Mr. Glenn is proud of is the appointment of Susan Carter to the United States Coast Guard Academy and Shelley Ashworth's appointment to the West Point Military Academy. He finds these two appointments indicative of the outstanding scholastic quality of the senior class.

Along with the excellent scholasticism of the class of 1976, Mr. Glenn viewed their display of leadership as the class' most valuable trait. "Everything a senior does" will help him in his down-to-earth planning for college or future employment, according to the principal.

Asked if he had any regrets about the past school year, Mr. Glenn said that he regretted that he had to spend so much time in meetings. He would have preferred to spend that time with the students.

While Mr. Glenn felt that the student body behaved very well all year, he felt that the most outstanding quality exhibited by the students was the significant increase of school spirit. School spirit, according to Mr. Glenn, generally covers the students' interest in curriculum, activities, sports, "and just Grimsley in general."

The HIGH LIFE Staff, on behalf of the student body would like to extend our sincere thanks to Mr. Glenn for his many years of service and guidance to Grimsley.
