Congratulations go out to Susan Rabold and Larry and David Schneiderman, High Life's Athletes of the Issue.

Rabold, a senior, is currently undefeated and untied in the eight straight spring board diving meets she has been in. She has steadily improved without the assistance of a coach from the beginning of her career which started in her sophomore year at Grimsley.

Her highest scoring performance of the season occurred in the swim meet against cross-town rival Page. Her score of 176 points on six dives gave Rabold her largest victory margin of the year.

Rabold's toughest win came against Winston-Salem Reynolds. "That was the most gratifying win of the season," she said. This was due to the fact that the Reynold's diving coach, Scott Lineberry, was also Rabold's coach during her second-place finish at the Junior Olympic Sectional Diving Meet which was held at Raleigh during the past summer.

Larry and David Schneiderman have only been in organized wrestling for three years, but the achievements they have reached have been tremendous. In high school the "gruesome twosome" have had eighty total wins against only eleven defeats for an 87 percentage of victories.

Currently David, a junior, has fifteen straight victories and no defeats, and a total of six pins, in his weight class of 115 pounds and under.

"I must work harder on my strength, conditioning, and quickness of moves if I'm to become state champion," he said at the end of his sophomore year after his disappointing loss in the first round of the state match.

This goal is very possible after his performances of this season which include the MVP award at the Greensboro Invitational match.

Larry on the other hand has proven to everyone to be a major threat in the quest for the state championship this year. After pinning twelve of his sixteen opponents and having a flawless record, he could well be the next state champion.

Wrestlers Look To State

By Brian Herndon

The Greensboro Grimsley wrestling team has gone one and one in the last two outings. They also had several wrestlers who finished strong in a recent tournament in Kannapolis.

The Whirlies suffered a thrashing 52-11 defeat to High Point Andrews, but bounced back to whip Winston-Salem Parkland 42-23. Winners against Parkland included Odell Nelson, Ken "The Killer" Sloan, David and Larry Schneiderman, and David Williams. In the Central 4-A Division 7 Tournament held in Kannapolis, David Schneiderman finished first in his weight class. Frank Stewart finished second; Larry Schneiderman, Van Alston, and Sharmon White finished third.

The Whirlies finished the regular season with a 7-5 record. The future looks excellent for Grimsley as several of the top wrestlers will be back next year.
