What animal represents you and your personality?

"I think I'm a koala because I'm very laid back and independent. I do what I have to in order to make it in life."
- Erica Richardson, sophomore

"The animal that explains me is a monkey because I like being funny, and I'm a lot of fun."
- Daijah Goodman, sophomore

"I am a Siberian White Tiger because there aren't many like me, and I stick out from the rest of the pack."
- Jesse Hoggard, senior

"The animal that represents my personality is a monkey. It is wild and crazy but also has characteristics like a human - it can be loving and encouraging and likes to talk a lot!"
- Caroline Thomas, freshman

"I would say a dolphin represents me and my personality. Dolphins are usually very energetic and playful. I think I am, too. I'm always running around playing sports or doing other things."
- Anne Prendergast, sophomore

"A koala. It's my favorite animal, and it's humble. I don't know much about them; it looks cute and little on the outside, but its skills are fierce and it's still considered a wild animal."
- Jerrya Harris, senior

"I'm like a dog. I can be stubborn at times, but I am very helpful and overprotective of the ones I care about and love. I can also be a little selfish, but for good causes. In all, I am a good person and truly care for others."
- Seanelle Isaacs, senior

"I would say I'm like a penguin. It is small and cute and kind of dances to its own beat. It is not like other birds; it can't fly and doesn't even live in a similar habitat, but it does just fine the way it does things. Penguins are fun and original, and I like to believe I'm the same way."
- Nia Twyman, junior

"I think I am a lion because I can be very protective, and I can be nice when I want to be. I have a lot of fur or hair on my head. I can be very loud. I am a memorable person."
- Jamira Mapp, sophomore

"My spirit animal is an ostrich because I love the wild and can move pretty fast. I also cook amazing eggs!"
- Isiah Trundy, junior

"Our spirit animals would be unicorns. Unicorns can't fly, but they have magical horns that shoot out magical fun and rainbows!"
- Emily Edmonds and Jordan Johnson, juniors
