UNC'S alpha Kappa Delta Phi National Sorority Inc. is one of the many Greek organizations on campus. Apart from traditional clubs and organizations, sororities and fraternities are truly a lifetime commitment of lasting experiences. alpha Kappa Delta Phi is the first Asian American Interest Sorority in the south and has recently combined with other Greek interest groups to form UNC's first Greek Alliance Council. Together, this new council unites as one diverse group promoting various beliefs and identities.

alpha Kappa Delta Phi was first established at the University of California at Berkeley in 1990 and expanded into 29 chapters across the nation. It was established here at UNC-Chapel Hill in the spring of 1996. The sorority is built upon a strong foundation of goals based on sisterhood, scholarship, leadership, service, and Asian Awareness in the University and Community. It is composed of highly motivated women with various backgrounds, interests, and fields of study. The sorority provides a support group for them in their times of need and encourages the development of successful women.

Furthermore, alpha Kappa Delta Phi's national philanthropy is "Breast Cancer Awareness" as it is a significant issue to be addressed throughout the community. In addition, the sorority participates in several humanitarian events, such as Adopt-a-Highway, Habitat for Humanity, Project UNC and Relay For Life. Also, the Office of Greek Affairs acclaimed alpha Kappa Delta Phi with recognitions of having the "Highest Overall GPA," "Outstanding Campus Involvement," and "Chapters with an Average of 10 or more Service Hours" in comparison to other Greek organizations at UNC.

In general, from its philanthropy to social activities, from academics to sisterhood events, alpha Kappa Delta Phi is a diverse sisterhood of unique women promoting countless activities and values. EW
