

QUEENS COLLEGE BLUES

Vol. XI

Queens-Chicora College, Charlotte, N. C., May 31, 1932

Final

FAREWELL, SENIORS

Commencement Exercises This Morning

Bishop Mouzon Will Speak

Today the seniors will receive their long-looked-for sheepskins toward which they have been striving for four long years. The commencement exercises are eagerly anticipated. This year the graduating class is fortunate in having Bishop Edwin Mouzon of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, to deliver the final address. The college welcomes the many friends and parents who are present for the final closing. The program:

Mr. McAlister Carson, president of the Board of Trustees, presiding.

Processional.

Doxology.

Invocation—Rev. C. W. Durden, D.D.

Address—Bishop Mouzon.

Songs—A Birthday by Huntington Woodman. Will 'O the Wisp by Spross

Iris Bryson.

Delivery of Diplomas—Mr. Carson.

Announcements and Final Word—President Frazer.

Seniors Hold Last Class Meeting

The seniors held their last class meeting on Monday night. Although the occasion was one of joy, it was also filled with sad, sad tears of parting. Looking backward over the past years the seniors began to realize what wonderful times they have enjoyed working and playing together. However, there were many glances toward the future to be filled with old-maid teachership and matrimonial expectations. Words and good-bye songs, laughs and sobs brought knots into the throats of the underclassmen, who were listening from distant windows. Miriam Dameron, president of the class, brightened the affair by presenting to her classmates parting gifts, lovely variegated lolypops of red, green, orange and yellow hues. The two class songs, college songs and the Alma Mater were sung, and the members of the senior class gave a last fond farewell.

PROGRAM

Saturday, May 28

1:00 p. m.—Alumnae Luncheon.

5:00-6:00 p. m.—Tea given by Mrs. Cameron Morrison.

8:00 p. m.—Joint Literary Society meeting.

Sunday, May 30

8:00 p. m.—Baccalaureate Sermon by Rev. John M. Wells.

Monday, May 31

3:00-6:00 p. m.—Fine and Practical Arts Exhibits.

4:30 p. m.—Class Day Exercises.

8:30 p. m.—Annual Concert.

Tuesday, May 31

10:30 a. m.—Commencement Address by Bishop Edwin D. Mouzon.

—Conferring of Degrees.

Students Enter Prohibition Contest

Three Prizes To Be Awarded

The annual prohibition contest sponsored by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of North Carolina had as its subject for the essays this year: "Modern Science's Contribution to Understanding the Prohibition Question." The entries for Queens-Chicora were as follows: Edith Storm, Margaret Blankenship, Janet Robinson, Sara Elizabeth Motte, Lois Primm, Florence Moffett, Edna Rowell, and Rebekah Hassell. The other colleges of the state have the same subject. Mrs. Cameron Morrison is the donor of three prizes for Queens-Chicora College. The prizes are as follows: First, fifteen dollars; second, ten dollars; third, five dollars. These prizes will be awarded as usual at the graduation exercises. The highest paper will then be entered in the state inter-collegiate contest. The paper winning for the state will subsequently be sent in to the national prohibition contest.

Annual Music Concert Is Great Success

Much Talent Is Shown

The Annual Music Concert of May 30 was unusually successful this year. The girls taking part in the program have given recitals or have shown their talent in the glee club and in other forms of entertainment. The performance represented the culmination of the vigorous work and preparation which have taken place in the music department during the past year. The well-rendered selections displayed a remarkable amount of talent. Those students who performed were: Evelyn Woodside, Margaret Lillard, Elizabeth Hoyle, Martha Frazer, Caroline Lillard, Evelyn Ervin, Helen Fishburne, Iris Bryson, Virginia Parsons and Helen Wall. The ushers were Buena Winecoff, Elizabeth Mason, June Tweed and Margery Isenhour.

Many Present at Class Day Exercises

Class Day Exercises took place Monday afternoon at 4:30. Many people, consisting of parents and those interested in the graduating class, filled the campus. The scene was made up of gay juniors dressed in white carrying the daisy chain. Following were the speeches and addresses the juniors received the caps and gowns of the upper classmen. The program:

Processional.....	Alma Mater
Salutatory.....	Nina Norris
Class History.....	Mary Louise Thomas
Class Prophecy.....	Margaret Johanson
Class Song.....	Mary Ruth McQueen
	Iris Bryson
Class Poem.....	Frances Johanson
Class Gift.....	Catherine Jones
Class Song.....	Virginia Knee
	Margaret Lillard
Last Will and Testament
	—Dorothy Edmonson
Valedictory.....	Frances Johanson
Recessional
	—Our Mother and Our Queen