

Queens-Chicora Receives A Grade Rating

Nell Whitworth Is May Queen

Maid of Honor Selected

The student body chose Nell Whitworth as May Queen at elections last Wednesday morning. Nell has been a May Day attendant since her first year here. She was maid of honor last year. Not only is Nell distinguished by the prominent part she has played in the May courts, but also by her popularity as president of the student body. She has chosen Hugh Lee McCollum as maid of honor. Hugh Lee is a member of the junior class and a representative of the student council. Other attendants will be selected in the near future.

NELL WHITWORTH

Galli-Curci Delights Charlotte Audience

Famous Singer Appears At Little Theatre

Galli-Curci, world-famous contralto singer, gave the opening concert of the season here when she sang at the Little Theatre Tuesday evening, December 6.

Galli-Curci, a coloratura soprano, has thrilled thousands of music-lovers in all corners of the world—in Italy, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, Egypt, Russia, Spain, South America, and North America. She commands five languages—English, French, German, Spanish and Italian. Critics have said that when Galli-Curci sings, her soul sings with her, that all she sings is heart-searching whether an aria, an art song, or a simple folk melody. Her voice of pure molten gold, her flawless art, and her unaffected stage presence have won her many favorable comments.

Galli-Curci made her debut in her teens in "Rigoletto" at Teano, Italy. Soon she became a star of the Metropolitan Opera Company in New York. She became an American citizen and married an American composer. The two live in Sul Monte in the Catskill mountains of New York, where they take an active interest in the affairs of the village.

Inheriting qualities from her Spanish mother and Italian father, Galli-Curci's intellectual and graceful features, combined with her range of emotions, make her a very delightful woman. She is a womanly homemaker and home-lover, and enjoys all outdoor life.

Students Hear Rev. E. A. Dillard

Joy Is Subject of Vesper Service

"The joy of the Lord is the Christian's strength." This is a quotation taken from the inspiring talk given last Sunday night by the Rev. Mr. Dillard, pastor from Tenth Avenue Presbyterian Church.

The topic for the program was "Joy." Mary Murray, the leader, opened the meeting with a song. The scripture, taken from the fifth Psalm, was read, after which the congregation was led in prayer. The speaker gave a very timely and interesting talk, followed by a short prayer. The congregation sang "Joy To The World," and was dismissed with the Mizpah.

First Church Has Dinner Party

Africa Is Subject of Interesting Talk

Queens-Chicora girls attending the First Presbyterian Church were entertained on Friday, December 3, with a delightful turkey dinner, given by the Young People's Department of the church.

At the close of the meal Rev. Mr. Johnson, pastor of the church, gave an interesting talk on Africa, showing illustrations. This is the second of a series of talks on foreign missions to be made during the year.

About fifteen Queens-Chicora girls were present.

DUKE GLEE CLUB AND ORCHESTRA ENTERTAIN HERE

Varied Program Enjoyed By Large Audience

The students and faculty of Queens-Chicora College, as well as a number of guests from Charlotte, enjoyed the program given by the Duke Glee Club and Orchestra, Wednesday evening, November 30. This program, sponsored by the senior class, proved to be one of merit and entertainment.

"The Light Calvary Overture," by the symphony orchestra, opened a varied program, which was well accepted by students and town guests. "Reve Angelique" was well presented. The Glee Club, under the direction of J. Foster Barnes, gave a series of classical songs and melodies unexcelled as to choice and presentation. "The Holy Mother Sings," was among the first outstanding numbers. Trio from "Faust" by Messrs. Phillips, Cornell and Stanley was enthusiastically encored. Allen Stanley sang two delightful solos. Students remembering Don Correll's solo last year, "On the Road to Mandalay," expected to hear the forceful baritone again this year. Laurence Clarke Apgar, organist and carillonneur of Duke University (Continued on page four)

Gamma Sigma Has Varied Program

Current Events, Book Review, and One-Act Play Presented

Gamma Sigma Literary Society held its regular monthly meeting on November 30, in the auditorium.

The nominating committee submitted names for the election of an assistant secretary. Katherine McLesky was unanimously elected.

The program opened with an interesting review of outstanding current events of the day, given by Mary Law Gray. This was followed by an excellent review of Orland Kay Armstrong's "Old Massa's People," given by Katherine McLesky. The closing feature was a short one-act play, "The Necklace," by Guy de Maupassant. Margaret Truesdale played the part of Monsieur Laisel, Laleah Gray that of Mathilde, and Betty Runkle, that of Madame Forrester.

College Accepted Into Southern Association

BIG CELEBRATION TUESDAY

Exceeding all expectations, the celebration of Queens-Chicora's acceptance into the Southern Association of Schools and Colleges came to a close last Tuesday evening after a delightful banquet in Morrison dining room. The occasion has been a source of joy and celebration since the receiving of a telegram sent by Dr. Frazer bearing the message of the acceptance of this college as an A grade institution.

Dr. Frazer's and Mr. Eddie Jones' return from New Orleans, where the association convened, was welcomed by the student body and faculty, who met the Crescent Limited Saturday afternoon and escorted the newcomers with a long parade of cars bearing the Q.-C. colors of light and dark blue. Two Austins led the parade. Dr. Frazer's short and enthusiastic greetings from the steps of Burwell hall were received with cheers and yells by the students.

Dr. Frazer's Services To Queens-Chicora

Chapel exercises at 11:20 began (Continued on page two)

Students Profit By Community Concert Plan

Charlotte Community Concert Association To Bring Series of Good Programs

Galli-Curci opened a series of concerts, sponsored by the Charlotte Community Concert Association. This Community Concert plan is a national movement. Its purpose is to make concerts possible on a basis which eliminates all financial risk on the part of any person, group or organization. This is accomplished by putting the Association on the membership basis. Membership entitles one to attend all concerts of the season without additional expense and assures an audience first before engaging any talent, permanency for a city's concert series and financial security for the present and future. It is a no-profit, no-loss plan.

The membership fee of five dollars was reduced to two and one-half dollars for the students of Queens-Chicora College. It is hoped that the students have taken full advantage of this unusual opportunity presented at such a small cost.