

Queens Blues To Have March Contest

Sophomores and Freshmen To Issue Paper Next Month

The two March issues of the Queens Blues will be edited by the sophomore and freshman classes. Ruth Grover and Jimmy Wilson were elected editor and business manager, respectively, by the sophomores. Ione Smith will edit the freshman issue with Frances Raley as business manager. These students have had former experience and have shown themselves capable of their responsibilities. The two staff officers will choose their assistants and managers.

Since 1931 it has been the annual custom of the junior staff to hold a contest between the two lower classes. The publication of an issue by each class is effective in displaying the journalistic and business abilities of the students who are to become future staff members.

The paper will be judged by its journalistic qualities and its business management, shown chiefly by the number and size of advertisements solicited. A prize of $5 will be awarded to the class publishing the most worthy issue.

Dark Blues Are Basketball Champs

Final Game Ends 28-22

The Dark Blue vs. Light Blue basketball game to decide the championship was played last Wednesday afternoon at 4:30. Two yells by each of the supporting cheering sections, followed by the whistle, started the game. Beck McClary, who was high point scorer for the game, put in the first goal for Dark Blues. In rapid succession the Dark Blue forwards scored a lead of ten points, before the Light Blues could ring a single basket. The score at the end of the first half was 18-6.

After a few shifts in the Light Blue line-up, the game started again on its second half. Vir-

WASHINGTON FETE

Although the George Washington dinner is an annual occasion, planned by Dr. Frazer, it is always a surprise to the students when they enter the dining room on the evening of every February 22. The students enjoyed a real party with dancing and music.

EMORY GLEE CLUB WILL ENTERTAIN HERE TONIGHT

"SOUTH'S SWEETEST SINGERS," SPONSORED BY THE JUNIOR CLASS

The junior class is sponsoring Emory Glee Club of Georgia, which will be here tonight to present a program of variety entertainment at 8:30 in the college auditorium.

The negro spirituals and folk song will probably be the high spot of enjoyment for many listeners. For others, Rachmaninoff, Beethoven, Berlin or Victor Herbert may be the particular attraction. The last feature of the program will consist of a one-act opera entitled: "Trial By Jury," by Gilbert and Sullivan.

With two European tours and one Cuban trip, the Emory Glee Club has established its international reputation, and has rightly been called by Southern critics the "South's Sweetest Singers." The juniors are proud to sponsor them and believe they will bring to the college and city something very worthwhile in the way of entertainment.

Alpha Delta Thetas Move Into Burwell

The members of Psi chapter of Alpha Delta Theta sorority who watched their time, labor, and money go up in smoke as their sorority house burned last Friday morning, have already moved into their new quarters. Through the kindness of Dr. Frazer they were able to move immediately to an apartment on the second floor of Burwell hall.

Although their stay in the new apartment is only temporary, the girls have begun work immediately on the interior decoration. They expect, within a few days, to have the chapter room looking very attractive. Fortunately, most of the furniture was saved from the burning house, and although it is in fairly good condition, it is being renovated, for

Moffett Conducts Etiquette Class

The second of a series of lessons on etiquette, sponsored by Alpha Kappa Gamma, was conducted in the auditorium, Thursday, February 16. Florence Moffett conducted the program, which was on "How To Greet People and What To Say To Strangers." After a short introduction, Ruth Turner read a paper, "What To Say When Introduced." In the absence of Catherine Culp, Florence Moffett gave interesting suggestions on how to start a conversation with some one you have just met. The last paper, which explained further how to greet people and what to say was read by Hilda Clontz.

The program was very interesting as well as helpful. The student body is looking forward to future etiquette classes.

Dr. DuBose Conducts Religious Services

Students Enjoy Inspiring And Helpful Messages

One of the most inspiring and elevating speakers who have been here is Dr. Henry Wade DuBose, who conducted evangelistic services this week. Dr. DuBose is pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Spartanburg, S. C., and as chairman of the committee for the merger of Queens and Chicora, has always been interested in the college. Dr. DuBose was invited by the Student Christian Association.

Meetings were held on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday evenings and during the chapel period on Tuesday morning. These messages were made vital to each student who was shown the joys of an abundant life. In this short series of services Dr. DuBose came to the very center of student problems and gave a new vision to those who heard him.

Each morning or evening before entering the chapel to hear Dr. DuBose, special prayer meetings were held in the Hut. These short periods of worship were helpful in provoking reverence and interest for the following service.

Students Plan Davidson Program

The students of Beta Pi Theta are now practicing a play, "L'Anglais Qu' on Le Parle," to be presented March 3. At a brief meeting of the club February 17 a short practice followed the formal order of the program. Beta Pi Theta plans to entertain Le Cercle Francais of Davidson in the near future.

A number of interesting contests are sponsored by national Beta Pi Theta. The student who is an active member of the organization and who makes the highest average in French will receive a trip to France. Several students here are writing papers on various phases of French life, which they will submit to a contest awarding a scholarship to Middlebury, where splendid French courses may be received.

THE PRIZE WINNERS

Congratulations to Carol Reeves and Josephine Dandridge who won the two prizes offered by Dr. Blair for the best creed of a Queens-Chicora girl. Carol Reeves received $5 as first prize and Josephine Dandridge $2 as second prize.
