Dr. W. H. Frazer spoke on the subject "Christian Education" to the members of the Charlotte Chapter of Queens-Chicora Alumnae Association at their last meeting held at the home of Mrs. T. M. Cole.

The introduction was offered by Dr. Frazer. He also led in several of the discussions of business matters.

"Christian Education" was discussed by Dr. Frazer during the entire time allotted to the program.

A. A. U. W. Gives First Banquet

The Charlotte organization of the American Association of University Women held a banquet at Myers Park Club last Tuesday night with 125 guests present. The banquet was given to start the activities of the new year for the University Women and a special invitation was issued to members of college alumnae associations of the city to attend. Miss Alma T. Edwards, a member of our faculty, was chairman of the committee in charge of the banquet.

Mrs. C. T. Wanzer, president of the association, presided over the meeting. A program showing the activities of the University Women was given. Mrs. Eric Norden, of Wilmington, well-known violinist, was the guest artist for the evening. She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Mary Eunice Wells, of Wilmington. Maurice G. Townsend, of this city, played, and an entertaining address was made by Julian Miller, associate editor of The Charlotte Observer.

Queen's Blues Sample Copy

New Contract With Herald Publishing Co.

This sample edition of the Queens Blues is to show the student subscribers what the new paper is to be like in the future. The contract this year is a new one with a different firm of publishers and it calls for a larger edition of the paper. The customary size will be four pages, and the paper will appear every other Friday.

Only the most important news has been placed in this issue, which has been put out only to give an idea of what the paper is going to be. The staff thinks it suitable to publish this sample for the purpose of familiarizing the students with their new paper. We will run several new features including the Open Forum. We wish for the students themselves to evince sufficient interest to desire to contribute to this and other columns of the paper. It is in this manner and through such a medium that we hope to make the Queens Blues most representative of the student body.

We hope to make this year's paper the most successful of all. Your co-operation with the staff will not only make this a possibility but an accomplished fact.

"The Master Builder"

Ibsen Players Present World Famous Play

Kappa Omicron, honorary English sorority of Queens-Chicora College, will sponsor a presentation of Henrik Ibsen's "The Master Builder," by Borgny Hammer and her players at the college on October 14.

Madame Hammer, who has toured America on four different occasions, is now on a tour from coast to coast. The Norwegian-American actress has received from critics acclaim as an actress far above ordinary capabilities. They have compared her work with that of Mrs. Fiske, Nazimova, and Sarah Bernhardt.

The Madame Hammer Company has played at Wake Forest, at the State College in Raleigh, at Duke University, and at Chapel Hill.

"The Master Builder," more than any other play Ibsen wrote, possesses a strange, illusive, haunting, enthralling beauty. It is a story of a man who reaches the pinnacle of success by climbing over and tramping down less strong men.

Borgny Hammer assumes the role of the ghost-like Alene Saluess. Brane Nassen plays the title role. Bargny Noreen, the gifted and beautiful daughter of Madame Hammer, appears as Miss Hilde.

The Pi Delta and the Gamma Sigma literary societies, which have for a long time been an important and outstanding organization on the campus, recently resumed their activities. Bids were issued to the new girls and a formal initiation service was held on Thursday, October 12 at 4:30 o'clock. A tea, in honor of the initiate, will be given soon.

Under the leadership of Ann McLaughlin, president of Pi Delta, and Claudia McChesney, president of Gamma Sigma, the societies are destined to make unsurpassable progress this year.

The Edelweiss Pictures Taken

Pictures for the Edelweiss were taken during the past week by Mr. R. L. Shaen, affiliated with the Zausky Company of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Mr. Shaen has made photographs of renowned doctors and lawyers and business men, men known in influential circles throughout the North and South.

Mr. Shaen has announced that proofs will be ready within a week or ten days, and the staff of the Edelweiss urges every girl to co-operate then by handing in her choice of her proofs promptly.

The contracts for the printing and engraving of the 1934 Edelweiss have again been awarded to the Queens City Printing Company and to the Charlotte Engraving Company. The staff has elected an attractive and original theme for this Edelweiss and promises an Annual which will be distinctive of Queens-Chicora College.

A Friendly Welcome

From the upper classmen comes a welcome to the Freshmen and the new students entering our college. We are glad to see so many new faces and to make so many more new friends. We hope that we can make your college days as happy as ours have been. Remember that we are your friends and that we want to help you to make the most of your college career. Though the Freshmen may find their days encumbered with many misfortunes in respect to lessons and rat week, yet they should remember that without these trials, college just would not be college. And though it may seem to each Frosh that her particular function is to afford entertainment for the cold-hearted Sophs, yet she will find that it is just a part of the game that we have all played. And good sportsmanship is the winning card. It takes the trick in any game you may be called upon to play throughout your college life and on into your life in the world beyond graduation.

Wangle. The other supporting players are, Robert Donaldson, Sidney Smith, Robert Proctor and Miss Marion Tatum. Two of these, Mr. Robert Proctor and Miss Marion Tatum were members of Prof. Koch's Class at the University of N. C. at Chapel Hill, and are former members of the Carolina Playmakers.

Rushing Ends With Sixty-Nine Pledged

Six Greek Sororities At Queens-Chicora End Season

Tuesday, October 3rd, brought to a close a most successful rushing season for the six national sororities on the campus. The rushes created quite a bit of keen competition, but each Greek letter group feels that, as usual, it has been most successful.

Sixty-nine new students accepted bids after a period of three weeks' rushing. Pledge services were held at the sorority houses Thursday afternoon, October 5.

The following girls were pledged:

CHI OMEGA

Ashe Bennett Sikes, of Monroe, N. C.; Martha Crossland, of Bennettsville, S. C.; Marjorie Robinson, Lowell, N. C.; Jean Stough, Cornelius, N. C.; Thorburn Lillard, Elkins, N. ## ALUMNAE GIFT TO DAY STUDENT

The day students are certainly the center of attraction this year, both literally and figuratively. Being presented with a beautiful new building for their own private use was astounding enough. Now we learn that the Charlotte Chapter of Queens-Chicora Alumnae is preparing to furnish the new building charmingly and tastefully so that the day students may be as proud of the interior as they are of the exterior.

Mrs. Fred B. Helms, president of the Charlotte Chapter, has appointed committees to take charge of the purchasing of furnishings immediately. Mrs. W. H. Belk, always active in Queens-Chicora's behalf, is also a main leader of this project.

The "Alums" could have thought of no better way to benefit their college or their sisters in town and we wish to take this opportunity to commend their act.
