

Chi Omega Pledges Entertain With Tea

Honoring the pledges of other sororities on the college campus, the pledges of the Theta Gamma Chapter of the Chi Omega sorority gave a tea on Monday afternoon, October 16. Receiving at the door were Margaret Malloy, president of the chapter; Thorburn Lillard, president of the pledges; Sara Elizabeth Motte, vice-president of the chapter; Martha Ware Pitts, vice-president of the pledges; Virginia Sampson, secretary of the chapter; Marjorie Robinson, secretary of the pledges; Jeannette Malloy, treasurer of the chapter, and Alice Cowles Barringer, treasurer of the pledges. Ruth Curry, pledge instructor, presided at the tea table.

During the afternoon, the Chi Omega pledges served Russian tea, sandwiches, assorted cakes, sweets and nuts to the many guests who called.

Check Student Records For Point System

The General Council has just completed its final checking of the Student Activity Record Blanks. Those carrying an excess of twenty-six points have been asked to resign from some office. In a few cases special permission to carry excess points has been granted.

The blanks are now on file in Dr. Blair's office. Any one nominating officers or seeking a capable worker in any organization may consult these records to find out the capabilities of a student and the number of points she now holds, for on the blanks are the activities in which students have participated not only at Queens-Chicoro but also at the high schools from which they came and the number of points each student has. It is hoped that officers and committee chairmen will avail themselves of the information contained in these records.

Phi Mu Tea

The Phi Mus entertained at an impressive tea October 17, at their chapter house, honoring the pledges of the five sororities and faculty.

Receiving were Ruth Hunt, President of Pledges; Ruth Grover, Frances Robinson, and Florence Holmes.

The home was decorated with dahlias and roses. The table was covered with a lace cloth, upon which was placed a bowl of pink and white carnations and candlesticks holding pink tapers. Martha Pettit poured tea. Assisting her were Bessie Shipp and Marguerite Prevost.

30% of School Children Have Defective Vision

Studying under poor light is responsible for the greater part of defective eyesight.

The sense of vision is your most precious possession. Poor lighting causes eyestrain and fatigue which may result in permanent injury.

Don't handicap your future by risking injury to your eyes.

The new indirect lamp provides illumination adequate in quantity and free from harmful glare. It is the best and most economical "eye insurance" that you can buy.

People You Know

Virginia Ragan, as usual, went home this week-end and took Margaret Trobaugh with her. It must be great! Virginia says so! Ask Trobaugh why.

Ann Dorcas White had to go home Friday to see the doctor. Poor Ann! Did he diagnose your case properly?

Ethel Russell had to go all the way to Florence, S. C., to see the dentist. But there's nothing wrong with that, 'cause everybody wants her own dentist. He seems to know how better!

Nancy Redfern went all the way to Asheville this week-end. How's the home-folks, Nancy?

Eleanor Woodcock, a student here last year, came back to see us this week-end. Says she likes the University of South Carolina, but dear ole' Queens is best. About all she could say was "Ain't love grand?"

Mary "Mac" went to Winnsboro this week-end. There's no place like home and —, says Mary.

"Kat" Shellem went home this week-end and did she strut with that pin on? She even went to church!

"Bunny" Reid went home this week-end, too,—or maybe I should say for a week—Bunny just can't get back on time? Why?

We are glad Marie Burton came back. We kinda figured that she had forgotten about Queens-Chicora. Take our advice and stay away from wildwoods!

Honorary Fraternity Activities

Pi Delta and Gamma Sigma

The two literary societies, Pi Delta and Gamma Sigma, initiated their new members Thursday, October 12. Tuesday, October the 24th, from 4:30 to 6:00 o'clock, a lovely tea was given for the new members. Ice cream and cake were served.

The Royal Mary Club

The Royal Mary Club was organized Friday, October 20. The following officers were elected: President, Mary Wilson; vice-president, Mary Lindsey; secretary, Mary Richburg, and treasurer, Mary Yeaden. Programs are being planned, which include the study of famous Marys in history.

Choral Club

The Choral Club has met two times this year. First and second soprano and first and second alto are practicing in separate groups. Great work is expected of the club.

Beta Pi Theta

Beta Pi Theta met Friday, October 13th. New officers elected were vice-president, Harriet Thompson and secretary, Elizabeth Elliott.

Phi Beta Chi

Phi Beta Chi met Friday, October 20, at 4:30 o'clock, with Dr. Graham at her apartment, 2138 Sherwood Ave. Ruth Currie was elected president of the fraternity for the coming year. After delightful refreshments, Dr. Green made a very interesting talk on the subject, "Science at the World's Fair." After a short business session the meeting was adjourned.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. Cabinet held its regular meeting Wednesday night, October 18th. Lulu Hall was sent as a representative to a Y. W. C. A. conference at Greensboro College.

Alpha Kappa Gamma

Alpha Kappa Gamma met Friday, October the 13th, with Dr. Blair. Plans were discussed for the coming year. One very interesting plan of Alpha Kappa Gamma is the etiquette classes to be held at different times during the year in the Saturday chapel hour.

Christian Service Band

The Christian Science Band had its first meeting Sunday, October 15th, in the hut. Dorothy Huntley, vice-president of the Band, took charge of the program, which was on prayer.

Alpha Lambda Mu

Alpha Lambda Mu honorary music fraternity, met Wednesday, October 4th. The program for the coming year was discussed and will be the study of American Music and American Composers. A selection on the piano was played by Aliene Blowers and a short sketch of early American Musical History was given by Rachel Hamilton.
