Freshman Carnival Tuesday Night

Convention Takes Place In Winston

Dr. Dorby Fulton Gives Message "Christ in the World Today" in Christ Church

QUEENS REPRESENTED

The Student Volunteer Movement held its annual convention at Winston-Salem, N. C., in the Christ church, on March 4 and 5. There were approximately 150 students present from twenty different colleges and universities in North Carolina. Claudia McChesney, Dot Ehrhardt, Mary Wilson, Mary Jane McBath, Mary Louise Boate and Anne McGinnis attended.

Dr. Dorby Fulton brought a message on "Christ in the World Today." A. B. Dipeolu, native African, spoke on "Creative Forces in Africa" and "Solve the Crossworld Problem."

The Duke boys presented a play entitled "Ordered South."

Miss Dorothy Clay, of Greensboro College, was elected president of the North Carolina Student Volunteer Union. She succeeds Francis Scott of Davidson.

S. C. A. Cabinet Uses Money

It might be interesting to know that part of the budget fee that each girl pays goes to the Student Christian Association. The cabinet of the S. C. A. decides what the money should go for. It is used for the following things:

1. A summer school for an Episcopal church in the mountains of North Carolina.
2. Erection of a church in Kiangyin, China, where Florence Moffett's mother and father work.
3. Donation to Near East Relief work.
4. Free-will offering for milk campaign at the Charlotte Day Nursery.

To encourage early attendance at Sunday School, Mr. David Owens entertained his class of Myers Park Presbyterian Church with a buffet breakfast on Sunday, March 21, in the class house. Every member of the class was there at 9:30 sharp to enjoy the tempting delicacies of Mr. Veen's hospitality. We hope that the girls will show their appreciation by being at Sunday School next Sunday promptly at 10:00 o'clock.

Dr. Olpin Speaks At the College

PHI BETA CHI SPONSORS

"Electrical Transmission of Pictures and Television" was the subject of Dr. A. R. Olpin's lecture on Friday, March 16, 1934, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the auditorium of Queens-Chicora College. Phi Beta Chi, the honorary science fraternity, sponsored the lecture by Dr. Olpin, who for ten years was engaged in research on television.

Dr. Olpin stated that it was uncertain whether or not television would ever be used in the home, because, although experiments in the laboratory have been very successful, television is not practical outside the laboratory because of the great expense of the apparatus. After showing a photo-electric cell and explaining its mechanism and practical use, Dr. Olpin had thrown upon a screen a series of slides showing a historical sketch of the development of television. He explained that the electric eye sees things as the human eye sees them, except that the electric eye is much more efficient. He explained this statement by demonstrating the fact that the human eye cannot follow more than 15 light changes a second, while the electric eye can detect thousands of changes a second.

In the second part of his talk Dr. Olpin explained how pictures are sent by telephone, radio, and telegraph.

Students Change Chapel Program

There has been a change made in the students' chapel program on Wednesdays. As the result of an open discussion, which occurred some time ago in chapel, a committee consisting of Ruth Martin, chairman, Iris Harmon and Mary Rucker, was appointed. It is the duty and purpose of this committee to sponsor and plan programs that will prove enjoyable to the student body. It hopes to have each organization on the campus give a program.

On Wednesday, the 21st, the Hubbard sisters, Grace, Mary Steele and Virginia, gave a program, and judging from the applause it was greatly enjoyed.

Grover Wins Pres. Election

Campaign Speech Made by Margaret Trobaugh. Stresses Her Ability As Executive

EX.-PRES. OF JUNIORS

RUTH GROVER

The President of the Student body of Queens-Chicora College for 1934-35 is Ruth Grover.

Campaign speeches for the two candidates, Ruth Grover and Dorothy Cothran, were made at the meeting of the student body on Wednesday, March 21, 1934. As campaign manager for Ruth Grover, Margaret Trobaugh gave Webster's definition of a leader and then showed how Grover measures up to all those standards. Her ability to overcome difficulties and to control situations has been demonstrated by her work as business manager of the Queens Blues and president of the Junior Class, in college, and in high school as president of the eighth grade, president of the dramatic club, and editor of the high school annual. Her versatility is shown by the number of different activities in which she takes part.

Queen's Quartet Ends Engagement

SINGS AT S & W

The vocal quartet of Queens-Chicora College, composed of Margaret Trobaugh, Eve Hill, Lucille Shore, and Martha Frazer, completed their third engagement for the S. & W. Cafeteria the evening of March 17.

The quartet sang Irish numbers in celebration of St. Patrick's Day. "Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms," "Mother Machree," "My Wild Irish Rose," and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," were the featured selections.

The quartet was accompanied at the piano by Virginia Parsons. It has been having a successful season under the able direction of Miss Elizabeth Starr, voice instructor. The quartet is scheduled to sing at the Alumnae Association meeting to be held April 5. It is probable that their engagement will be extended further at the S. & W. Cafeteria.

Cheer Leaders Elected

March 17, cheer leaders for the inter-class basketball tournament were elected. They are Mary Corbin and Ethel Russell.

Dr. Helen Price To Speak Here

Dr. Helen Price, head of the Department of Ancient Languages at Meredith College, Raleigh, N. C., will give an address at Queens-Chicora College, Tuesday afternoon, March 27.

Dr. Price comes to Queens-Chicora College under the auspices of the Classical Club, Miss Alma T. Edwards, adviser. Dr. Price is brought here to carry out the policy adopted by the Classical Club to bring to Latin students each year a speaker of note.

The subject Dr. Price has chosen is "Roman Humor," and should be of great interest to all students.

Following the address tea will be served in Chi Omega and a social hour will follow.

"Rats" Plan To Redeem Themselves

Fortune Teller, House of Horrors, Orchestra and Dancing are Main Features

LINDSAY DIRECTING

Time is coming when the upper classmen will see what the lowly rats are really capable of doing. The Freshman Carnival, which will be in the form of a Mardi Gras, will take place in the dining room, Tuesday, March 27, at eight o'clock. Admission will be 50 cents, and will include the entrance fee of a quarter and four punches, one for each booth.

A king must be chosen from each of the four classes at a penny a vote. The person who receives the most votes will be king of the carnival and will be allowed to choose the queen.

A masquerade, grand march, and dancing will be the leading attractions of the evening.

There will be four side shows: A fortune-telling booth, picture booth, House of Horrors, the graveyard. Hot dogs, pink lemonade, and popcorn will be sold at food stands.

Different committees which are responsible for the carnival are: The program committee, headed by Mary Richburg, includes Martha Pette-way, Jane Ellen Taylor, and Thorburn Lillard.

The advertising committee, with Mary Barton as chairman, consists of Louise Thompson, Mary Wydsom Lambeth, and Cappy Quattlebaum.

The food committee is composed of Mary Wilson, chairman, Marion Kiker, Eleanor Clayton, and Ellen Kingdom.

Martha Ware Pitts, Mary Corbin, Helen Stroup and Martha Hood are chairmen of different side shows.

The Day Students of Q.-C. are going to present a program Friday evening, April 20th, at eight o'clock. The program consists of a monologue, musical selections and a one-act play, "The Trusting Place," by Booth Tarkington. The admission will be a quarter, and the proceeds will be used to complete furnishings of the Day Student House.
