

PAN HELLENIC WEEK IS ON

New Members Added to Q. C. Faculty

Additions to Science and Language Departments

Change seems to be the order of the day. Together with the many changes in rules and equipment that have taken place at Queens, four new members have been added to the faculty. They all have splendid records of preparation and achievement behind them, and they promise to be an asset to the Queens-Chicora faculty.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

The foreign language department is very proud to have Dr. Delano, of East St. Louis, Illinois, as instructor of French and Spanish. She was formerly a member of the faculty at State University of Iowa City. She received her Bachelor and Master degrees from Washington University at St. Louis; and acquired her Doctor's degree at the University of Iowa. Dr. Delano was abroad for fifteen months studying and traveling. She spent much of her time abroad in Madrid, Spain, where she did extensive work in the National Library of Madrid.

BIOLOGY DEPARTMENT

Dr. Howe, from Syracuse, N. Y., is the new head of the Biology Department. She previously taught at the State Teachers College, Harrisonburg, Virginia. From the University of Syracuse, she received her Bachelor and Master degrees, and later she was awarded her Doctor's degree at the University of Chicago.

Another addition to the Biology Department is Miss Nooe, of Statesville, N. C. She was a member of the faculty at Bristol, Virginia, before taking up her work here. Miss Nooe acquired her Bachelor degree from Meredith, and her Master degree from Columbia University.

HOME ECONOMIC DEPARTMENT

Miss Fulton, whose home is in Pittsburgh, Penn. is a new member of the Home Economics Department. Last year she was dietitian at the Fifth Avenue Hospital in New York City. Before working there Miss Fulton taught at Beaver Falls Senior High school, at Beaver Falls, Penn. She received her Bachelor and Master degrees at Columbia University.

Literary Annual On Campus

Style of Coronet Distinctive

The Coronet, which is the new publication of Queens-Chicora College, is expected to make its first appearance on the campus some time during the last week of October.

This new publication, has been classified as a literary annual and will take the place of the Sceptre and the Edelweiss, the magazine and annual respectively of the college. It will appear in magazine form much on the same style as Vogue and will be issued five times during the school year. Leather bindings are to be distributed among the students upon receiving the budget fee. These binders are of a loose-leaf variety, and each issue can be clipped in so that at the end of the year each student will have a regular annual.

The Coronet will publish material of a literary nature and will contain class pictures, snap-shots, regular annual-type features, organization pictures, alumnae news, sport events, and many unusual features.

The idea embodied in this new type of annual is both novel and unique. It represents a breaking away from the old stereotype annual that every one has grown tired of and for which many have desired a more interesting substitute. This move is being watched with great interest and perhaps a little skepticism by colleges throughout the South.

Perhaps, one of the strongest points in favor of the magazine is that all exorbitant prices charged for annual cuts will be done away with. Only special feature cuts will have to be paid for by the individuals concerned.

Illustrations for literary material will be illustrated by members of the student body.

The Coronet is to be published by the Herald Publishing Co., under the able management of Messers. Alf Asten and Jord Jordan. The designers are The Art-craft Engraving Co. Virginia Sampson is the managing editor, May D. Marion, the business manager, and Jeanette Malloy, the literary editor.

Budget Fee Due Soon

The budget fee for this year must be paid within the next two weeks, Ruth Grover, president of the Student Body announced. Bills have been sent to the parents of those students who have not made other arrangements with Jan Orr, day student treasurer, or Frances Smith, treasurer of the boarders.

This fee of ten dollars will be distributed among various school organizations: The Student Government Association, Student Christian Association, the Queens Blues, the Coronet, the Literary Society, the Athletic Association and the Student Christian Association. The exact proportion given to each organization will be determined soon on the basis of the expense sheets handed in by the organizations.

Student Volunteers Have Speaker

Miss McMullen Talks to Various Groups

The first speaker of our school year, Miss Carrie Lena McMullen, Traveling Secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement was with us through the past week-end leading several meetings. This movement, organized and carried on as a Student Fellowship in colleges, universities, and professional schools, has fundamentally a missionary aim. Through its belief that Jesus Christ belongs to the whole world, the organization has an interest that is co-operative with other student movements, missionary agencies and church boards, as well as a scope that is inter-denominational and coeducational. Its members is international, including students of Canada and the United States, as well as those from other countries temporarily resident among us. As an ever growing movement it is initiating and conserving, deepening and crystalizing missionary interest into an active purpose of service abroad and at home, financial support, advocacy, and prayer.

The entire student body has enjoyed the privilege of hearing Miss McMullen on several occasions. Friday evening at the Boarding Student Prayer Meeting she measured a new depth in the help that calmness and serenity of some could give after the busy rush of the school day. In the chapel Saturday morning Miss McMullen brought a brief message of the missionary and his work as the work of greatest importance to us today. The missionary enterprise has been the most constructive and progressive work of the church—constructive in its aid of new enterprises and advancement of international interests; progressive in its constant and ever increasing achievements towards its ultimate goal. The geographical scope of missionary work has entered into, though not covered, every country in the world; the world itself is its sphere.

Looking vertically upon society, missions still treat the greatest depths socially. Though world trends of today are chiefly interested in such forces as communism, radicalism, or socialism. Christian progress in world nations is still a primary concern. Missionary interests are taken no more as duties for sanctimonious believers. The goal of the empire has a gloriously triumphant future in fulfilling the purpose upon which it has entered—that Jesus Christ be known throughout the world.

Her brief visit here has awakened new enthusiasm in our small group at Queens. The band is planning for a progressive and an instructive year. Later in the fall, though the day has not yet been set, one of the four North Carolina Annual Institutes of Student Volunteers will be held in Charlotte. Each of you who is interested is invited to join with us at these meetings where prominent speakers will tell us more about the Student Volunteer Movement.

Changes On Back Campus

Alpha Delta Theta House Rebuilt

During the summer months a number of improvements have been made in the houses on Sorority Row. The Alpha Delta Theta House which burned in 1932 has been rebuilt and refurnished. During the first days of this college year, a house warming was given for them, and the house is now completely furnished and docked.

Both the Kappa Delta and the Phi Mu Houses have been repainted white. The Kappa Deltas also changed the shrubbery of their yard and plan to build a white brick wall around their Colonial Home. During the summer the Phi Mus have also refurnished their house.

The Alpha Gamma Delta's have had the floors, porch, and furniture of their house and have purchased a new Baby Grand Piano.

Evangelical Students Outline Year's Work

The League of Evangelical Students, membership in which is determined by the interest of the individual, met on Tuesday afternoon, September 25, to outline the aim and work for the year.

A definite course of Bible Study and Personal Service is to be conducted on this campus by, it is hoped, Mr. J. P. Spillman of Charlotte. Mr. Spillman has formerly conducted the same course in Charlotte, and is known as an interesting and able Bible Student.

The League is a national organization, comparatively new in the South, but very popular and active in the North. There is no definite, specific organization of the national body, but rather the League is what the individual campus makes it. The national aim of the League—the thing by which all members are united—is to keep interested and connected all students of Orthodox beliefs.

Bettie Wicker is the local president, filling the place of Emily Evans, who has transferred to Wheaton College, Illinois, the national headquarters of the League of Evangelical Students.

Day Student House Named

The Day Students have since last spring been endeavoring to change the name of their house. The feat has at last been accomplished. Following the suggestion of Dean Edwards, the Day Students Council voted to call the house "The Union."

Duke and other large and progressive universities have a building known as "The Union." Such buildings are the places students consider particularly theirs, the places students meet for pleasure. It is hoped that the entire student body will co-operate in calling the Day Student Home "The Union."

Sororities Hold Entertainments On Their Day

BIDS ISSUED ON OCTOBER 4TH

Today ends the National Greek Sorority rushing on the campus. Except for the usual day that each sorority has the rushing this year has been changed. Last week Monday, Tuesday, and Saturday were days of silence. Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday from four to six o'clock the rushees had dates with the different sororities, the time having been set by the Pan-Hellenic Council.

The Kappa Deltas entertained Monday at a luncheon at the Myers Park Club, a garden party, and a Colonial dinner served in costumes at the house. Tuesday the Alpha Delta Pi's had a luncheon at their house and a dinner at the Charlotte Hotel. The Phi Mus.

The Phi Mus had Open House in the morning and luncheon at the house. From there they went to the Myers Park Club for supper.

Chi Omegas entertained with a luncheon at the Charlotte Hotel and a garden party at the home of Mary Lambeth. Friday the Alpha Delta Theta had a luncheon at their house and dinner at the Myers Park Club. Today the Alpha Gamma Deltas will have a luncheon at the Myers Park Club and dinner at their house.

BIDS ISSUED

Monday, October 1, each sorority will hand in to Dr. Elizabeth Blair a list of girls to whom she wishes to extend a bid. By Monday afternoon the sponsor shall notify all girls to whom a bid has been extended. Tuesday will be a day of silence during which the girls will decide which bid to accept.

The rushees must have their first choices, in order of preference, in Dr. Blair's office by ten-thirty, Wednesday morning. Thursday a formal bid will be extended to the girls according to the preferential bidding system.

Chapel Attendance Required

The one definite thing which Dr. Frazer has requested of the Student Body is attendance at his Chapel Services during the first week of school, no check was made of chapel attendance, but it was most apparent that a large number of students were "cutting" chapel in the face of such a record, Dr. Frazer has felt it justifiable to make attendance at chapel compulsory with penalties being worked out on a cut system—3 chapel cuts forcing the student to leave for one week, thus losing all class cuts for the year.

The Student Government requests that the entire Student Body co-operate in Chapel attendance in presence and in spirit.
