

JUNIORS WIN STUNT NITE

Student Govt. Convention Held In Pennsylvania

Queens-Chicora One of the Thirty Colleges Invited to Attend Convention

The Women's Intercollegiate Association for Student Government, including the heads of thirty colleges and universities from Maine to Florida, met at Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., October 17-20.

The general theme of the convention program, as planned by Miss Edith Seales, national president of the association, and Dr. Evelyn Miller, dean of women at Allegheny College, was "The Philosophy of Student Government." Four principal speakers from various colleges spoke on the following subjects: Professor Sarah M. Sturtevant, Columbia University, "The Function of Student Government, on the Modern College Campus"; Dean Thyresa Amos, University of Pittsburgh, "The Educational Value of Extra-curricula Activities Among College Women Students"; Dean Florence Micolson, Ohio Wesleyan University, "Personality Adjustments Among College Women Students"; and Dean Karl Leobrick, Syracuse University, "The Place of the Honor System in Modern Student Government."

Five discussion groups were held: "To What Extent Is Student Government Primarily a Disciplinary Function," Allegheny College; "The Town Girl's Place in Student Government," University of Pittsburgh; "Reasons for Point Systems," Hood College; "Honor Systems," Alfred College; "The Relation Between Social and Academic Standing in Student Life," Ohio Wesleyan University.

Entertainment featured a tea on the opening afternoon, the presentation of "Candida" by the Allegheny College Dramatic School.

Dramatic School Announces Plans

"Madame Butterfly" and a Recital to Be Given Before Christmas

The Dramatic Department plans to give two programs before the Christmas holidays, a recital and the play Madame Butterfly, according to a statement made by Miss Ethel M. King, director of the department.

The recital, the date of which will be announced later, is to be made up of costumes, monologues, and scenes. The prologue of Let Us Be Gay and scenes from One Sunday Afternoon will be included in the program. All the dramatic students will take part in this recital.

Madame Butterfly which will be given later on in the season will be taken from the Balesco version. The play is now being read by the class, and Miss King is giving the dramatic interpretation. The cast has not yet been selected.

Members of the class this year are: Sarah Frances Crosby, Margaret Land, Clare Hazel, Corine Long, Roberta Kilgore, Lura Coffey, and Thelma Robinson.

Alpha Kappa Gama Holds Fall Tapping Service in Chapel

Alpha Kappa Gamma, national leadership fraternity, tapped four students, Elizabeth Cassels, Lula Hall, Margaret Mitchell, and Ione Smith, at Chapel service on Thursday morning, October 18. The criteria for selecting members is the influence and following a girl has on the campus, but it is not essential that a girl hold offices on the campus. Quiet leadership and influence are a valuable contribution to the life and success of an organization. Alpha Kappa Gamma seeks to recognize all leaders of all types, leaders in all phases of a college life.

Elizabeth Cassels, while president of the Senior class, does not limit her activities and co-operation to the class. She works for and with the Student Government and the Administration. Her class will always remember the Junior-Senior of '34 as the special work of Elizabeth.

Two of those girls tapped are members of the Student Government Councils. Margaret Mitchell is president of the Day Students, and Lula Hall is second vice-president of the Boarders. Neither girl, however, is thought of only as one on the governing councils. Lula Hall is an active member of the S. C. A. Margaret Mitchell is this year heading the dramatic group of the Literary Society, as well as making a definite job and success of improving The Union.

This year quite in contrast with the two past years, Ione Smith is proving the value of quiet leadership. Although she actually holds no office, Ione is a real part of each organization. She is interested in every society on the campus.

Practice House Opens For Six-Weeks' Period

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy moved from the practice house Monday, for a seven weeks' visit to the Guthrie apartments on North Tryon street, and on Friday, the 26th, the eight Home Economic Senior girls moved in for the usual six weeks of practice. They are: Catherine Shellum, Vivian Hilton, Eleanor Hayes, Catherine Wilson, Sarah Fisher, Jo Duncan, Martha Abernathy, and Virginia Poovey. These eight girls are divided into four groups of host and hostess, two cooks, two maids, and two house-keepers.

This house keeping is a requirement of the State Department of Education for an A grade certificate in Home Economics. All the activities in a home are carried on in the practice house. The keeping of accounts and hospitality are the main duties.

Besides this work, the girls have their usual other classes. Last year they accepted a plan of progressive buffet suppers to which guests were invited. These dinners were enjoyed so much last year that they have planned to have them again.

Three Queens Girls Selected to Make Talks in Charlotte

Marion, Manning, Trobaugh Are Invited to Join the Speaker's Bureau

NEW PROGRAM OF M. H. SOCIETY

Three students of Queens-Chicora College, May D. Marion, Betty Manning, and Margaret Trobaugh, have been asked by the Charlotte Mental Hygiene Society to take a part in the Speaker's Bureau of that organization. That bureau is at present being organized for the purpose of supplying the various types of associations of the city with speakers who can furnish information on the subject of mental hygiene—its aims and scope, and the work of the Charlotte Society.

On Friday, October 19, Margaret Trobaugh and Betty Manning spoke before a luncheon meeting of a book club and before the Converse College Alumnae Association, respectively. Each girl will be called to make several talks during the college year.

The Charlotte Mental Hygiene Society was organized about a year and a half ago. It is composed of approximately fifty members, most of whom are doctors and trained social workers. Mrs. John Tillett is president of the organization, and Dr. Sylvia Allen is the director.

The work of the Charlotte Society is four-fold: the mental health clinic, the occupational therapy group, the educational program, and the co-operation with the state institutions. The local society is doing a work that is far in advance of the things being attempted in other cities today. This year the Charlotte Society has received from the City Council $2,200.00, the largest part of which is to be used for paying the salary of a trained psychiatric worker, Mrs. Elsie Larsen, of Richmond. This is the first time that a trained case worker has been connected with the organization, and the clinic staff considers this a definitely progressive step. The Society hopes to receive an additional $2,200.00 from the County Commissioners, in order to extend the work further into Mecklenburg County, where there is a pressing need for help and trained work.

Dr. Scherer is New Field Agent

Dr. Tilden Scherer, former president of Kings College, Bristol, Virginia-Tennessee, has been secured as field agent for the college, Dr. Frazer announced.

Dr. Scherer, who has already had twenty years' experience in college work, arrived on the campus last week. He began his work Monday.

Dr. Frazer is impressed with the idea that fifty thousand dollars must be added to the endowment. Dr. Scherer will be looking for this in a quiet way, making contacts throughout the synods in North Carolina and South Carolina.

Phi Beta Chi Award a National Charter By Chi Beta Phi

Phi Beta Chi, local science fraternity, was organized on Queens-Chicora campus in 1918. It has recently been granted a charter by Chi Beta Phi, national science fraternity.

Chi Beta Phi has 15 active chapters in mens' colleges in seven eastern and southern states, and a membership of 1,220. Queens-Chicora is the second girls' college to be given a charter, the other being Agnes Scott.

The fraternity was founded in Randolph-Macon College, Ashland, Virginia, April, 1916. It is the only national undergraduate general science fraternity in America.

To become a member of Chi Beta Phi, one must have shown that she has a marked interest in science, and must have proven herself worthy of scientific sisterhood by possession of integrity in scientific work and by possessing the spirit of co-operation. The scholarship will also be taken into consideration.

Sponsors for Phi Beta Chi are Dr. Graham, and Miss Howe, Mrs. McEwen and Miss Noce. The local officers are Miss Grace Hubbard, president; Miss Miriam Steele, vice-president; Miss Betty Wicker, secretary; Miss Mary Frances Ehrlick, treasurer. The other members are Miss Virginia Senn, Miss Dorothy Earhardt, Miss Frances Hunnucker, and Miss Ruth Grover.

No definite installation plans have been made. The chapter, however, will probably be installed in the latter part of November.

Council Planned For Honorary Fraternities

The presidents of the honorary fraternities, at a meeting held Saturday, October 20, set two dates during the year for the issuing of bids, the second week in November and the second week in February. All fraternities are to issue bids at the same time.

That an Inter-Honorary Fraternity Council, composed of the presidents of the honorary fraternities be formed was suggested. Plans for giving a banquet and presenting a speaker were discussed.

The organizations represented were: Phi Beta Chi represented by Grace Hubbard, the Classical Club by Jeanette Mallory, the International Relation Club by Ruth Freeman, Kappa Omicron by Mary Frances Austelle, Iota XI by Margaret Gilliam, and Beta Pi Theta by Anne Batten. Margaret Trobaugh of Alpha Kappa Gamma, presided. Representatives from some honorary organizations were not present.

The group will meet again next Saturday for further organization.

Mother's Dream Girl Portrayed By Seniors

Inter-class stunt night was held last night in the auditorium, sponsored by the Athletic Association. Judge Fred Helms presented the cup. The other judges were Mrs. Mason Wallace, Mrs. Fred Helms and Miss Daisy Pitts.

"Modern Cinderella" was presented by the freshman class. The characters were: Cinderella, Marie Neikirk; the Three Sisters, Evelyn Henderson, Bonnie Cox, Miriam Dodd Little; the Prince, Eugenia Laffitte; Godmother, Annie Belle Elmore; Clock, Jean Carter, Virginia Lane. The gallery sang "Poor Cinderella." Frances Scarborough played the piano, and Josephine Hackney, the accordion.

The sophomore class gave "Alice in the Wonderland of Queens." It was a story of a freshman entering the college. The characters were: Alice, Frances Smith; Rabbit, Lois Thompson; Frog Fortman, representing Dr. Frazier, Mary Lindsay; Queens of Hearts as Dean Edwards, Rebecca Ann Cooke; Owl, as Mr. Kennedy, Elizabeth Maynard; White Rat, as freshman, Isobel Anderson; Unbalanced Schedule, Mary Wilson; Tweedle-dee and Tweedle-dum, Jean Kent Early and Frances Query; Spirit of Queens, Martha Petteway. The gallery was dressed as playing cards and sang the Alma Mater.

A mountain skit was presented by the junior class. The characters were dressed in typical costumes. They showed the real life of a "Hill-billy." It was a play within a play to give the city people an idea of how they lived. The characters were: Ma, Sara Griffith; Pa, Ione Smith; Liza, Betty Manning; Hiram, Mary Philips; Dan Simpson, Helen Phillips.

Pan-Hell. Council Discusses Rushing

Questionnaires Filled in by the Frosh and Sororities Studied

On Wednesday afternoon, October 16, the Pan-Hellenic Council held a special meeting at the Phi Mu Sorority House to discuss the rushing rules for next year. Dr. Elizabeth Blair, sponsor of the Council, was present at the meeting and reported the results of a questionnaire which has recently been given to the pledges of the different sororities. Pan Hellenic plans to use these helpful suggestions in making the new rules.

A copy of the letter which was sent to eighteen women's colleges throughout the country asking information about their rushing rules was read by Marie Wilkinson, chairman of the questionnaire committee. Plans were made for condensing the material gained from sorority and pledge questionnaires. Pan Hellenic plans to have all the material necessary for formulating the new rushing rules organized before Christmas.
