Thursday Lecture Series Begun For Coming Session

Kratz, Edwards, Abernathy Arrange Program; Faculty Members and Charlotte Citizens To Speak

The faculty of Queens-Chicora College under the direction of Dr. Althea Kratz, Dean of Instruction, Miss Alma T. Edwards, Dean of Women, and Dr. Ethel Abernathy, Head of the Psychology department, have arranged a new lecture course for the students. A series of lectures on "Everyday Problems of the College Student" began Thursday, September 26, during the student assembly hour and will be continued throughout the semester on Thursday of each week at the chapel period.

The lectures will be delivered by Queens-Chicora College faculty members and by various prominent Charlotte citizens who are especially well fitted for discussing their respective topics.

At a recent chapel period Dr. Abernathy explained to the students the initiation of this new lecture series, and on Thursday, September 26, Dr. Frazer, president of the college, opened the course with a short introduction about the subject-matter of the coming lectures and the speakers who are to present them.

In the near future Dr. Kratz, will discuss "Citizenship In The College Community." Three lectures, "What College May Do For The Student," "Making Friends In College," and "Personality Traits Necessary For Fine Friendships" will be presented by Dean Edwards. Miss Marion L. Frazer, Dean of Girls at the Charlotte High School will talk on "Desirable Study Habits." "How To Take Notes" will be explained by Dr. Agnes Stout, Head of the English Department at Queens. Dr. Kratz will give the "Good Student's Attitude Toward Tests and Examinations." Dr. Oren Moore, a prominent

Queens' Girls Hear Miller - Myers Park

Charlotte Observer Editor Addresses Sunday School Class of Queens Students

"An intimate relationship obtains between education and religion", said Dr. Julian Miller in addressing the Queens class of Myers Park Presbyterian Church.

Upon investigation it is easily discovered that education is not one thing and religion another—they are "twin companions." The primary design of education is to bring the best in humanity out. The primary purpose of religion is to put the best in.

The educational program of our schools today is designed to bring out three main qualities: self-reliance, self-expression upon which modern psychologists lay so much stress, and self-discipline. However, education that does not draw upon those "sterling" qualities of life that are concerned with religious motives is little better than a "temporary polish." It succeeds in getting the best in humanity out, but overlooks what must be put in.

Collegiate Digest A Supplement To Queens Blues

Students Receiving Weekly Pictorial Magazine

A regular pictorial review of the news of the college world will be featured each week in The Collegiate Digest section of THE QUEENS BLUES.

Featuring exclusively lively features written especially for its wide collegiate audience in addition to the regular news of the week "in picture and paragraph", Collegiate Digest brings to the readers of THE QUEENS BLUES the most complete pictorial review of college. A new and outstanding feature of the issues this year will be the unusual Speed Graph photos taken with the "Magic Eye" camera and depicting the continuous motions of athletes in action. The remarkable photos have been made possible recently by the invention of a camera which "stops" the various movements of people in action.

Then, too, Collegiate Digest will continue in The Spotlights, its bright and lively stories of the great and near great who graduated from or attended college. The first issue features the biography of America's greatest humorist, Will Rogers, presenting many heretofore unpublished facts about his life.

CHI OMEGA PLEDGES ELECT OFFICERS

The Chi Omega pledges have elected the following officers: president, Helen Malloy; treasurer, Elizabeth Gammon; and secretary, Ruth Knee.

Kratz Chosen Instruction Dean At Queens-Chicora

Pennsylvanian Appointed By Trustees To Important Position

DR. ALTHEA KRATZ

Dr. Kratz of Lansdale, Pennsylvania has recently been appointed Dean of Instruction by the Board of Trustees of Queens-Chicora College. Dr. Kratz will begin her active service in this capacity on September 1.

Dr. Kratz received her doctorate from the University of Pennsylvania in the Spring. She did her graduate work in Sociology with allied work in Political Science, Psychology and Economics. Dr. Kratz also received her B. S. in Education from the University of Pennsylvania. While doing her graduate work at the University, she was a Medical Social Case Worker on the Social Service Staff at the Graduate School of Medicine.

Dr. Kratz was very prominently connected with the student activities as an undergraduate. She was president of the Junior Class, and during Coronet Will Make Debut First of Nov.

Smith, Batten, and True Head Publication. First Issue To Feature Freshmen

Under the supervision of May Leppy Smith as Editor-in-chief, with Anne Batten as Literary Editor, and Margaret True as Business Manager, The Coronet will make its first appearance on the campus about the first of November. This first issue will have the usual contributions of poetry and short stories and many special features. Contributors are Ione Smith, Margaret Anderson, Sue Mauldin, Lois E. Thompson and Lura Coffey.

Contrary to last year's plan of placing some pictures from every class in each issue, this edition will feature the Freshman class.

The student body, in a recent chapel, made known their unanimous approval of, and appreciation for, May Leppy's beautiful selection of Coronet covers which are to be dark and light blue leather with the seal of Queens-Chicora.

Music Department Adds Instructors

Grace Robinson, Voice; Mary Wharton, Piano; Join The Faculty

Two new instructors have come to the Music Department at Queens this year; Miss Grace Robinson, Voice; and Miss Mary Wharton, Piano.

Miss Robinson has had training at the Institute of Musical Art and the Julliard School of Music, both in New York City. For two years she studied in Paris. She taught for four years in the Birmingham School for Girls, Birmingham, Pennsylvania; and, also, in the Greenville Woman's College, Greenville, South Carolina, where she was very active in organizing a children's chorus. Since she has been in Charlotte, Miss Robinson has sung for the Kiwanis Club with great success; and was also very enthusiastically received when she sang at one of the first Queens chapel programs.

Miss Wharton comes to Queens from Belhaven Conservatory in Jackson, Mississippi, where she was the Director of Piano for fifteen years. As a pianist, she is very outstanding. She was the pupil of William H.

BOHUMIR KRYL AND HIS SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA BAND

Queens-Chicora Students to hear Band of Great Kryl, noted Bohemian Virtuoso, Oct. 26

Bohumir Kryl, with his Symphony Band comprising an exceptional personnel of artists, will present a concert at Queens-Chicora College on the afternoon of Saturday, October 26.

Kryl and his organization, now entering on the thirty-first consecutive season, have been enthusiastically received by music critics everywhere. During its year of activity Kryl's band has given over twelve thousand concerts and has traveled over a million miles. The educational value of the concerts is attested by the repeated engagements year after year by colleges and universities where the band has appeared. The schedule has included more than one hundred colleges and universities annually.

Of great interest is the colorful career of Bohumir Kryl which began in a little Bohemian village. His first public appearance was made in early youth as a trapeze flyer with a circus. Using his violin to pay his way to America, Kryl became a sculptor with the late General Lew Wallace. At this time John Philip Sousa heard him, and he became cornet soloist with the March King's Band. His rise to international fame as conductor of his own band followed.

The famous bandmaster has been described as a good showman who knows how to blend art and entertainment, to win the respect of the serious music lover and to amuse the casual listener.

With such a recommendation every member of Queens-Chicora campus should take advantage of this cultural opportunity which is being sponsored by Alpha Kappa Gamma, national leadership fraternity and Alpha Lambda Mu, musical fraternity. The tickets may be purchased by faculty members and students for fifty cents and by all others for seventy-five cents.
