

QUEENS BLUES

Z-526

Published Weekly By The Students of Queens-Chicora College

Vol. 10 No. 7

QUEENS-CHICORA COLLEGE, CHARLOTTE, N. C.

November 5, 1938

Association Holds Meet In Durham

North Carolina Press Group Has Fall Convention At Duke

The fall convention of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association is meeting this week-end in Durham, N. C., with headquarters at the Washington Duke hotel there and with Duke University acting as host to the delegates. The meeting began on Thursday, November 3, and will continue through today.

The program for the three days was as follows: On Thursday, the delegates registered from 2:00 until 5:00 o'clock in the lobby of the hotel. At 8:00 o'clock there was a meeting of the officers of the Association. On Friday, there was a general meeting and welcome in the Union Ballroom on the West Campus of the University at 10:00 o'clock. At 1:00 o'clock lunch was served in the ballroom. Group meetings were held beginning at 3:00 o'clock in the Union for annual editors, newspaper editors, magazine editors, and business managers. At 8:00 o'clock on Friday a banquet was given for the delegates in the Washington Duke Hotel, followed by a dance. A business session will be held this morning in the hotel, after which the convention will be adjourned.

Delegates attending the convention from Queens-Chicora College include Sue Mauldin, editor of the Coronet, annual publication of the college, Ruth Knee, business manager of the Coronet, Annie Mae Brown, editor of the Queens Blues, weekly publication of the college, Betsy Springer, business manager of the Blues, and Genevieve Hosmer, member of the advertising staff of the Blues.

Officers of the association are Walter James, business manager of the Chronicle, Duke, president; Rut Miller, editor of the Scripts and Pranks, Davidson, first vice-president; Frances Wimberly, editor of the White Heather, Flora MacDonald, second vice-president; Edna Earle Bostick, business manager of the Coraddi, WCUNC, secretary; and Gibbs C. Gibbs, editor of the Lenoir-Rhynean, Lenoir-Rhyne, treasurer.

Spectators Have Meet

The Creative Writing division of the Spectator Club held its second fall meeting at 4 o'clock on Friday, October 28, at the Alpha Delta Theta house.

Under the leadership of Henrietta McIver the members enjoyed a program with various phases of short story writing as a theme. Miss Mary Denny, instructor in English, and sponsor for the group, gave a talk on planning and writing short stories; and she presented the girls with mimeographed sheets of suggestions to emphasize her points.

A short story, "Little Red Riding Hood Doll," written by Maujer Moseley, was read by Miss McIver. Plans were discussed for starting a magazine and also for having refreshments at future meetings.

Poetry will be the theme of the next meeting which will be held on Friday, November 11.

ALL ABOARD FOR DURHAM

Front row, left to right: Genevieve Hosmer, Annie Mae Brown, Betsy Springer. Back row, left to right: Sue Mauldin, Ruth Knee, Dot Baker.

Six Girls Are Chosen For Honor

Six Are Nominated By College To Try For "Who's Who" For 1938-39

Six girls from Queens-Chicora have been nominated for the honor of appearing in the 1938-39 edition of "Who's Who in the American Universities and Colleges." Those selected to be sent in from here are Helen Cumnock of Davidson, Sally McDowell of Pacolet, S. C., Mildred Lowrance of Mooresville, Sara Durant of Newton, Iowa, Sue Mauldin of Charlotte, and Anne Fuller of Buffalo, Ala.

During her four years here Miss Cumnock has held many offices. These include treasurer of the freshman class, president of the sophomore and junior classes, secretary of the Athletic Association in her sophomore year, member of Choral Club for four years, vice-president of Chi Omega social sorority her junior year, sports editor of the QUEENS BLUES her junior year, historian of Alpha Kappa Gamma, national leadership fraternity, and this year she is president of the student body.

Miss McDowell was secretary of the sophomore class, treasurer of the Choral Club her junior year, treasurer of the home economics club her junior year, chairman of Junior-Senior last year, vice-president of Alpha Delta Pi social sorority, her sophomore year, pledge instructor the same year, secretary of the junior class, secretary of boarding student council last year, secretary of Alpha Delta Pi, treasurer of Alpha Kappa Gamma, in May Court for three years, in the beauty section of the annual for two years, and this year is president of the boarding student body.

Miss Lowrance has been active in many ways. She has been on the basketball and volley ball teams during all three years, on Athletic Council her sophomore year, winning the Athletic cup her sophomore year; she was on the Queens Blue staff her first and second years, business manager of the Blues her junior year, a member of the Coronet staff this year, gallery chairman of stunt night her sophomore year and again this year, class representative on May Court committee her sophomore and junior years; she has been a member of the Choral Club all four years and a member of the League of Evangelical students for three years; this year she is secretary of Alpha Kappa Gamma, president of the Phi Mu pledges, a member of Iota Zeta, president of the Student Christian Association, and state treasurer of S.C.A.

Miss Durant has been treasurer of the junior class, treasurer of the Choral Club, of which she has been a member for three years, Pan-Hellenic representative for Alpha Delta Theta, treasurer of Alpha Delta Theta, secretary of the Student Christian Association, first vice-president of the boarding student body, and president of Morrison dormitory.

Miss Mauldin has been sophomore and junior class representative on the Day Student Council, publicity chairman of the Student Christian Association, member of Sigma Mu for two years, member of Iota Zeta for three years, member of the Linnean Club, member and group leader of the Literary Society, member of

(Continued on page six)

Broadcast Given Here

Autumn Is Theme of Program On Third Broadcast Of Queens

The weekly radio broadcast of Queens-Chicora College was heard on Wednesday afternoon, November 2, at 3:30 o'clock over local radio station WSOC, at which time the program was devoted to the theme of "Autumn."

The program was opened as usual by the playing of the Queens-Chicora radio hymn, played on the organ by Dr. James M. Godard, with Marie Roseman playing the violin and Eleanor Alexander singing the words. A poem, "Autumn Cornfield" by Dr. M. A. Graham, recently printed in the Queens Blues, was read by Annie Mae Brown. Mrs. Charles M. Moseley played the familiar "Autumn" from "Woodland Sketches" by McDowell. Henrietta McIver read a poem, "This Hour," which also was printed in the Blues, and which she wrote. "In the Luxembourg Gardens" by Manning was sung by Eleanor Alexander, describing this time of year in the famous gardens. She was accompanied by Mrs. Moseley.

Dorothy Carson played on the piano "Stern November" from "Sonnets to Autumn" by Cecil Burleigh, depicting the later stages of autumn. The campus calendar was read by Annie Mae Brown.

Kay Duncan announced the program.

The program on November 9 will be dedicated to the theme of War and Peace in connection with Armistice Day.

Three Girls Go To Meet

Student Christian Association Meets At Peace College For Conference

The ninth annual conference of the Student Christian Association was held on Saturday and Sunday, October 19 and 20, at Peace College in Raleigh, N. C. Seven colleges were represented at the conference, including Davidson, Mitchell, Peace, Flora-MacDonald, Lees-McRea, Presbyterian Junior College and Queens-Chicora.

The topic of the conference and theme was the "Student's Need of the Hour." This was reasoned upon in the various discussion groups held throughout the two days.

The conference began on Saturday evening with a discussion on "What is the greatest need on the campus today?" Following the meeting the Peace girls gave a Halloween party.

The program for Sunday included attendance at Governor Clyde Hoey's Sunday School class, church, a discussion group in the afternoon and vespers in the evening. Following vespers, the third discussion group met. The topic for this last meeting was "How can the state Student Christian Association help the local Student Christian Associations to meet their needs?"

The conference was closed on Monday morning with a morning watch.

Those attending from Queens-Chicora were Mildred Lowrance, president of the local S.C.A.; Olive Crosswell, boarding student vice-president of the S.C.A.; and Katherine McQueen Martin, chairman of churchwork on the S.C.A. cabinet.

Avon Players To Perform

Famous Artists Will Appear At Queens-Chicora College On Tuesday

The Avon Players, under the direction of Joseph Selman, will present at the only showing in Charlotte on Tuesday, November 8, the Taming of the Shrew, a Shakespearian play. Their appearance will be sponsored by the Olympian Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma, national leadership fraternity.

The Players are famous throughout the country for their fine and authentic presentations of the plays written by William Shakespeare. This particular comedy is especially good.

Members of the Circle sponsoring their appearance are Eleanor Alexander, president; Mildred Lowrance, secretary; Sally McDowell, treasurer; Sue Mauldin, Helen Hatcher, Helen Cumnock, Anne Fuller, Sara Durant, Annie Mae Brown, Georgie Hurt, Mrs. Virginia Miller Agnew, Dr. Dorisse Howe, Miss Thelma Albright, and Miss Grace Robinson.

On Friday, November 4, the faculty gave a formal tea in Burwell Hall in honor of the day students and their mothers and guardians.

The receiving line was made up of the entire faculty. The refreshments of which Mrs. Warren Booker and the Home Economics department were in charge, carried out the fall motif, as did the flowers and decorations. Members of the Home Economics department served.