Davidson Is Party Guest Of Queens

Boys Are Entertained Here At Supper, Stunt Night, And Singing

The bi-annual fall party given by Queens-Chicora College for Davidson College was given on last Thursday evening beginning at 6:30 o'clock.

Boys met their dates in Burwell Hall at the bureau under the direction of Frances Ehrhardt and Sara Durant. Supper was served on back campus with the group gathered around a large bonfire, where marshmallows were toasted after the supper.

The party then adjourned to the auditorium for a repetition of Stunt Night, at which time the boys judged the sophomore stunt to be best.

Sally McDowell was crowned popularity queen in Morrison Hall, after which singing, led by Helen Cunnock, president of the student body, closed the evening.

Local Teams Are Selected

The four class volley-ball teams have been selected by Miss Cordelia Henderson, physical education instructor. The interclass games will be played Tuesday, November 22, at 3:30 o'clock in the gym.

Flora MacDonald was chosen captain of the freshman team. Other members of the team are Sara Alice Taylor, Jane Montgomery, Mary Katherine Martin, Mary Alice Feaster, Elizabeth Oswald, Ann Mauldin, and Cora Wayland.

The sophomore team will be headed by Mildred Taylor as captain. Other girls on the team are Helen Rhyne, Jennie Linn Wright, Victoria Troutman, Dorothy Longenecker, Lillian Sample, Elizabeth Brammer, Frances Kerr, and Elizabeth Taylor.

Martha Stoner was made captain of the junior team. Other members of the team are Anne Fuller, Elizabeth Green, Ann Cheers, Lucille Gwaltney, Woodrow Summers, Alice Longenecker, Irene McCall, and Betsy Springer.

Norma Moore was chosen captain of the senior team. Others on the team are Beatrice Kiser, Kate Brown, Kathryn K. Martin, Mildred Lowrance, Cree Roberts, Jean Craven, and Marguerite Craven.

Have You Noticed?

That all seem to have had a grand time last Thursday night . . . that the thermometer doesn't say "nix" anymore on fur coats (at least not while I'm writing this) . . . that the football season is almost over . . . that people have more fun than anybody—except college BOYS . . . that the junior class is still selling those handsome plaques (plug No. 1) . . . that it's only thirty-five days until Christmas and only twenty-six days until we get out for our holidays . . . that Hitler

OI!

Linnean Club Holds Meet

The second meeting of the Linnean club was held November 8 in the Science Building.

Scotty McNulty, president, presided at the meeting. After minutes were read by Betty Kale, a short business session was held and the group discussed the expected visit of Mrs. MacMillan from Raleigh. Each member of the club was urged to pay her dues so the annual page might be paid for immediately.

The regular program proceeded with Gentry Burke's talk on garden flowers and Pan Peyton's discussion on wild flowers. The meeting was adjourned immediately after the program.

Miss Sara Nooe took several girls on a hike Saturday afternoon and they acquired many specimens of moss and mushrooms.

Joint Recital To Be Given

Mrs. Charles M. Moseley and Miss Grace Robinson will be presented in a joint recital in the college auditorium Tuesday evening, November 22, at 8:15 o'clock.

The program will be opened with selections by Miss Robinson. She will sing "Chant de la Naiade" from "Armida" by Gluck; "Der Nussbaum" by Schumann; "Morgen" by Strauss; and "Elsa's Traum" from "Lohengrin" by Wagner. Miss Robinson will be accompanied by her sister, Mrs. James V. Robinson of Greenville, S. C.

Mrs. Moseley will play "Capriccio" by Scarlatti and "Perpetual Motion" by Weber, after which Miss Robinson will again sing. Her selections will be "Septembre" by Gretchaninoff, "Octobre" by Gretchaninoff, and "L'Invitation au Voyage" by Duprae.

Mrs. Moseley will play "Nocturne Op. 15 No. 2" by Chopin, and "Etude" and "Scherzo in B Flat Minor," both by Chopin. Miss Robinson will sing "My Lovely Celia" by Munro Wilson; "The Bird of the Wilderness" by Horsman; "When I Have Sung My Songs To You" by Charles; and "Rain" by Curran.

The program will be ended with Mrs. Moseley's playing of "Andalucia" by Lecuena, "The Singing Fountain" by Neimann, and "Rhapsody in C Major" by Dohnanyi.

Mrs. Agnew will honor Mrs. Moseley and Miss Robinson at a reception after the concert in Burwell hall to which out-of-town guests, town guests, faculty, and students of the music department will be invited.

Chamber Music To Be Heard

Don Richardson, instructor of violin, will present a chamber music recital in the auditorium Sunday, November 27, from 5:00 until 6:00 o'clock.

Several numbers will be played by a quartet composed of Eugene Craft at the piano, Jack Berger at the cello, L. Kunther of San Francisco and Mr. Richardson at the violin.

Students of Mr. Richardson who will appear on the program will be Miss Marie Roseman of the college, C. B. Efrid of Albemarle, Joe Beard of Cornelius, and Miss Frances Pierce of Mt. Holly.

Other features of the program will be a quartet from the Charlotte Male Chorus directed by J. Milton Panetti and vocal and piano numbers by members of the college music department.

Sophomores Win Annual Stunt Night

Classes Present Four Stunts; Canterbury Tales Is Winner

This year's Stunt Night cup was awarded on Wednesday night in the Queens-Chicora College auditorium to the sophomore class for having the best stage and gallery in the annual event of the year. Mrs. Maurice Townend, chairman of the committee of judges, made the presentation.

The freshman stunt was presented first and represented a Rat Haven, with Winnie Shealy and Helen Pope the dead rats. Mildred Sneed and Elizabeth Taylor were called on to be punished and forced to push cheese across the stage. Chairman of the stunt was Keller Young with Ann Mauldin heading the gallery.

The sophomore stunt was a burlesque of the Canterbury Tales and showed their dreams on the night before a Chaucer test. Characters were, knight, Anne Harris; prioress, Mimi Bradham; squire, Julia Edwards; wyf of bath, Jennie Linn Wright; carpenter, Mary Mason; miller, Sarah Thompson; summoner, Caroline Edwards; friar, Ermine Waddill; musician, Marie Roseman; clerk, Olivia Gillespie; and host, Dorothy Robinson. Elizabeth Brammer was chairman of the stunt and Mary Payne chairman of the gallery.

The junior class presented Cinderella as a story book hour. Those taking part were, Cinderella, Claire Wishart; Prince Charming, Ann Pease; two sisters, Anahie Cheers and Elizabeth Green; godmother, Elaine Suber. Virginia Duncan read the dialogue. Chairman of the stunt was Georgie Hurt, and Frances Stough led the gallery.

The senior stunt was a take-off on the Shakespearian play, "The Taming of the Shrew," presented for the enjoyment of Queen Elizabeth, played by Kitty Baker. Others in the skit were Petruchio, Anne Triplett; Katherine, Mary Griffin; Baptista, Frances Marion O'Hair; Lucentio, Jean Craven; Bianca, Frances Ehrhardt; Grunio, Sara Keiger; and Tranio, Elizabeth Little. Chairman of the stunt was Frances Reins, and chairman of the gallery was Mildred Lowrance.

The galleries were dressed, freshman, as rats; sophomores, in pajamas and bathrobes; juniors, as children; and seniors, as noble and ladies-in-waiting.

Flittin' Around
With SARAH THOMPSON
On Homesickness

I sorta figgered 'round about now all of your thoughts are turning toward home—and things therein—so I thought maybe I'd better let you know that none of you are alone in those little moments of homesickness—and tell a few tales out of school (or maybe in) about what causes homesickness.

S' funny but it seems like it's the little things that count in this case. When you see a girl propped against a tree, post, chair, bed, or just thin air, with that faraway look in her eyes, you may know she's a victim of that deadly mania called homesickness. Anyway, as I was saying, little things, like children on the sidewalk can make a girl homesick.

Lib Brammer—good old Morrison gal—says there's lots o' things that can make her homesick. One in particular. Here I'll do my best to print a be-e-you-tiful picture. On the way home from town on Saturday night in a taxi—we ride toward the residential district and we see on either side of us softly lighted homes—and within we see families—
