

QUEENS BLUES

Z-526

Published Weekly By The Students of Queens-Chicora College

Vol. 18 No. 10

QUEENS-CHICORA COLLEGE, CHARLOTTE, N. C.

December 3, 1938

Former Ambassador Speaks In Charlotte

Many Queens Students Hear William Dodd Lecture On Germany

William E. D. Dodd, former United States ambassador to Germany, spoke in a packed Central High School auditorium on "The Situation in Germany Today," last Monday, November 28, at 8:00 o'clock. He was the first of several lecturers, among whom are Pearl Buck and Dorothy Thompson, to be presented by the Social Science teachers of Charlotte.

Miss Oma Lafferty of the High School faculty presented Mr. Charles Tillett, a Charlotte attorney, who then introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. Dodd.

The first part of the former ambassador's talk was a preliminary leading up to the main part concerning the situation in Germany. He stressed the fact that the United States was mainly responsible for Germany's condition because she did not follow President Wilson's advice after the World War. Dr. Dodd said that if we had joined the League of Nations and exerted our great democratic influence, Germany's democracy would have succeeded and, there probably would have been no Hitler or Mussolini today.

Furthermore, the renowned North Carolinian stated that if the present Hitler regime should continue for ten more years it would last for five hundred years. It is up to the democracies of the world and especially the United States to stand together and try to prevent the seemingly inevitable domination of central Europe by dictators.

The most urgent obstacle to be overcome at present, Dr. Dodd said, is that of the Jewish oppression and persecution by Hitler. Several distressing examples of this German entanglement were given: in many churches Hitler's statue replaces that of Christ; there is a grotesque statue to the German who killed the most Jews in 1933; every publication is censored by a German official who is arrested if he overlooks anything.

Inglis Goes To Meeting

Teacher Attends Convention Of Business Group In Atlanta

Miss Mary Inglis, head of the department of secretarial administration at Queens-Chicora College, has recently returned from a trip to Atlanta, Ga., where she attended the annual convention of the Southern Business Education Association, which was held in that city on November 24, 25, and 26.

The theme of the meeting this year was "Service to Youth and Business Through Study and Growth in the Field of Business Education."

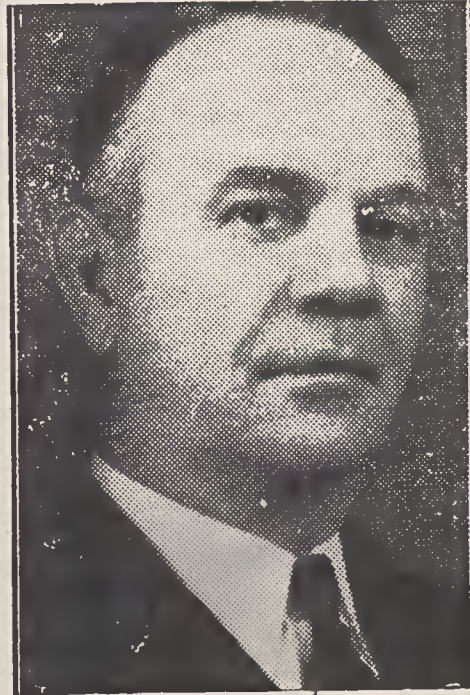

Over 250 delegates attended the meet, coming from twelve southern states, with North Carolina leading in number outside of Georgia.

General meetings were held on Friday and Saturday mornings. On Friday afternoon, the three divisions of colleges, public schools, and private schools, held separate meetings for discussion. On Friday night, there was a banquet and dance for the delegates. After-dinner speaker at the banquet was Abit Nix, attorney from Athens, Ga., who spoke on "Business Education's Big Job."

The organization was begun sixteen years ago. Mrs. Gertrude G. DeArmond of the Wheeler Business College in Birmingham, Ala., was the presiding officer of the convention, and A. J. Lawrance of the University of Kentucky was elected the new president.

Four girls from Queens-Chicora College are at present attending a convention of the State Home Economics Student Club in Greensboro, N. C., including Agnew Hope Gwaltney, Dorothy Duckett, Hannal McNulty, and Sue McNulty.

The meeting was begun yesterday and is continuing through today. The convention is held annually for college and high school home economic students and is being held at the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina.

DR. SHELTON PHELPS
Courtesy Charlotte Observer.

Dr. Phelps Is Speaker

Dr. Shelton Phelps, president of Winthrop College in Rock Hill, S. C., was after-dinner speaker at the formal dinner given on the evening of November 22 in Morrison Hall, choosing as his topic "Thanksgiving."

Dr. Phelps said that there were two most important things for which Americans should be thankful, the space to live and move in, and the freedom which allowed them to move.

Prior to his talk, Mrs. Virginia Miller Agnew introduced other guests from Winthrop, including Mrs. Phelps, Mrs. D. B. Johnson, Miss Leila Russell, Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Roberts, Miss Ruth Stephenson, Miss Ermine Willfong, Miss Jeanette Roth, and Miss Constance Wardell.

The Christmas formal dinner will be held on the night of December 15 in Morrison Hall at 6:30 o'clock.

Richardson Gives Recital

A large audience heard a chamber music recital Sunday afternoon in the college auditorium, given by Don Richardson, violinist; Eugene Craft, pianist; Fred Kuthan, violinist; and Jacob Berger, cellist.

This string quartette was assisted by Elinor Guyton, pianist; Frances Riddle, soprano; and Joe Beard, C. B. Efrid, Jr., Frances Pierce, and Marie Roseman, all violinists.

Mr. Richardson dedicated the program to Dr. W. H. Frazer and the ministers of Charlotte.

The program was as follows: 1. "Sarabande" by Handel; Minuet and Allegro from "Nachtstuck" by Mozart, string quartette. 2. Soprano solo by Frances Riddle, "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings," by Liddle. 3. "Serenade" by Gounod, string quartette. 4. Piano solo by Elinor Guyton, "Intermezzo" by Szalit. 5. Violin quartet, "Prayer" by Bortniansky; and "Autumn" by Zamenick. 6. "Ave Maria" by Schubert, string quartette. 7. Adagio from "Sonata Pathetique" by Beethoven; and "Gavotte" (1706-1784) by Martini, violin, cello and piano.

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to Louis J. Radcliffe for the beautiful flowers given for the recent formal dinner.

Choral Club To Give Christmas Program

Joint Recital Is Given Here

Robinson, Moseley Presented In Faculty Recital At Queens

Mrs. Elsie Stokes Moseley and Miss Grace Robinson were presented in a joint recital in the college auditorium Tuesday evening, November 22, at 8:15 o'clock.

The program was opened with selections by Miss Robinson. She sang "Chant de la Naiade" from "Armide" by Gluck; "Der Nussbaum" by Schumann; "Morgen" by Strauss; and "Elsa's Traum" from "Lohengrin" by Wagner. Miss Robinson was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. James V. Robinson of Greenville, S. C.

Mrs. Moseley played "Capriccio" by Scarlatti and "Perpetual Motion" by Weber, after which Miss Robinson again sang. Her next selections were "Septembre" by Gretchaninoff, "October" by Gretchaninoff, and "L'Invitation au Voyage" by Duparc.

Mrs. Moseley then played "Nocturne Op. 15 No. 2" by Chopin, and "Etude" and "Scherzo in B flat Minor," both by Chopin. Miss Robinson then sang "My Lovely Celia" by Munro Wilson; "The Bird of the Wilderness" by Horsman; "When I Have Sung My Songs To You" by Charles; and "Rain" by Curran.

The program was ended with Mrs. Moseley's playing of "Andalucia" by Lecuona; "The Singing Fountain" by Neumann; and "Rhapsody No. 3 in C Major" by Dohnanyi.

Immediately following the recital, Dean Agnew entertained at a reception in honor of Mrs. Moseley and Miss Robinson in Burwell hall. Invited to the reception were all out-of-town guests, town guests, faculty members and students of the music department. Mrs. Agnew was assisted in serving by members of the Sophomore Council and Misses Helen Cumnock, president of the student body; Sally McDowell, president of the boarding student council; and Sara Durant, vice-president of the boarding student council.

Annual Christmas Program Slated For Sunday Afternoon December 11

The annual Christmas Carol service will be presented by the Choral Club of Queens-Chicora College under the direction of Miss Grace Robinson on Sunday, December 11, in the college auditorium.

The program is as follows: Invocation by Dr. William H. Frazer; O Come O Come Emmanuel!—French Missiah; O Thou That Tellest Glad Tidings by Handel, sung by Frances Riddle; Silent Night by Guiber; Carol of the Russian Children, arranged by Gaul; The First Nowell—Traditional Melody; Organ solo, selected, Elsie Stokes Moseley; Christmas Hymn—17th century; O Holy Night by Adam, sung by Esther Love Hillhouse; The Shepherds by Cornelius-Salter, sung by Eleanor Alexander, Frances Riddle, Maujer Moseley, Sara DuRant, Virginia Smith, Frances Stough, Helen Cumnock, Marie Roseman, and Esther Love Hillhouse; Shepherd's Christmas Song—Austrian Melody, sung by Sara DuRant; Jesu Bambino by Pietro Yox, by Eleanor Alexander; We Three Kings of Orient Are as arranged by Geer; O Come All Ye Faithful, hymn; and Benediction by Dr. Frazer.

The Choral Club will also broadcast a program of Christmas music over local radio station WBT from 10 until 10:30 o'clock on Wednesday evening, December 14. The music appreciation class will provide a thirty-minute program over local radio station WSOC on December 7 at 3:15 o'clock.

Officers of the club are Eleanor Alexander of Knoxville, president; Sara Durant of Newton, Iowa, secretary; and Lucille Gwaltney of Charlotte, accompanist.

The first sopranos include Eleanor Alexander, Jean Craven, June Escott, Betty Gardner, Lucille Harmon, Cree Roberts, Virginia Smith, Sara Lee Steiger, Frances Stough, Mary Payne, and Sara Durant.

Second sopranos are Nancy Arroywood, Christina Grainger, Margaret

(Continued on page two)

Queens-Chicora
Week By Week
By VIRGINIA SMITH

Have You Noticed?

The Christmas lights and decorations all over town . . . that the "Lambeth Walk" never definitely clicked in this country in spite of the efforts of its devotees (some of you may disagree with me on this) . . . that we may have a "white Christmas" yet . . . that the former sister class (last year's seniors) of the sophomore class also won the stunt night cup in their sophomore year at Queens . . . any mysterious wrapping of packages . . . that non-sensical humor is predominant on our campus and it makes us a good natured student body . . . how small the junior class is this year . . . that the basketball season has begun . . . that Eddie Duchin has a grand dinner music program every Saturday afternoon at five-thirty . . . that though they claim not to be superstitious, many people will walk around, rather than under, a ladder . . . that the S.C.A. mission bags have not yet been filled and you can do your part to help . . . how delighted everyone was to see Dr. Kratz and disappointed that she couldn't stay longer . . . the large number of Pi Kappa Phi pins displayed on our campus.

List of Likeables:
Tuesday, simply because it follows "blue Monday" . . . Ken Carpenter and his chime ringing episodes on the Kraft Music Hall program . . . the mob scenes that greet one in some of the dorm rooms during a "bull session" . . . cold turkey sandwiches . . . the grand feeling of no study-

(Continued on back page)

Flittin' Around

With SARAH THOMPSON
Slang 'n Stuff

Have you ever seen any one who didn't use slang? No, you haven't—but if you have, I know (to use a slang expression) they musta' been awful "stiff" and boresome and uninteresting 'cause slang is a vital part of our language today—take it from me!

Why, shucks, if we couldn't say "gosh and pe-tunia" — and "great glory" and words like that, our speech would be utterly lifeless!

But just lately I've heard many new slang expressions—and I'm telling you, the slang is about to blot out the real meaning of sentences. (Does this make sense?) And as I was saying—all these new slang expressions just go to show us that we're getting plum modern — and might near ahead of ourselves.

Not long ago I witnessed one of the funniest sights I've ever seen. Three girls were standing on the front steps of Burwell waiting for a taxi. They were chatting about this, that, and nothing in particular when the taxi came. The driver, who was a man of about fifty years or so—anyway, he was getting a bit gray around the temples—hopped briskly out and opened the door—when one of the girls said: "Well, for knittin' in the bath tub—I didn't see the taxi drive in!" Well, the poor fellow got so upset, he groped around for his false teeth, which had, no doubt, jumped out of place, and crossed his eyes, finally ending up

(Continued on back page)