

Girls Begin Observing In City Schools

Members of Senior Class Are Observing In Schools All Over City

Members of the senior class began their practice teaching Monday when they started observing in various classrooms in schools all over the city.

Before actually practice teaching, each senior must have twenty hours of observing to her credit. Dean James M. Godard has supervision over the practice teachers who are also responsible to their teachers in their major courses.

Girls who are observing now in high schools are Eleanor Alexander, Annie Laurie Anderson, Eugenia Baker, Marguerite Craven, Mary Griffin, Eleanor Jenkins, Lucille Kidd, Sarah Little, Mildred Lowrance, Hilda McManus, Sue Mauldin, Mattie Lee McKey, Frances Reins, Ann McCree Roberts, Nanette Sherard, Marjorie Timms, and Alene Ward.

Home Economics majors who are observing now are Jean Craven, Emily Ferguson, Agnes Hope Gwaltney, Katherine McQueen Martin, Norma Moore, Sally McDowell, Stacie Orr, Frances Poole, Laura Query, Elsie Rowe, and Anneal Triplette.

Students observing in the elementary schools are Katherine Moore, Martha Bingham, Katherine Craven, Sarah DuRant, Frances Ehrhardt, Margaret Howe, Nell James, Betty Kale, Sarah Keiger, Frances Marion O'Hair, Juanita Putnam, Lenore Russell, Harriette Tuttle, Dorothy Wilkie, Rachel Williams, Suzanne Brice, and Josephine Long, a former graduate who has come back to practice teach.

The teachers under whom these girls will do their practice work are: Central High School—Miss Jessie Rankin, Miss Oma Lafferty, Miss Lillian Parks, Miss Margaret Newland, Miss Helen McManus, Miss Mary Law Grey, Miss Cornelia Fore, and Miss Elizabeth Ramsey.

Piedmont Junior High—Miss Janie Kilgore, Miss Lily Winn, Mrs. Louise Welch, Miss Katherine McLeskey, Miss Florine Hampton, Mrs. Isabel Hunter. Alexander Junior High—Miss Gertrude Smith, Miss Frances Gunter, Miss Fannie Little. Dilworth grammar school — Miss Harriette Thompson, Mrs. Annie Saunders, Miss Minnie Moore, Miss Virginia Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Margaret Miller, and Miss Leanna Geddie. Wilmore grammar — Miss Kitty Sandifer, Miss Rachel Boylston, Miss Mary Blankenship, Mrs. Carrie Burnett, and Miss Sarah Blythe. Myers Park School—Miss Margaret Thompson, Mrs. A. B. Kohn, and Miss Mary Blair. Elizabeth—Miss Catherine Grey. Eastover—Miss Mary Moore. Also—Central High—Miss Rebecca Markham and Miss Florence Thomas. Harding High—Mrs. Davis.

Queen's Quill's Staff Named

The staff of the Queens Quill, newly organized publication of the Creative Writing group of the Spectator Club, has been announced by Henrietta McIver, editor-in-chief of the publication.

(Continued on page five)

Left to right: Rev. Peter Marshall and Mildred Lowrance, president of S.C.A. Rev. Mr. Marshall led the S.C.A. fall services Monday and Tuesday.

Office Releases The Dean's List

The first semester Dean's list of the 1938-39 session is announced today by Dean James M. Godard.

The standards for the Dean's list are as follows: juniors and seniors—two distinctions and the rest merits; sophomores—three distinctions and the rest merits; and freshmen—four distinctions and the rest merits. Students whose names appear on the list have, along with the honor, unlimited cuts in all their classes. Anyone on the list who falls below the average at any time will be automatically dropped. In this case, her name can not appear on the list again.

Seniors whose names are on the Dean's list are Eleanor Alexander, Dorothy Baker, Katherine Craven, Olive Croswell, Sara DuRant, Mary Griffin, Agnes Hope Gwaltney, Eleanor Jenkins, Sara Keiger, Ruth Knee, Sara Little, Katherine M. Martin, Sue Mauldin, Mattie Lee McKay, Hilda McManus, Ann Purnell, Marjorie Timms, and Frances Marion O'Hair.

Juniors appearing on the list are Dorothy Brannon, Dorothy Carson, Elizabeth Green, Elizabeth Harms,

(Continued on page six)

The Sphinx chapter of Sigma Mu, national honorary scholastic fraternity on the campus, sponsored a moving picture show, "Tom Jordan's Family," Wednesday night in the college auditorium at 7:15 o'clock. Students, faculty, and the public were invited to attend.

The picture was a record of actual case study made by a social case worker in the Family Welfare Agency. The psychological and social factors producing the family's difficulties were brought out and the treatment given by the case worker was shown.

Glee Clubs Will Present Martha

James Christian Pfohl, music director of Davidson College, is presenting the opera "Martha" in concert form. It is to be a part of the Davidson Music Festival and will come on Tuesday evening, February 14. Singing in the concert are the Davidson and Queens-Chicora Glee Clubs. They will be accompanied by the Michigan Little Symphony and the Davidson Symphony Orchestra. Mr. Ricker of Davidson will be the tenor soloist and Eleanor Alexander of Queens sings the soprano role in "Martha."

The first half of the program on Tuesday evening will be a concert given by the Michigan Little Symphony Orchestra.

Queens students who will take part in the concert are Maujer Moseley, Marguerite Craven, Ermine Waddill, Frances Marion O'Hair, Helen Cumnock, Esther Love Hillhouse, Marie Roseman, Anne Peyton, Anne McCree Roberts, Eleanor Alexander, Mary Payne, Virginia Smith, Sarah DuRant, June Escott, Frances Stough, Sarah Lee Steger, Frances Riddle, Claire Wishart, Betty Gardner, and Frances Hunter.

The freshman class contest edition of the QUEENS BLUES will appear next Saturday, February 11.

Anne Peyton, editor of the freshman edition, has announced her editorial staff as follows: Harriette Scoggin, associate editor; Nell Bookout, news editor; Becky Patton, feature editor; Ann Cromartie, society editor; Flora MacDonald, sports editor; Mary Alice Feaster, exchange editor; and Margaret Caudell, poetry editor.

Reporters are: Winnie Shealy, Ruth Archer, Esther Love Hillhouse, Inez

(Continued on page five)

Peter Marshall Holds Services

Rev. Peter Marshall, pastor of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church of Washington, D. C., gave a series of talks to the student body and faculty on Monday and Tuesday. His visit to the college was sponsored by the Student Christian Association of which Mildred Lowrance is president.

Rev. Mr. Marshall was introduced to the college students and faculty by Dr. S. C. Byrd in Monday morning chapel. His chapel talk was based on a scripture reading taken from the last chapter of the Philippians letter. Giving the secrets of obtaining peace, he listed three rules. First, to worry about nothing because no Christians have a right to worry. Second, he said to pray about everything, because nothing is too minute and insignificant. Third, he said, the most important of all, is to be thankful for anything. He said that adopting these, hearts and minds will be protected by the peace of God through Jesus Christ.

The sophomore Bible class students and visitors heard Rev. Mr. Marshall at 12:00 o'clock when he told of his life and how God has guided him in everything.

Monday afternoon, a discussion group meeting was held. At that time "Courtship and Marriage" was discussed. Rev. Mr. Marshall answered questions and closed the discussion saying, "Remember, it is far more important to be morally right than socially correct."

Monday evening, Olive Croswell, boarding student vice-president of the S.C.A., introduced Rev. Mr. Marshall to a large audience of students, faculty, and town guests. He spoke then on the subject of "The Name-

(Continued on page five)

Money Gift Facilitates Redecoration

Reception Room, Office And Gamma Hall Are Being Refurnished Now

Interest in the furnishings of Burwell Hall has been rekindled by receiving a gift of money for the express purpose of refurnishing the furniture in one of the parlors, the reception hall and in the office of the dean of women. The accomplishment of this project will make these newly furnished rooms decorated and furnished in a consistent manner with the one parlor which was elegantly furnished last year.

A cursory glimpse or outline of the plans will give an idea of what will be expected when this project is completed in another week's time.

The main reception room will be furnished in heavy lawson pieces upholstered in brown leather combined with a couch and several chairs of aqua stick willow. An aqua table on which will be a large lamp will be in the center of the room. The fireplace will contain large new andirons. A long aqua piece of pottery will be placed on the mantle ledges.

The parlor will carry out the eighteenth century plan of furnishings. The draperies are to be very handsome of a beige self-figured material trimmed in multi-colored woolen fringe hanging from under ivory cornices containing a motif of red ivy leaves. The couches and chairs in this room will be arranged in conversational groups. An eighteenth century living room table will have placed on it a lovely lamp and several Italian pottery pieces. Several end tables with lamps and two floor lamps will be used in the room. Tones of aqua combined with complimentary colors will assure attractiveness.

The office of the dean of women will possess a new grayed-blue-green rug. The window treatment will include Venetian blinds and draperies of beige rough textured material woven in strips of coral and aqua tones. Color in this office will be accentuated by contrast of two coral leather chairs with the aqua rug. The aqua stick willow pieces of furniture used in the main reception room and in the office will be made attractive with gay floral linen covered cushions which will emphasize aqua tones. With the completion of this project beautiful setting of a large lobby and two very large reception rooms will be made handsome and attractive for the use of students and faculty.

APPRECIATION

The student body, faculty and friends of Queens-Chicora wish to express their appreciation to the kind donor of this money, to Dean Agnew who is responsible for winning this donor's favor, and to Mrs. Woodruff, who is giving of her time and service for redecoration, Mr. Ovens and Mr. Short, all of Ivey's for making this project possible.