Five Cabinet Members Attend Raleigh Meet

Gwaltney, Reins, Cromartie, Martin,
Croswell, Are Official Delegates

Five members of the Student Christian Association Cabinet attended a Conference of Presbyterian Students in the Synod of North Carolina. The meeting was held in Raleigh on April 15 and 16.

Delegates from Queens were Lucille Gwaltney, Frances Reins, Annie Cromartie, Katherine McQueen Martin, and Olive Croswell. Representatives were present from Queens-Chicora, Davidson, Flora Macdonald, University of North Carolina, Woman's College of the University, State College, Presbyterian Junior College, Mitchell College, Eastern Carolina Teacher's College, Salem College, and Duke University.

The meetings were opened with an address by Miss Lucy Steele of Peace College on "Greeting a Christian Pattern of Life on the Campus." Miss Steele stated that, in order to make life on the campus Christian, one must first create a Christian pattern for his own life. This may be done through conversion and concentration. We should follow I Timothy 4:12, being examples in conversation, in loving, in faithfulness, and in purity. Then, through our own personal religion, a Christian pattern on the campus may be created. Religion is taught. "Life is not an escalator; it is a stairway."

On the evening of April 15, a banquet was held for the guests. The after-dinner speaker was Rev. J. N. Thomas, Minister of the Grace Covenant Presbyterian Church of Richmond, Va. His topic was "The Church and the World Situation."

On the following day, discussion groups were held on "How Can the Student Make His or Her Influence Count in Campus Life?" and "What Can the Student Mean to the Church?" Discussion leaders were Miss Wilmina Rowland, Rev. John H. Marion, Rev. J. K. Roberts, and Rev. James M. Appleby.

The closing address was given by Dr. W. T. Thompson of Union Theological Seminary, in Richmond, Va. Dr. Thompson compared Christian religion with our friendships. He said we like a person for three reasons: because of what he is in himself; because of what he does for us; and because of what we do for him. Our friendship with Jesus involves these same elements. If we like a person because of what he is in himself we must know him and study him and be with him constantly in order to discover his character traits and lovable attributes. If we like him for what he does for us, we must let him do something for us, and we must do something in return. This is true of our relationship with Jesus. We must study the Bible and pray daily in order to know Him and we must let Him do something for us. We must, in return, serve Him with all our hearts, giving to Him the best that is in us.

Art Students Tour North

Mrs. Esther Wright Huffman, head of the art department, and eleven students returned to the college, Monday, April 17, after an educational art tour to New York, Washington, and Williamsburg, Virginia.

In New York, they visited art galleries, museums, Rockefeller Center, the New York School of Interior Design, the House Beautiful Brides' house, and different stores and wholesale houses. They met Miss Ruth Faison Shaw, the originator of finger painting and saw exhibits of originals of magazine covers and bill-board advertisements. They attended a showing of Hattie Carnegie and watched clothes being designed and made by Henri Bendel workers.

On the way up to New York, they visited Williamsburg and on the return trip they spent some time seeing interesting and historical places in and near Washington. They returned by way of the Shenandoah Valley.
