Karl Ginter Home From Poland

By BETTY CRISP

Mr. Karl Ginter, who is President of the Industrial Dyeing Corporation in North Carolina, has recently returned to his home here in Charlotte from a trip on which he started to Danzig, Poland, on the 23rd of August.

Although his parents were German, Mr. Ginter was born in Poland, which at that time, was under Russian control. He has spent his life in Denmark, Sweden, Poland, Russia, and Germany, and he speaks the language of each of these countries fluently.

Mr. Ginter sailed from America on a Polish ship—the M. S. Pilsudski. The news of Germany's declaration of war against Poland reached the ship when it was about a day's journey from Scotland. On the evening after the morning picture show on board the captain of the ship announced to the passengers that their journey would be delayed because of orders from the Polish Government to seek refuge in the nearest port. The majority of the passengers was composed of approximately 1,000 Poles, the remainder of the passengers was composed of approximately 250 Scandinavians and 75 Americans. The reaction of the older Polish passengers to the war news was one of extreme regret and sadness. The reaction of the younger Polish passengers was one of regret but more so one of excitement. The attitude taken by the younger people was to reach their country as soon as possible in order to aid them in their great struggle.

The nearest port from the ship was Inveness, Scotland. The English coastal scout and planes aided the Pilsudski in making a safe voyage to their port by warning them of the position of the German U-Boats, which, although Britain was not then at war with Germany, surrounded that Island.

The Pilsudski finally docked at New Castle, England, where, fortunately there is an American Consulate.

Some of the American people stayed in an old deserted eleventh century castle near New Castle, where they slept on straw mats at night and put all their funds together in order to buy food. The Polish people were largely the wealthier Poles who had come to America to see the World's Fair. It is interesting to note that, when a person leaves Poland, no matter where he is going or how long he intends to stay, he is allowed only a certain amount of Polish money which would value approximately 100 American dollars.

When the boat docked in New Castle, the American people went immediately to the consulate for information about the ways to return to America. It was here discovered that seventeen of the American passengers were traveling without passports because they were traveling to Denmark, in which case no passport is necessary. Mr. Ginter was asked by the American Consulate to go to London for the papers which were necessary to enable these people to leave the ship. Mr. Ginter said that he was entering London while part of the evacuation program was being carried out. He observed that the English people were very calm and

Four Classes Fill Offices

The four classes held meetings after chapel Wednesday morning to elect their cheer leaders, stunt night chairmen, and rat day committees.

The freshmen class chose as its chairman Doris McKinney of Greenwood, S. C. She will serve until second semester where the regular freshmen officers are elected. Last year's chairman was Keller Young of Whitmire, S. C. The officers were Vashti Gornto of Wilmington, president; Louise Lowe of Buffalo, Ala., vice-president; Jane Montgomery of Reidsville, secretary, and Pan Peyton of Davidson, treasurer.

Sophomores elected Cookie Scoggin of Conway, S. C., chairman of Rat Day. Cookie will appoint a committee to help her and these girls will have charge of Rat Day Court. This freshman initiation will start Tuesday the seventeenth, after supper, at which time the freshmen are expected to obey the commands of any sophomore. Also they are required to wear their freshman caps Tuesday the seventeenth and Wednesday the eighteenth.

Wednesday night, the eighteenth, Rat Court will be conducted by the sophomores while the Juniors will attempt to help the freshmen. Seniors will be allies of the sophomores. Officers of the sophomore class are Inez Fulbright of Wilmington, president, Jane Montgomery of Reidsville, vice-president and Ann Mauldin of Charlotte, secretary.

The Junior class elected Elizabeth Brammer of Christianburg, Va., stunt night chairman, and Mary Payne, gallery chairman. Sarah Thompson, of Highlands, was elected cheer leader. These three girls held these same positions last year. Officers of the Junior class are Elizabeth Brammer, president, Caroline Edwards of Charlotte, vice-president, and Dot Raymond from Lake City, Fla., secretary-treasurer.

Henrietta McIver, of Gulf was elected stunt night chairman by the Seniors; Frannie Stough of Cornelius was elected gallery chairman. Officers of the senior class are: Betsy Springer of Charlotte, President; Marjorie Poole of Mullins, S. C., vice-president; and Dot Muse of Mountain City, Tenn., secretary-treasurer.

Variety Show Given Here

A variety program of one-act plays, skits, and character monologues was given in the college auditorium Wednesday evening at 8:15 o'clock by the members of the Queens-Chicora College dramatic department under the direction of Miss Ethel King.

The program was made up of the following: A one-act comedy, "A Mix Up," with Misses Anne Harris of Brunswick, Ga., Claire Wishart and Martha Erwin of Charlotte, and Elaine Suber of Whitmire, S. C.; a crooning trio. The Moseley sisters — Misses

SCA To Go On Retreat Dr. McCorkle To Conduct Services

The cabinet members of the Student Christian Association of Queens-Chicora College will have a retreat at Camp Latta this week-end.

All cabinet members, honorary members, and Dr. M. Dorisse Howe, faculty adviser, will attend the retreat. Miss Clara Barnett Slaton, dean of women, will help chaperone the group.

The girls will do their own cooking, and will have a weiner roast Saturday evening. Sunday morning they will conduct their own church services in the big assembly hall at the camp.

Members of the retreat will return to the college Sunday evening in time for the 6 o'clock vesper service.

S. C. A. members are: president, Lucielle Gwaltney; vice-presidents, Maujer Moseley and Alice Barron; secretary, Ruth Edmiston; treasurer, Frances Brockington; and committee members and class representatives, Flora MacDonald, Mary Elva Smith, Dorothy Longenecker, Anne Cromartie, Jane Montgomery, Norma Humphries, Lucielle Harmon, Mildred Taylor, Elenora Spratt, Elizabeth Brammer, Frances Trulock, Frances Riddle, Esther Love Hillhouse, Eleanor Guyton, and Jean Ferguson.

Plans have been completed to have Rev. William H. McCorkle from Kingsport, Tenn., to lead the fall services at the college from October 11-13.

The subjects of their services will be varied, but will be of much interest to all the students.

Annual Staff Begins Work

Pictures have been taken this week for The Coronet, Queen's annual publication, by the Dunbar photographers. The staff announced that no pictures would be taken after this week, which is unusually early for this business to be completed.

Georgie Hurt, business manager, stated that the business staff would not be appointed until, probably, the second semester.

Sports Department Activities Are Given

A resume of activities of the sports department was given out during the week. Much action has been started at the gym and there will be much more to come.

Beginner's Archery

Beginner's archery classes meet on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at 1:30. There are about twenty-five beginners who are very interested and have had unusually good luck for beginners. These classes have been meeting for about two weeks. There are two very outstanding beginners who deserve mention, Mildred Taylor, junior, who hit the target five times out of six tries the first time she had ever picked up a bow and arrow; and Caroline Edwards, junior, who has shown promise.

The archery class boasts several pieces of new equipment, a new target, two new bows, and about two dozen new arrows. The girls are urged to take especially good care of these pieces because of their fine quality.

The Badminton Courts

We have three badminton courts, one inside the gym and two new outside courts are under construction between Morrison Hall and the Science Building. One of these courts is to be blessed with lights in the near future. These courts will be completed and ready for any girl in the college to play on by Friday afternoon.

Badminton can be played by the girls who want moderate exercise or those who want a vigorous game that requires all the mental and physical alertness one can muster. A court will accommodate either two persons (in singles) or four (in doubles). Every one of the girls is urged to use these courts and the equipment in the gym. There are also many new additions to this equipment. They are for your enjoyment.

The Tennis Tournament

The preliminaries of the tennis tournament are to be played this week. The entrants choose their partners and use the grab bag method in picking their opponents. The date for the play-offs is as yet indefinite due to the rather large number of entrants. We can't wait to see which of all these contestants are going to wear the "purty" gold trophies for which the athletic association digs down deep in the old sock to bring forward the shekels which pay for the doo-dads that tell the world you are a champion.

The Chosen Few

The athlete of athletes in our college is Martha Stoner, senior, who shines brightly in the light of a Queens-Chicora letter and two, not one, but two stars.

The proud possessors of letters and one star are: Anne Fuller, Betsy Springer, and Mildred Taylor.

The honored ones who have letters are Dot Alexander, Lib Green, Lucielle Gwaltney, and Lib Brammer.

You say, "How nice," and let it go at, "That's all very well for them, but I couldn't get one." Well, we're going to ask that question which will trip anybody, "Why?" These girls aren't "superwomen." They just have that "get up and go after it" attitude that helps anyone get right up here where they can look down.

Choral Club Is Announced

The Choral Club as announced by Miss Grace Robinson, head of the Voice Department, will present several concerts this fall and spring.

The following girls are members of the club: First sopranos, June Escott, Betty Gardner, Tina Grainger, Mary Payne, Virginia Smith, Ann Golden, Lucille Harmon, Sarah Holleman, Josephine Johnson, Hazel Littleton, Henrietta McIver, Frances Stough, Louise Springer, Lib Taylor, Claire Wishart, Jennie Linn Wright, and Keller Young.

Second sopranos are Nancy Arrowood, Mary Gillis, Margaret Harden, Frances Hunter, Elsie Moseley, Alice Payne, Ann Peyton, Margaret Porter, Frances Riddle, Mary Gilmer Richmond, Marie Roseman, Muriel Spaeth, Lucielle Gwaltney, Lib Erwin, Jane Montgomery, and Lib Imbody.

Altos: Alice Barron, Caroline Edwards, Esther Love Hillhouse, Sue Crenshaw, Betty Love, Ann Mauldin, Maujer Moseley, Marion Miller, Annette McIver, Sue McNulty, Flora MacDonald, Becky Patton, and Ermine Waddill.

A Freshman Choral Club is being formed to sing in Freshman chapel.

Alpha Iota Has Meeting

A call meeting of Alpha Iota, honorary business fraternity, was held in Burwell Hall Tuesday night, October 3, at 7:30.

Ileita Caldwell, president, presided and welcomed the business students, who were guests at the meeting. Marjorie Poole, chaplain, led the devotional. The secretary's report was given by Dorothy Dixon; treasurer's report by Ann Fuller.

Those taking part on the program were: Mary Franklin, who gave the History of the sorority; Callie McElroy, "The Objectives of Alpha Iota"; and Anne Fuller, "Why Belong to Alpha Iota."

Special guests were all one-year and four-year business students.

Miss Mary Inglis, head of the commercial department, and Miss Thelma Edwards, instructor of commercial subjects, are sponsors for the sorority. Officers are Misses Ileita Caldwell

Two Schools Play Today

This afternoon at the Memorial Stadium the first game of the Clemson-State classic to be held here for the next five years will begin. The game will begin at two o'clock and there will be a special section for students.

Tonight at the armory auditorium there will be a dance for the college students, and their dates. Students from other colleges besides Clemson and State will be able to obtain tickets at the door. Music will be furnished for the dance by Gibb Todd and His Orchestra.
