

Regress And Yell Lustily

There is nothing quite so breath taking as a good, lusty yell at a football game. It gets in your blood and when you hear another person yell the first thing you know, amidst all the noise and confusion, you hear your own voice yelling something quite senseless but very thrilling. The cheer leaders yell something and every one begins to cheer and applaud loudly. The team goes over for a touchdown and when you open your mouth to again yell for the home team, some playful fella higher up in the grandstand very calmly drops the hulls from several peanuts into the yawning abyss. After a few whooping coughs and throat clearings you decide to yell once more for the team. All in vain this time, though—they've been penalized for holding—So time passes and although you have definitely a sore throat as the result of so much yelling, you wouldn't give a thing for having had the enjoyment.

OUTSTANDING GIRLS CHOSEN

Sigma Mu national honorary scholastic fraternity Wednesday. She is a member and pledge instructor of Chi Omega sorority. She has also served on S. C. A. cabinet for three years and has been on the Day Student council.

MARCO POLO

He went to Java, Ceylon and Pamir To the Mountain of Adam, with its high atmosphere, And for proof of his climb, he always spent time In gathering wild sheep which were quite common here.

Journey after journey and on each return, He brought back a jewel or maybe an urn, Some spice or rice, and unusual mice Or probably some brass that never would turn.

When the people saw all that Polo had brought, And thought of the wonders that he had wrought, They began to ponder, to grow constantly fonder, Of finding these places that Polo had sought.

So they climbed aboard vessels, and set out to sea, In search of this land full of milk, silk and tea, They found the land, but not as they'd planned, Instead—'twas America, the land of the free!

Mr. Polo's adventures have come down through the ages, His tales are discussed by the wisest of sages And it all seems so true, so what do they do! But make him a star on our screens and our stages! Nice work Mr. Polo!

S.C.A. Meeting To Be Held

The State Student Christian Association meeting will be held this week-end, October 21 through 23, at Mitchell College in Statesville, N. C.

Two delegates and the president of S. C. A. from each school will attend this convention. From Queens-Chicora: Lucielle Gwaltney, president of the local S. C. A.; and Ruth Edmiston and Mary Elva Smith will go. These delegates will be housed in the dormitory at the college.

The first meeting will be held Saturday afternoon as a discussion group, and the last one will be morning watch on the following Monday.

nine year-old. "This ain't no library where you have to pussy-foot around. You can yell your head off in here and still learn something."

There are to be several extra exhibits of great interest to you as students. In December, there is to be one of Turkish art. And the Chase National Bank of New York is exhibiting a collection of forty thousand coins called "The History of the World in Coins." This exhibit is a marvelous example of the evolution of money.
