Library Books

Many new books have taken their place on the shelves of our library this year. The heads of the departments have placed there a few new books for the use of our students. There are several new Biology books which are very interesting.

There is also a collection of French books which were given Queens-Chicora by the French Ambassador, who is stationed at Philadelphia, Pa. In this collection there are approximately seventeen new French-English Dictionaries; two Bibliographies of French Literature, and a very interesting classical bibliography. Those of you who are interested in French will find these books very helpful.

Gala Affair Is Planned For Monday

Q.C.-Davidson Party Plans Are Complete

The annual Queens-Chicora-Davidson party, one of the most gala affairs of the year, will be a Halloween-Carnival affair Monday the 30th.

The Davidson boys will arrive about 5:30 and then adjourn to one of the parlors to select a mask from the group strung up around the wall. On each mask will be a girl's name and her class. After obtaining a mask the boys will go to the other parlor to find his "date" who will also have a mask on. Boys and girls who already have dates will go through the same procedure except that the girl will have her dates mask with her instead of having it on the wall of the parlor with the rest of the masks.

After the dating procedure is over a buffet supper will be served in the dining hall. Following this, the couples will adjourn to the auditorium for a variety program which will last about an hour. Then they will return to the dining hall for jolly games and other entertainments. Each class will have a booth in a real carnival style and the dining hall will be decorated in Halloween fashion. A bonfire will climax the evening.

The committee chairmen and members for the Queens-Chicora-Davidson College Carnival were announced last Wednesday by Anne Fuller, president of the student government association.

Ruth Edmiston of Salisbury is the chairman of the food committee. Members of her committee are Mary Gunn of Sanford, Dorothy Duckett of Charlotte, Dorothy Longenecker of Belgium Congo, Africa, Annie Carr Powers of Hamlet, Sue McNulty of Pocohontas, Va., Boots Bowen of Tazewell, Va., and Scottie McNulty of Pocohontas, Va.

Chairman of the decorations committee is Jean Ferguson of Chicago. Her assistants will be Pan Peyton of Davidson, Jane Montgomery of Reidsville, Alice Barron of Columbia, Inez Fulbright of Wilmington, Lib Taylor of Mount Holly, Virginia Cothran of Timmonsville, Elizabeth Harms of Charlotte, Mary Mason of Greenville, and Ellen Hardee of Graham.

Martha Stoner of Elberton, Ga., is the chairman of the entertainment committee and has the following committee members: Mildred Taylor of Stanley, Sarah Taylor of Charlotte, Betsy Springer of Charlotte, Flora MacDonald of Dillon, S. C., and Elizabeth Greene of Charlotte.

The chairman of the dating committee is Virginia Smith of Charlotte. Members of the committee are Ermine Waddill of Charlotte, Dot Branan of Thompson, Ga., Lib Brammer of Christiansburg, Va., Lucielle Gwaltney of Charlotte, and Callie McElroy of Charlotte.

Mary Payne of Charlotte is the chairman of the program committee. Members of the committee are Sarah Thompson of Highlands, Frances Stough of Cornelius, Elaine Suber of Whitmore, S. C., Jennie Linn Wright of Landis, and Frances Riddle of Columbia.

Season Opens With Ballet

On October 20, the Charlotte Symphony began the season's program of concerts with an outstanding performance on the part of the Ballet Caravan, accompanied by the orchestra. The Ballet returned to Charlotte for the second time in response to an overwhelming demand for the twenty-three brilliant, young artists. The caravan had just returned from a transcontinental tour which was a great success and brought forth unanimous acclaim from all the critics.

The company is composed wholly of American dancers. It is led by Lew Christiansen and Gisella Caccialanza, two outstanding American classic dancers. Marie Jeanne and Eugene Loring were also wonderful performers. The program consisted of "Air and Variations," a classical number; "Billy the Kid;" and "Filling Station," both of which have American themes.

Other points of interest in the year's schedule are: the Duke University Chapel Choir on December 8, the orchestra on February 9 and May 18, and on April 5, Louise Nelson Pfohl, who is a brilliant pianist and also a member of the orchestra.

These Charlotte Symphony programs are becoming more and more a center of interest in Charlotte. Memberships can be obtained by asking Miss Robinson.

The Creative Writing group of the Spectator Club met Friday afternoon at the Chi Omega house. Pan Peyton, who is the leader for the group this year, discussed plans for the coming meetings.

This year the study will consist of short stories, poems, journalistic style, and magazine make-up.

Rat Day was really a "hobo day." There were hobo costumes here, there and everywhere. All looked like typical tramps, but for the best costumes and for the most originality, Terry Mosteller and Alice Clark won the prizes. These were decided upon by the jury at rat court and were rewarded with—a corn cob pipe!
