Junior Class To Sell Christmas Cards

Marion Miller To Serve As Card Chairman

The Junior class will have as one of its main projects this year the selling of Christmas cards. The funds raised will be used to help finance the Junior-Senior banquet which the class gives at the end of the year. Marion Miller was elected to serve as chairman of the Christmas card committee. The entire Junior class has now been divided into committees. The chairmen are: Louise Brumley, Irene Hardee, Kathleen Hardee, Margaret Hawkins, Lucille Blackburn, Marge Mason, Elsie Moseley, Lib Nash, Dot Summerville, Ruth Wilkes, and Gladys Hartzell. Sample boxes of Christmas cards from ten different companies have been ordered. This will give the students a large number of attractive cards from which to make their selection. Each Junior will take her turn at using a sample box and soliciting orders for the cards.

The Junior class is proud of the variety of assortments of cards which it has to offer and feels confident that there are cards which will appeal to everyone. The student body is urged to co-operate with the class by ordering their greeting cards through some Junior. Remember that Christmas is not so far off. Be sure to order your cards now and avoid the last minute rush!

Mary Martha Nixon, president of the Junior class has announced the following girls as committee chairmen to serve this year. These girls were elected at the Junior class meeting. The chairmen are: Lucy Hassell, stunt chairman; Sue Crenshaw and Ruth Kilgo, co-chairman for the gallery; Elsie Moseley, chairman of the jacket committee, serving with Sara Holleman and Ruth Wilkes; and Marion Miller, chairman of the Christmas card committee.

December brings the fashion show which will be sponsored by a well known store in Charlotte. To model in the show are girls who will be chosen from the different classes.

Louise Blue Heads New French Club

Starting off with a flourish, the students of French at Queens held an organization meeting for the Cercle de Francais Wednesday afternoon. The officers elected were Louise Blue, president; Marguerite Mason, vice-president; Mildred Pearson, secretary; and Louise Brumley, treasurer.

It was decided that dues would be collected and that Freshmen would not be admitted. The president appointed Margaret Hawkins, chairman, and Idrienne Levy and Margaret Powell to draft a constitution for the club to be presented to the Student Government for approval. Miss Jo Langford is the faculty adviser. Several types of programs for the future were discussed.

The club will meet once a month. During each meeting only French will be spoken. Seventeen students attended the organization meeting.

Cooperation with the Cercle Francais at Davidson College is expected to take place. Last year Queens French students were invited to Davidson for several occasions.

The 14 men above, led by Harry Farman, comprise the Farman Symphonietta which will play in the Queens Auditorium on October 22.

Alpha Kappa Gamma Taps Seven Campus Leaders

Five Seniors And Two Juniors Inducted In Impressive Ceremony

On Wednesday morning, October 9, the Olympian Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma Regional Leadership Fraternity for Women held its fall tapping service during chapel. The following girls were tapped: Inez Fulbright of Wilmington, N. C.; Flora MacDonald of Dillon, S. C.; Margaret Harden of Winnsboro, S. C.; Mary Jean MacFadden of Ellerbe, N. C.; Ruth Edmiston of Salisbury, N. C.; Mary Martha Nixon of Lincolnton, N. C.; and Louise Blue of Southern Pines, N. C.

The program opened with a scripture by Annette McIver, followed by a prayer led by Dr. J. M. Gettys. The history of Alpha Kappa Gamma was given by Jane Montgomery. The purpose and qualifications for membership were given by Ann Golden and Mary Marshall Jones. Following the tapping the student body joined in the singing of the college Alma Mater.

Alpha Kappa Gamma was founded at State Teacher's college in Farmville, Virginia, on May 12, 1928. At present there are four chapters: the Athenian Circle at the University of North Carolina, in Chapel Hill; the Florence Nightingale Circle at the University of South Carolina, in Columbia; the Olympian Circle at Queens College; and a circle at Columbia College, in Columbia, S. C. Harriette Scoggin is president of the Olympian Circle. Other members include Annette McIver, Jane Montgomery, Ann Golden, Julia Miller, Mary Marshall Jones, Dr. Lucille Delano, Miss Mary Denny, and Miss Thelma Albright.

Inez Fulbright is vice-president of the Senior class and the president of Alpha Iota. In previous years she has held the following offices: vice-president of the Junior class, treasurer of the S.C.A., and president of the Sophomore class. She is on the Dean's list and is a member of Phi Mu sorority.

Flora MacDonald is president of the Athletic Association and has been prominent in athletics since her freshman year. She is a member of S.C.A. cabinet, president of the Kappa Delta pledges, and a member of the choral club.

Margaret Harden is prominent in the phases of music around the campus, president of Kappa Delta sorority, a member of S.C.A. cabinet, and a member of the choral club.

Mary Jean MacFadden is vice-president of S.C.A., a member of the fellowship group, secretary of Alpha Eta Sigma, and has been active in S.C.A. since her freshman year.

Ruth Edmiston is treasurer of the senior class, senior representative in S.C.A., member of fellowship group, and a member of Alpha Eta Sigma. She was treasurer of the Junior class and secretary of S.C.A. her sophomore year.

Mary Martha Nixon is president of the Junior class and a member of Alpha Eta Sigma. In her sophomore year she was Rat-day chairman and on sophomore council.

Louise Blue is treasurer of S.C.A., vice-president of the athletic council, and is on the Dean's List. She was president of her Sophomore class.

Camera Club To Make Cards

Scenic Spots Will Be Photographed

The Camera Club had a call meeting Monday, October 13 at 4:30 o'clock. New officers for this year were elected. They are: Sally Pardee, president; Marion Miller, vice-president; Betsy Hodges, secretary; and Frances Bryan, treasurer. Sara Alice Clark was elected chairman of the post card committee which plans to take pictures of scenic spots on the campus and put them on post cards to be sold in the book store. This will be a way of giving the college publicity and also of raising funds for the club. A contest will be sponsored by the club to judge the best photographs taken for the purpose.

This year, the Camera club is planning many activities of interest. The members will learn to develop their own films and also how to take the best photographs. Any students who would like to join are asked to attend the next meeting. The meetings are scheduled for the first and third Mondays in each month. There will be a notice on the bulletin board concerning the time and place for the next one.

Canteen checks, army scrip honored for purchases at post exchange, are called "pontoon checks" by one first sergeant of the 44th Division, because they've kept many a soldier from sinking when his funds ran out before pay-day.

Farbman Leads Fifteen Men In Orchestra

With the presentation of the Farman Symphonietta, Wednesday evening, October 22, the 1941-42 season of the Queens College Lecture and Concert Series will have opened.

This musical organization is under the direction of Harry Farbman and made its New York debut in December, 1940, where it was scored as one of the outstanding successes of the concert season. It is composed of fifteen young artists, many of whom have given their own Town Hall recitals.

Harry Farbman, the leader, is a gifted American violinist. Born in Cincinnati, Ohio, of musical parents, he gave evidence at an early age of his remarkable talent. He has toured South America, Europe and the United States, and has been greeted on all sides with most favorable reviews.

The program will begin promptly at 8:15 P. M. in the Queens College auditorium and will probably include works by Grieg, Lalo, Dvorak, Kreisler, Mozart, Debussy and Sarasate.

All registered students are urged to go to the Business Office immediately and get their tickets.

The schedule for the rest of the season includes: John T. Whitaker, November 24; Jeanne Welty, December 8; The Madrigalists, February 9; Eve Curie, February 16; and Princess Paul Sapieha, March 16.

Vogue Offers Many Prizes For Contest

NEW YORK.—For the seventh consecutive year, the editors of VOGUE invite the college women of the class of '42 to compete in the Prix de Paris. The purpose of this annual contest is to discover college girls with a flair for fashion reporting and the ability to write. First prize is a year's job with a salary on the New York staff of Vogue. Second prize, a special Vanity Fair feature writing award, is a six month's paid position with the fashion magazine. In addition, five cash awards are made for the five best contest articles submitted. These are purchased for publication in Vogue. Numerous Honourable Mentions are also given. Winners of these awards have the opportunity to be interviewed by department stores, newspapers, advertising agencies, and other organizations who have jobs to offer.

The contest is based on four quizzes and a short article. Seniors who are on the look-out for a career in fashion reporting or feature writing, should write to Carolyn Abbott, Vogue, 480 Lexington Ave., New York City, for further details. Or they may secure information and an entry blank from the College Vocational Service.

The first night in bivouac, one enlisted man of the 119th Quartermaster Regiment, 44th Division, was heard to remark: "It's a funny thing. Every time we go on maneuvers, the mosquitoes mobilize, too!"
