

Chapter Chatter

Alpha Eta Sigma
Alpha Eta Sigma is working on two projects this year. One is a continuation of last year's project and an additional one this year.

Last year we sent three boxes of clothes, food, and other necessities to a Dutch family whose name was given to us by Dr. Abernathy. We have received two letters and some pictures in reply. The family, like so many others in Europe, is in dire need, especially since it is a family of fifteen.

As our new project this year, we are planning to donate our services to either the Memorial hospital or the Bethlehem house. Our members volunteer for afternoons when they will be free to go, and our sorority intends to appoint two afternoons a week for them to work alternately. The plans are not definite as this goes to press; we hope to have the news for you by the next issue of the "Blues."

Alpha Delta Pi

Although they have been at Queens College for two years, Lawrence Clark and Ruth Sherrill have just decided this year to be "Campus Kids." The A D Pi's spent two grand nights at Davidson last week. The girls went to the K A house Wednesday night and to The Pi K A house Thursday night. Wouldn't it be nice if they had Rush Week more often?

We certainly were proud to find that our new province president, Mrs. McChord Williams is from Charlotte.

Certainly would liked to have seen Jo Loftis at the Debutante Ball in Raleigh.

The A D Pi's are really missing Fran Rivest, Nancy Stitt, and Venie Mizell, who have added Mrs. to their titles.

Alpha Gamma Delta

After a summer of sunbaths, romances, milkshakes, and varied experiences, the Alpha Gams are once again settled at Queens — full of pep—anticipating a year of work and fun.

M. K. spent a lazy summer at the beach; it seems that Travis, Kitty, and Rusty had gala times at summer school — don't think they hurt themselves studying tho'; Kitty lived in the Alpha Gam house at the University of Kentucky; have you heard of Perry's extensive travels to the North and Lillian's to the deep South? Ruth and Neva chose to spend their time as counselors at camp—they liked it too.

It was good to see alums "Sparks," "Queenie," and Carolyn back on campus. Certainly do miss our old girls. Understand that Carolyn Cartwright, Kitty Ross, Kinkie Watts, and Ruth Hardison are thriving on matrimony — must be wonderful.

Chi Omega

Our first Sunday nite "feed" of the year, colored by the culinary efforts of Misses DeArmon and Emerson, was a huge success. There were two newly-made "alums" among the old ones who were there to greet us—"Slickie" Potter and Elinor Bell. Many new things have been added since last spring, especially on the third finger, left hand of our presidet, Carol Wohlford. Sarah Bobbitt has returned to us after a seige in the WAVES.

Plans have been made for many good times this year, the first being a joint party between Chi Omega and Phi Mu.

Kappa Delta

During the summer several of the K. D.'s became happy brides. Estelle Darrow became Mrs. Nevin Rice on June 7th, Betie Austin was married to Wallace Krueger, August 14th, and on September 7th, Mary Kathryn McArther marched down the aisle to become the bride of Robert Broadway from Shelby. Also in the near future Nellie Davis, who hailed from Hillsboro, N. C., will become a young Mrs. . . . Ashley Jones has been asked to sing at the wedding.

Big plans are going on at the house. Our house had a dirty face so we decided to paint it. We are doing the inside over too.

Phi Mu

Burns had a roaring time at the convention on Mackinac Island, Michigan.

Kinney's ring is definitely VOOM!

We're planning a party with the Chi O's at Barbara Hanson's cabin on the river.

Initiation will be Saturday for Jinky Gray, Ruth Kinney, Alice Tucker, Mildred Scott, and Frances Simpson.

The feed by the alums promises to be a treat.

Orientation

Memphis, Tenn. She received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Southwestern University, and her Master of Arts from the University of Chicago. She was a member of the faculty at Brenau Academy and Jacksonville Junior College. She worked on the Southern Review Magazine before it went out of commission in 1942.

Miss Elizabeth Neff has come to our faculty as an assistant professor of modern languages. She received her B. A. degree at Emory and Henry College and her Master of Arts from Columbia University and the University of Wisconsin. She has taught at Riverside and Marion, Virginia.

Dr. Lucile Delano, professor of modern languages, has returned to the college after a year's leave of absence. She studied one semester at the University of Illinois doing research, and for the last six months she has served as editorial assistant to Professor E. K. Mapes of the Romance Language Department at the University of Iowa.

Miss Jessie Sue Bynum, of Scottsboro, Alabama, is our new history and political science teacher. She received her degrees from Huntingdon College in Alabama and from the University of Chicago. She taught at Wesleyan College in Macon, Georgia for two years.

Our new Director of Public Relations and Alumna work is Miss Mildred Miscall from Savannah, Georgia. She has been connected with the Charlotte City Schools and the faculty of the School of Journalism at the University of Georgia. And it was at the University of Georgia that she received her A. B. and M. A. degrees.

Mrs. Brown McCoy is another new member of our staff. She is housekeeper and succeeds Mrs. Rosa Mercer who has been on the staff for twenty years. Mrs. Mercer is housemother for the freshmen.

The students welcome these new faculty and staff members. We are glad to have you in our college family, and hope that you will be happy with us.

Fashion Notes

Have you noticed the wonderful wide belts around Queens campus lately? Some of the freshmen have been sporting some really clever ones. We've noticed a precious red leather belt with silver studs complete with a tricky zipper coin purse. Also there are some smart creations in brown leather and black kid. Jane Brown looked grand wearing her unusual belt made of shells. Then there's Emily Kimrey's bright red belt. And surely you've noticed Geneva Underwood's brown leather one with a big, long, gold buckle. Mary Lynn Hagler has a snappy brown belt with gold rimmed holes all around it.

And surely the new fall suits our Queens have been sporting lately have caught your eye. In gray we have Joanne Maccaulay's chald-striped wool and Conally Smith's with the smart new sleeve circled at the shoulder with a wide black band. Eloise Hardin looked striking at the Davidson football game wearing her new black gabardine. Goldie Barron's forest-green suit buttoned with handsome silver buttons stood out at the game also, and everyone has commented on Lillian DeArmon's navy blue suit with the unusually clever jacket.

The newest styles in shoes are being worn by the smart Queen this year. Anne Johnson looked stunning wearing black pumps with dramatic snakeskin platforms. And those spike-heeled, wine-colored shoes of Zayda Cardona are really attractive. Gloria Lindsay wears the very latest in an unusual black and white combination. The rainbow-colored loafers are brightening up our campus this fall with red, green, yellow, brown, and black predominating.

Have you ever seen anything as cute as the Davis twins dressed exactly alike and wearing adorable brown derbies with saucy brown satin bows in back. Looking cute as a button was Maude Dickson in a perky beach sailor complete with a little black veil. And talking about black . . . Sara Dell Adams had on a precious bonnet-shaped hat with a turned up brim and a jaunty black feather way down on one side. A high-crowned brown felt with blue and brown ribboned satin bow worn high over the forehead set off to advantage Kathryn Robinson's outfit last Sunday.

Someone said that you can tell a queen by her crown and a Queens' girl by her hat, and we are really keeping up with that tradition this fall.
