The students who received the distinction of being included in Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges were recognized in chapel and awarded certificates for being chosen. These girls were Peggy Barrentine, Grace Marie Childs, Eleanor Godfrey, Belva Morse, June Patterson, and Ruth Porter.

Fashions

It seems summer is really here. Cottons, cottons everywhere. Jane Edmonds has an adorable navy cotton. The dress is navy. The top is a lowcut boatline neckline. There is a plaid jacket with navy binding down the front and around the sleeves plus tiny buttons down the front.

Moppy Harrison looked cool in one of those new white pique sleeveless blouses with a bunch of white daisies at the throat. She wore a grey linen skirt with this blouse.

Polka dots are so stylish this year. Dot Thomas has a lovely navy and white polka dotted dress with a white linen jacket.

Mildred Butler has a new purple print silk dress. The top has rows of shirrs and a square neckline. The skirt is gathered and full. She wears a purple linen over coat over this dress. The coat has scoops and rows of buttons around the neck and sleeves. Very attractive, Mickey.

Organdy seems to be the craze this year. Sally Campbell has a very lovely white and green embroidered organdy which she wears a dark green velvet belt with and pink flowers at the neck. Stunning, Sally. Betty Pratt also has a blue embroidered organdy which looks very chic with white linen opera pumps.

The dresses at the music recitals are just as pretty as the music, and the one Mary Jo Whisnant wore was certainly no exception. It was white organdy. She wore tangerine-colored linen shoes and carried a lovely bouquet which matched them. You looked simply precious, Mary Jo.

Betty Ann Pyron's cottons look as if they came strictly from "Mademoiselle"—especially the chartreuse sleeveless blouse and plaid skirt. Elise Davenport we can't overlook that navy cotton piped with white. It's really most attractive. Wanda Oxner has a green pique dress with yellow and white designs on it which are different and very pretty.

Emily Shipp certainly is qualified to advise anyone about the proper clothes to wear for traveling. The navy blue gabardine suit with a red carnation at the neck was perfect for flying to Kentucky.

The next most outstanding outfits you will see are black robes and mortar board hats. It won't be long now until you can witness these lovely gals robed in black.

Chapel—

of the Belk Chapel.

These churches are in the order in which they were organized, the Myers Park Methodist Church, represented by the Rev. Richard L. Owenby; the Myers Park Presbyterian Church, represented by the Rev. J. Cecil Lawrence; the Selwyn Avenue Presbyterian Church represented by the Rev. Samuel M. Inman; the Myers Park Baptist Church, represented by the Rev. George A. Heaton.

Chapter Chatter

On May 11 the Alpha Gams literally flooded Helen Alexander with a kitchen shower. In case anyone doesn't know Helen and Wilkes MacCauly will be married on July 1. We wish them all the luck in the world.

The seven graduating members of our chapter were honored at feed on Sunday, the 21st. Each senior was given a small token from the underclassmen. We'll really miss these gals, and our best wishes go with each of them.

The last feed at the Alpha Delta Pi house was a special occasion in that it was in honor of the seniors. At this time, gifts were presented to them.

Final plans are being made for the house party at Myrtle Beach. The unforgettable week will begin on June 7, and the group will stay at the Tallyho. Mrs. Tom Glasgow (Florence Robinson), and Mrs. Dick Glasgow (Bee Jay Booream) will be the chaperones.

The week of June 5-12 is really going to be an eventful one for the Phi Mu's, for the Chapter is planning the traditional house-party at Myrtle Beach. There will be good-byes to books, studies, labs, and everything. We will have nothing to do but sleep, eat, swim in the daytime, and at night—well, you can always study the stars! Peggy Barrentine's mother is still taking reservations, so you better come along. It's gonna be great.

The Chapter takes great pride in sending Gwenda Ewell to the National Convention which will be held at Springdale, N. J. June 24-29. "Smokey" Henry also plans to attend. We are proud that our Chapter will be so well represented.

The Chi Omega pledges were entertained with open house on Friday evening, May 5th, by the Alumnae Advisory Committee. The alumnae present were Martha Kale, Dot Ross, and Betty Huntly. The pledges spent an enjoyable evening meeting and chatting with them.
