Students Complete Elections

Student Government Conducts Valuable Training Program

The annual spring training program for new officers of various organizations has been completed. Sara Claire Little, retiring student body president, opened the first meeting on Monday evening, April 2. Miss Albright then gave a short talk on leadership, after which the several groups held individual meetings. In these sessions an evaluation of past work was made, and old officers explained their work to their successors.

On Tuesday morning in the service in Belk Chapel, the Student Christian Association had charge of the program and in its challenge showed the place of SCA in student government.

The Recreation Association, in Wednesday's assembly, described the part it plays in Queens student government.

Wednesday night a general meeting of officers took place, and parliamentary procedure was explained. A panel discussion on "The Education of Student Leaders" was also held. Participants and the phases of the question on which they spoke were: Dorothy MacLeod, "As Centers of Influence for High Standards of Living and Behavior"; Jay Hall, "As Dorm Counselors"; Ann Hunter, "As Officers in Extra-Curricula Activities"; Bonnie Blue, "As Student Counselors to Freshmen"; and Helen Drennan, "As Stabilizers in Times of Stress." Miss Albright served as chairman.

Following this panel discussion, another more informal discussion was held and consideration was given to the question, "How Can We Improve Our Activity Program?" Dorothy Wilson, Dorothy Folger, and Frances MacPherson discussed the purely social activities, activities for service, and activities which stress the cultural, intellectual, and spiritual growth of the students.

In the Thursday assembly, all students were acquainted with their part in parliamentary procedure.

This training program for new officers was indeed a very worthwhile activity, and it will certainly aid the incoming student leaders to become more efficient in their duties in student government and extra-curricula activities.

SCA Cabinet Has Installation Service

The S. C. A. Cabinet Installation was held in Belk Chapel on Tuesday morning, April 3. The service was opened with the congregational singing of "O Grant Us Light," after which Rainey Gamble, retiring President of S. C. A., read the scripture lesson and offered prayer.

The incoming President of S. C. A., Helen Drennan, spoke on "The Challenge." In an appropriate responsive reading, the members of the student body pledged their cooperation and service. The impressive installation service was closed by the benediction, given by Helen Drennan.

Students Discuss, Choose Preferred '51-'52 Courses

Today conferences are slated for students with their professors to select their courses for next semester. All of those planning to return should be aware of the requirements, general and specific, necessary for graduation in their respective majors. The advisor will discuss the courses with the student and make suggestions for her schedule.

No classes are being held today. The procedure follows that of last year. The students receive their registration material at 8:30 a. m. in Dean Sweet's office and meet with their faculty advisors to make out their schedules for next semester.

College Choir Sings Over S. C. Station

The Queens College choir traveled to Orangeburg, South Carolina, on April 8, where they sang a sacred concert for a rally of the Presbyterian Youth Fellowship of Charleston Presbytery. Prior to presenting this program the group gave a thirty minute radio program over the local Orangeburg station.

Juniors Fete Seniors With Barbecue Picnic

Florence Ashcraft, the new president of the rising Senior Class, has revealed that this year's Junior-Senior affair will be held on Thursday, April 12, at 5 o'clock in the afternoon at Cissie Gottlieb's farm on Providence Road. But other than giving this information and stating that Rogers' Barbecue will provide barbecue with all the trimmings, the Juniors refuse to talk further. Something besides barbecue must be cookin'!!! The Juniors have been working very hard for the past few weeks planning an exceptionally interesting party, with good food, and an original program of entertainment—to honor the graduates and make this affair an outstanding and memorable one to everyone.

Vesper and Chapel Schedule
