

QUEENS BLUES

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS NAMED

Sophs Prophecy For Sister Class

Seniors are dignified—but they are also something else—they're leaving school. Each girl has chosen some field to work hard—or some field in which to hardly work. Not being a prophet by some slip-up, we have made some amateur predictions for the seniors. With due respect to their seniority and priority, we shall give you these predictions:

Bertie Ayers—never gets enough studying. She lets her pupils come to school a whole hour late just so she can spend 1st period in the library.

Ann Bailey—she's that quiet new Director of Psychology and Sociology at some famous girls school. She chose a girl school because of course she's already made a study of boys and has decided girls are more simple to understand.

Margaret Barron—is seen growing small oak trees in front of Burwell Hall. She plans to send her first 20 children to Queens and they'll need more than one tree for her prospective Sigma Mu members.

Joan Baucom — she may be a candidate for a B. S. in Secretarial Administration but her matrimonial intentions proves to us that what she'll be administrating won't be in the secretarial line!

Deanie Berryhill—catin' round Central slouching over a stool with a cigarette in one hand and a can of Blatz in the other giving a speed test in typing of course!

Jane Blakely—instead of cooking pie she's baking herself in the sun, and her husband declares that she bakes better golf balls than biscuits.

Dessie Broadwell—a famous New York night club—known for its cigarettes and whiskey and wild, wild, women — is now constantly crowded with casinovas wearing their eyeballs out looking at Dessie the Dazzler.

Mickey—Butler—the new Mae West of Broadway is southern drawl and all just like the famous Mae—well, the southern drawl anyhow.

B. J. Byerly—has a desk with 51 telephones—the 51st one is a private phone for she and her boss, Pete Grimes, president of the Juvenile Court of Charlotte, to talk over the present juvenile situation.

Katie Chapman—waiting up for Dan to come in so she can beat out the Kappa Sig Sweetheart of his head with the rolling pin.

C. Collins—raising the cane with her 6'3" son who has just put her on his shoulder and danced a jig.

Joyce Crosland—the rage of the ukulele world—the only girl in the universe who plays with one toe—the big one at that.

(Continued On Page Three)

Valkyrie Taps Six Freshman Leaders In Morning Assembly

On Wednesday morning, May 16, Valkyrie Tapping was held in Ninniss Auditorium. This organization is for the purpose of recognizing the outstanding leaders of the freshman class. In an impressive ceremony, the following students were tapped: Eleanor Collard, Barbara Edwards, Shirley Johnson, Betty Lipe, Doris Searcy, and Caroline Upshur.

Eleanor Collard is a Boarding Student and she comes to Queens from Rock Hill, South Carolina. She has made outstanding accomplishments by being placed on Dean's List and by serving as president of the freshman class.

Barbara Edwards is a day student who lives with her sister in Charlotte, although her home town is Decatur, Illinois. She has been freshman representative to Day Student Council and is a member of Phi Mu sorority.

Shirley Johnson hails from Dunn, North Carolina. Shirley's achievements during her freshman year include Dean's List, becoming a member of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority, and in recent campus elections, she

(Continued On Page Three)

J. C. Reid Accepts S. C. A. Invitation

Dr. J. Calvin Reid, pastor of the Mount Lebanon Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, has graciously accepted the invitation from the S. C. A. Cabinet to be the Queens Religious Emphasis speaker next February for the 1951-52 Religious Emphasis Services. Dr. Reid studied at the Pittsburg Xenia Seminary and also in England. He has had pastorates at the Associate Reform Presbyterian Church, Louisville, Kentucky; the United Presbyterian Church, Butler, Pennsylvania; and the First Presbyterian Church, Columbus, Georgia. Queens is indeed fortunate to have Dr. Reid. Plans are already being made for this most important of special services. Suggestions from the students as to plan for this time are welcomed.

THOUGH THIS PATH LEADS JUST TO COLLEGE

STILL IT CARRIES A DEPTH OF KNOWLEDGE.

SHE WHO WALKS THIS SIMPLE WAY

WILL FIND A GREATER WALK SOME DAY.

CLASS OF 1932.

Senior Class Officers

President Wanda Oxner
Vice-President Emily Shipp
Secretary C. Collins
Treasurer Mary Long

1951-52 Freshmen Announced By Office Of Registrar

Now when all of the underclassmen at Queens are looking forward to summer and then to another year on the Queens campus, it might be well to find out who some of the new students next year will be. As of April 26, forty-five girls had been officially accepted for the 1951-52 term. These girls represent eight states and two foreign lands, Cuba and China.

Martha Julia Brackett, Pickens, South Carolina.

Helen Jeannette Brooks, Kannapolis, North Carolina.

Jane Evelyn Balance, Lumber Bridge, North Carolina.

Ann Waltz Currie, Carthage North Carolina.

Joyce Blair Caudell, Wallace, North Carolina.

Lucretia Campbell, South Bay, Florida.

Elizabeth Ann Carrigan, Darlington, South Carolina.

Marianne Gills, Bluefield, West Virginia.

Eloise Parker Gettys, Camden, South Carolina.

Etta Faith Gottleib, Charlotte, North Carolina.

Ellen Frances Howes, Forest City, North Carolina.

Peggy Ann Hall, Kannapolis, North Carolina.

Ruth Jeanene Hallman, Havana, Cuba.

Mary Huang, Hong Kong, China.

Margaret Anne Jourdan, Siler City, North Carolina.

Sara Pauline Jackson, Hartsville, South Carolina.

(Continued On Page Three)

Broyles, Randolph Gives Addresses

The speakers for the Queens College commencement exercises have been announced by the administration.

Dr. Vernon S. Broyles, baccalaureate speaker, was born in Roger-ville, Tennessee, and spent his boyhood at Mobile, Alabama. He attended Davidson College and received his B. D. and Th. M. from Union Theological Seminary. Dr. Broyles did graduate work at the University of Tubingen, Germany. He served as pastor of Wadell Memorial Presbyterian Church, Rapidan, Virginia. After that he spent seven years as pastor in Canton, Mississippi. In 1941 he became pastor of the North Avenue Presbyterian Church in Atlanta, Georgia where he remained until 1950.

He has served on the Overseas Relief Committee and for eight years was on the Board of Directors of Church World Service, Inc. He spent six weeks in Europe in 1949, being sent by the Overseas Relief Committee. At the present he is Executive Secretary of the Department of Church Extension of the Presbyterian Church, U. S.

DR. VERNON S. BROYLES

Mr. Jennings Randolph, Assistant to the President of Capital Airlines, will deliver the Commencement Address on June 4. The subject will be: "My Interest is in the Future". Mr. Randolph served in the United States Congress 14 years (1933-1947) as representative from West Virginia. He was recognized as an outstanding legislator, authoring laws for employment and rehabilitation of thousands of blind persons; synthetic gasoline and liquid fuels production, and the development of air and highway transportation.

The Capital Airlines executive is well known as an author and journalist, and is one of the most persuasive speakers in America. He wrote, Going To Make A Speech and co-authored Mr. Chairman

(Continued On Page Three)

We'll Always Remember . . .

HERE'S TO THE CLASS OF '51
WE ARE THE BEST THERE IS.
WHENEVER WE GO OUT
THE PEOPLE ALWAYS SHOUT,
"TIP YOUR HATS TO THE CLASS OF '51."
WE'LL ALWAYS REMEMBER.

Our first year of college life beginning with the confusion of Orientation Week . . . Rat Day when we were lowly jailbirds wearing balls and chains and being ruled by the sophomore wardens . . . Stunt Night and our satire of life at Queens with a fortune telling act . . . our first Boar's Head Dinner, and then Christmas vacation . . . our first college exams . . . seeing for the first time the beauty of the campus in the spring when the dogwoods begin to bloom . . . sunbaths and tennis . . . and the year, gone. This year there were 165 of us and our officers were: President, Sara Claire Little; Vice-President, Marion Christopher; and Secretary-Treasurer, Deanie Berryhill.

And then . . . sophisticated sophomores returning to Queens in the fall of '48 . . . for the first time that wonderful feeling of knowing our way around . . . being counselors for the freshmen . . . then, being the Big Cats at Rat Day . . . presenting a minstrel show at Stunt Night . . . no more closed study . . . an extra social privilege . . . another week-end . . . one year closer to that senior year. This year there were 108 of us and our officers were: President, Mildred Butler; Vice-President, Cornelia Burnette; Secretary, Helena Hunter; and Treasurer, Lucy Dunn Guion.

Returning to a new campus in '49 . . . finding that the chapel had been begun . . . taking up for the freshmen, our sister class, and giving a party for them . . . winning the Stunt Night cup with a take-off on the other classes . . .

working hard to get out the Student Directory . . . taking a major part in the elections . . . making and presenting the Daisy Chain to the seniors on Class Day . . . receiving our caps and gowns . . . off to a summer as seniors. This year we numbered 82, and our officers were: President, Iva Jean Gordon; Vice-President, Ann Bailey; Secretary, Rainey Gamble; and Treasurer, Marion Christopher.

At last . . . seniors . . . that first thrill of wearing cap and gown to Senior Recognition Day . . . Worship services in our new chapel . . . winning the Stunt Night cup again with a view of Queens through the years . . . our last Boar's Head Dinner . . . Christmas . . . exams . . . in the spring, the thrill of Senior Week with its banquet, picnic, and luncheons . . . then, our last set of exams . . . Class Day . . . the baccalaureate sermon . . . and at last . . . graduation.