Day Student Doings . . .

Betty Stegall really does have a good looking boyfriend named Fred. Just ask her to show his picture to you—if she hasn't already done so!

Dell Martin really had an embarrassing experience at the Little Theater recently. How about Aubrey, Dell?

Congratulations and thanks to all the day students who participated in the May Day program . . .

Have you noticed the smile on Margaret Allen's face? Could it be because she is wearing Charles' fraternity pin?

It's good to see Barbara Edwards back on campus again. How could she try to "tackle" two dogs at one time? ?

Dot Watson is floating around on a cloud these days, since Don is back in the States.

Georgianna Houston and Billie Mancin and the many other Queens girls who attended Spring Frolics at Davidson certainly did pretty.

Julia Upchurch made a pretty picture as a bridesmaid in Gloria Sprock's wedding several weeks ago. Julia is looking forward to being married next fall.

Betty Ann Pyron has some beautiful clothes in her trousseau. We understand the big event is set for sometime in August. Best wishes to you, Betty Ann!

Kitty Bullock certainly does like to be asked about one Alvin Hurt. It must be nice to have a doctor in your thoughts!

Did you see Barbara McAllister's portrait of Herbert in the Art Exhibit? I'll bet she didn't have too much trouble about getting him to pose.

With sad and mixed sentiments, we bid "Adieu" to those of our day student group who are graduating. Best of luck to: Bertie Ayers, Deanie Berryhill, Dessie Broadwell, Lucy Dunn Guion, Betty Lynn Davenport Horn, Helena Hunter, Barbara McAllister, Carol Mesrobian, Claribel Moles, Josephine Monteuri, Kitty Moore, Lorraine Murphy, Betty Ann Pyron, Alice Reynolds, and Mary Ann Rice.

Sophs Prophecy . . .

Sara Claire Davis, President of the Universe, has just announced her new cabinet members among whom we find the new goddess of the Moon — Eugenia Mae (better known as Birdie) Crow.

Elise Davenport—the "all knew her when" girl—famous for her illustrations—not only illustrations of, hum, well, eh, but also of many story books for children.

Florence Davis—hanging around the wharfs and docks at N. Y. picking up tales—, mainly cat fish tales for her paper—N. Y. Times.

Virginia Easter — putting her Jinx on the Commander of the U. S. Navy the Hon. Admiral Farnsworth.

Jane Edmonds — is now doing bubble dances for her English students—anything for a novelty.

Gwenda Ewell—creator of the newest teaching technique guaranteed to keep pupils awake—chanting the lesson and ending with a Poop-poop-pe-do!

Bunny Fowler—pushing pinballs at the Casbah!

Rainey Gamble — preaching in the local Baptist church and running a bookie on the side.

Lucy Dunn — making friends with everybody—politicizing for a husband or president of the U. S., we don't know which.

Moppie—is snug as a bug in a rug wrapped up in her Indian blanket in the Arizona Indian wigwam with Heap Big Chief, Jimmy.

Nancy Hill—has a strange obsession for getting out that last issue of the Blues even tho' she's been gone from Queens for many years now.

Pat Hill—working furiously on some Einstein problem while serving a term for embezzlement of funds from the Y store.

Betty Lynn—now in Texas roping in steers while Husband Roy ropes in parishoners.
