GOOD NEWS:

The home front is elated over the good news we receive from the war front over here. We are proud of the accomplishments of the American soldiers, sailors, and Marines. Compare the relatively short period of time in which we have been preparing for this conflict with the long years of regimentation, war production, and ballyhooing of the Axis Countries, and now compare the results. This comparison will reveal a near miracle to behold. The Allied Nations were preparing for peace 10 these many years since World War I. For that same reason, our understanding and interpretation of peace after this war should exhibit a profound and comprehensive policy benefiting all peoples.

Lieutenant Colonel Philip G. Cochran, U. S. Army Air Corps, just back from the fighting front made this statement in the New York Times. "I want to say that our kids, American boys, are just kind of automatically wonderful. Just through our own way of life they get something that makes them superior fighters. They don't have to be indoctrinated and have it hammered in for months or years, the way the Germans or the Japs do".

Such good news lights the way for us. We know that this fine record may be attributed to the masterful training and the untiring efforts of the officers and enlisted personnel in the training centers on U. S. soil. We are therefore mindful of the fact that men and women who yet expend their energy toward this same goal in the military and naval camps here in U. S., although not on the fighting front, are reaping their praises.

Wherever American fighting men and women go, they go to protect the American way of life. They also carry this American way of life to the peoples of all nations and all reports indicate that these peoples like it.

VISITORS FROM THE UNITED STATES ARMED FORCES:

Carl Horton A/C B. Carl Horton was home recently and visited the mill while here. You will probably remember him as Laboratory Assistant, and a good one too. He returned to the Naval Air Station at Bunker Hill, Ind. where he had been for the last three (3) months. Here he has had training in ground school navigation and radio and has completed eighty five (85) hours in flying time. Prior to this, he had his Pre-Flight training at Chapel Hill, North Carolina. While at Bunker Hill, he was selected as a Cadet Officer. It has been received that he is now in Florida. We hope that you will have an opportunity to visit us again soon.
