NOVEMBER - 1944

(Reprint from The American Soldier, November, 1944)

Ever since the first celebration in 1789, the observance of America's independence has been a day when we not only celebrate our independence but also for the privileges and opportunities that we have secured for our men in all parts of the world; thank you for your service and sacrifice.

A variety of activities are planned for the day. The observance is a time when we can all join in the celebration and share the joy of the occasion. We are proud of the men who have served our country and the world; thank you for your service and sacrifice.
