

People You Know

William Jerome Godwin of the Weaving Department in the Wilson Division came to work here in September, 1941 at the age of 23 years, as a cloth carrier. He later advanced to weaving and is now knifeman on the second shift.

"Buck" as he is better known, is the son of Charles Edgar and Mrs. Eva Lucas Godwin of Wilson County. He was born August 22, 1918. After attending public schools in Wilson county, he was married to the former Miss Beatrice Griffin of Wilson in November, 1935. They have two children, Judy, age 3 years; and William, Jr., age 8 months.

Along with most other Caromount and Wilson employes William is a true hunter and fisherman. He will be found with a fishing pole during most of his spare time at this season of the year, and is eagerly awaiting hunting season this fall.

The Godwins live at 1001 South Goldsboro Street, and they are affiliated with the Five Points Missionary Baptist Church.

We are glad that Henry Earl Sessoms is able to be back at work after an illness of several weeks.

Grandson

Mrs. Tellie Coley has a new grandson, Robert Daniel Batts, born May 21 to Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Batts. Mrs. Batts is the former Miss Geraldine Coley.

J. T. Eppes (Dyehouse) has turned a hobby into a thriving business. After playing around with photography for a number of years, Eppes decided to go into it in a big way. He converted a small out-building into a first rate studio and dark room, investing about $3,000.00 for equipment and the cost of renovating the building.

Mr. Eppes states that he has bought the best equipment available. This includes an Eastman 8 x 10 inch printer, an automatic drying machine, an enlarger that will carry a 5 x 7 inch negative and which has a 7 1/2 inch focal length lens, the only one of its kind in this territory.

The portrait room has been refitted with bright wallpaper and flourescent lighting as well as a rubber tile floor.

The dark room is the last word in convenience. Along with a tile floor and tile board walls he has a 3 x 10 foot cypress combination sink and work bench along one wall. He also has developing tanks for handling roll film, cut film and film packs. Eppes has developing trays that range in size from 5 x 7 to 18 x 21 inches, an automatic negative washer and an automatic print washer tank. Each tank is equipped with a mixing faucet. Hot water is supplied by automatic electric and oil hot water heaters. Special dark room lights have been installed for better working conditions.

Eppes states that he has received a license to do commercial photography and that he has the equipment and supplies to do quality work.

Why don't you try J. T. Eppes Studio at 113 1/2 East Ridge Street, when you get those vacation pictures developed?

Miss Ruth Farmer, 13 year old daughter of Mrs. Mary H. Farmer (Weaving) was queen of the May Day Program held on the lawn of Battle School. Ruth graduated from Battle school on June 1, and won a ribbon for Scholarship. She also was the winner of the American Legion Medal which stands for Service, Honor, Courage, Companionship and Scholarship.

Ruth's attendants in the May court were, I. to r., Miss Wilma Jean Campbell, daughter of Mrs. Mamie Campbell (Weaving), Miss Martha Becknell, Miss Ruth Farmer, and Miss Betsy Ann Barnes, daughter of Mrs. Leona Walker Barnes (Weaving). This group of girls have completed their work at Battle School and will enter high school next fall.
