Devotional Thoughts

John 1:14

effective way. The comfort and inspiration come when we realize that Jesus came as a little babe. His coming in this way should make us understand the inperishable value of human personality. Human Personality can express God. That is what this verse says. When we comprehend this in its fullness, it should make us glad that we live.

Furthermore it brings comfort because inspite of our failures and weaknesses we know that because of this truth we can rise out of such and live a better life. Jesus was saying, when He took upon Himself the form of a man, watch me and see what human personality might become. Never let your failures conquer you. Know that human nature can be fine and great when in intimate and harmonious union with God. That is what Jesus did with human nature. This verse is issuing us a challenge to lay hold of God and live victorious and triumphant lives.

Religion's chief function is not to protect us from something but to give us power to become God's children. When we surrender to spreading cheap gossip, fail to accept our responsibilities or degrade human personality in other ways, we should remember victory can be ours if we live with God. Jesus proved it by being a man but never surrendering to sin. The Word became flesh and dwelt among us.
