Weddings

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bell are shown at a reception immediately following their marriage in the parsonage of North Rocky Mount Baptist Church on June 28. Mrs. Bell is the former Miss Julia Williams (Final Examining) of this city.

Bell-Williams

Miss Julia Williams of the Final Examining Department became the bride of Mr. Joseph Bell on June 28, in the parsonage of North Rocky Mount Baptist Church, with the Reverend S. H. W. Johnston officiating.

Mrs. Bell is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Williams and the late Early Williams of this city. Mr. Bell is the son of Mrs. Kate Bell and the late Joseph Bell, Sr., of Scotland Neck.

Immediately following the wedding Mrs. Lula Solomon and Mrs. Inez Dawes entertained the bridal party, relatives and a few close friends at a reception held at the home of Mrs. Estelle Driver on Oak Street.

Pearson-Ward

Miss Nina Louise Ward, daughter of Mrs. Maude T. Ward, became the bride of Mr. George David Pearson, son of Mrs. G. D. Pearson and the late Mr. Pearson of Oak City, on July 3, in the First Baptist Church Chapel.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, R. R. Treva- than, of Raleigh, and had as her only attendant her sister, Miss Gra Lee Ward. Mr. Pearson had as his best man his brother, C. C. Pearson, of Raleigh.

The bride wore a street length dress of soft blue chiffon over taffeta and carried a bride's bouquet centered with a purple throated orchid. Her sister wore pink net over taffeta and carried a bouquet of pastel flowers with

Final Examining Employees Enjoy Vacations

Mrs. Thelma Langley and family went to Asheville during their vacation. They visited several points of interest and also saw the drama, "Unto These Hills".

James Modlin spent his vacation with his family at Atlantic Beach. While there they enjoyed swimming, fishing and getting a sun burn.

We welcome Miss Thelma Vick as a new employee on first shift.

Mrs. Lula Solomon rested during her vacation except for a weekend in South Boston . . . Jimmy Jenkins spent his vacation helping his father in tobacco . . . William Adams fished all during his vacation. He caught a fish, too, and he says that's what counts.

J. D. Edwards "Pop" went to Florida where he fished and really enjoyed himself; however, he came back to Wrightsville Beach to get a sunburn.

Mrs. Bessie Cockrell Smith went to Buggs Island during her vacation . . . Oscar Satterfield stayed home and rested during his week off . . . Bertis Morgan and family went to the mountains during part of their vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Green spent part of their vacation at Atlantic Beach. Mrs. Green received sunburns while at the beach but her husband caught 270 pounds of fish. They also visited Mrs. Green's sister in Norfolk.

Devotional Thoughts

Zephaniah 8:17: The Lord, your God, is in your midst, a warrior who gives victory.

Recently I have heard two sermons stressing the same central theme "God is not defeated." The topic of one of these sermons was "The Illusion of Defeat." There is "an illusion of defeat" among so many people of our day and we need to feel deep down within us that "God is not defeated."

All through the ages there has been among people an illusion of defeat. But there has always been the same reason for that illusion. Whenever man has come to the conclusion that he is self-sufficient and that he has no need of God, he has soon thereafter felt the results of that conclusion, and has then often blamed God for God's failure. Man's illusion of defeat can only be dissolved by an acceptance of two simple facts.

First, man is defeated. A people smart enough to measure the distance to the stars, to measure the speed of light, even smart enough to smash the atom—this same people is so dumb that it cannot find a way to avoid spending fifty billion dollars each year on materials designed to destroy mankind. Man is defeated.

Second, God is not defeated. The things God planned, the laws He made still operate in His world as they have done through the ages. When man follows God's will, he prospers. When he follows man's way, he suffers. God is "a warrior who gives victory."
