

People You Know

James L. Jenkins of the Caromount Shipping Department began his work there in December, 1945. Jim, who is 56 years of age, was born and reared in Nash County and worked on the farm before beginning his work at Caromount.

In 1918 he was married to the former Miss Sally Rose of Nash County. They have four children. James Edward of Baltimore, Md., Lillian of Newport News, Va., William Henry of the Rocky Mount Police Department for the past eight years and Joyce who is employed in Rocky Mount as a beauty operator and lives at home.

The Jenkins have six grandchildren.

Jim, who stands six feet and six inches tall, will be remembered for his performance in the Caromount Variety and Ministerial Show where he teamed up with "Shorty" Hamrick of the storeroom for the act, "The Long and Short of It". Jim presented quite a picture with a special built top hat which added some two feet to his already six and one half feet of height.

Naturally one with this height couldn't get by without playing some basketball and Jim did his playing for the Nashville School.

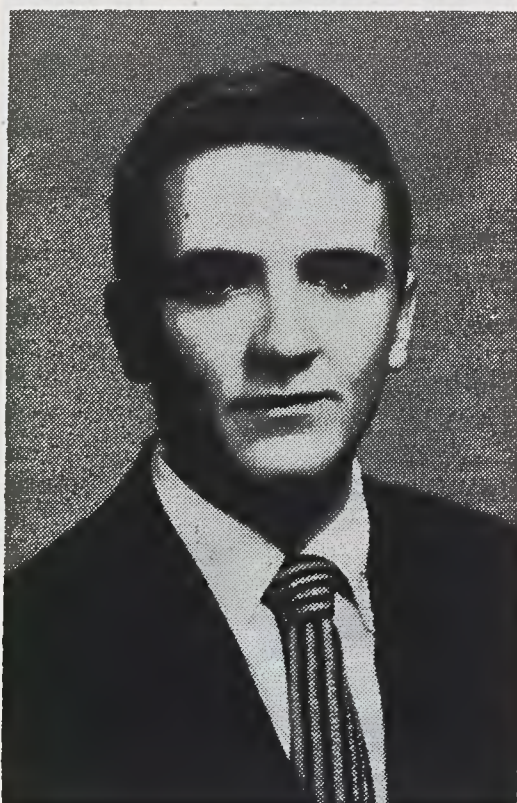

Jim has a small garden which he tends. He states that he used to hunt and fish but does not do much now. As a child he could be found fishing up and down Stoney Creek and Pig Basket Creek.

Xray For Cancer Patients

O. B. Solmon, member of the Scottish Rite Masonic Lodge in New Bern, has been advised that his organization has voted to purchase a General Electric X-Ray Therapy machine for treatment of patients with cancer. The machine will be placed in Kafer Memorial Hospital, New Bern, and will be made available to all patients suffering from cancer regardless of race, creed or color.

The New Bern Scottish Rite Bodies feel that this machine will be of inestimable benefit to many sufferers of the dread disease and are anxious that the information concerning the availability of this machine be spread throughout every community in Eastern North Carolina.

James Leslie Thompson, Jr. is the son of Mr. and Mrs. (Pete) Thompson of the Wilson Division. He will graduate from Charles L. Coon High School this spring. James was very active in football, basketball and baseball throughout his high school career.

Plant Housekeeping

Housekeeping is involved in every phase of plant operations. Good Housekeeping brings benefits in better production, sanitation, health, control of accident and fire hazards, and employee morale as well as an improved appearance.

The housekeeping program includes the entire plant area, indoors and out.

Maintaining order and cleanliness is the combined responsibility of management, supervision, and workers. The best program cannot succeed without the support of everyone.

Good Housekeeping means keep it clean and keep it orderly.
